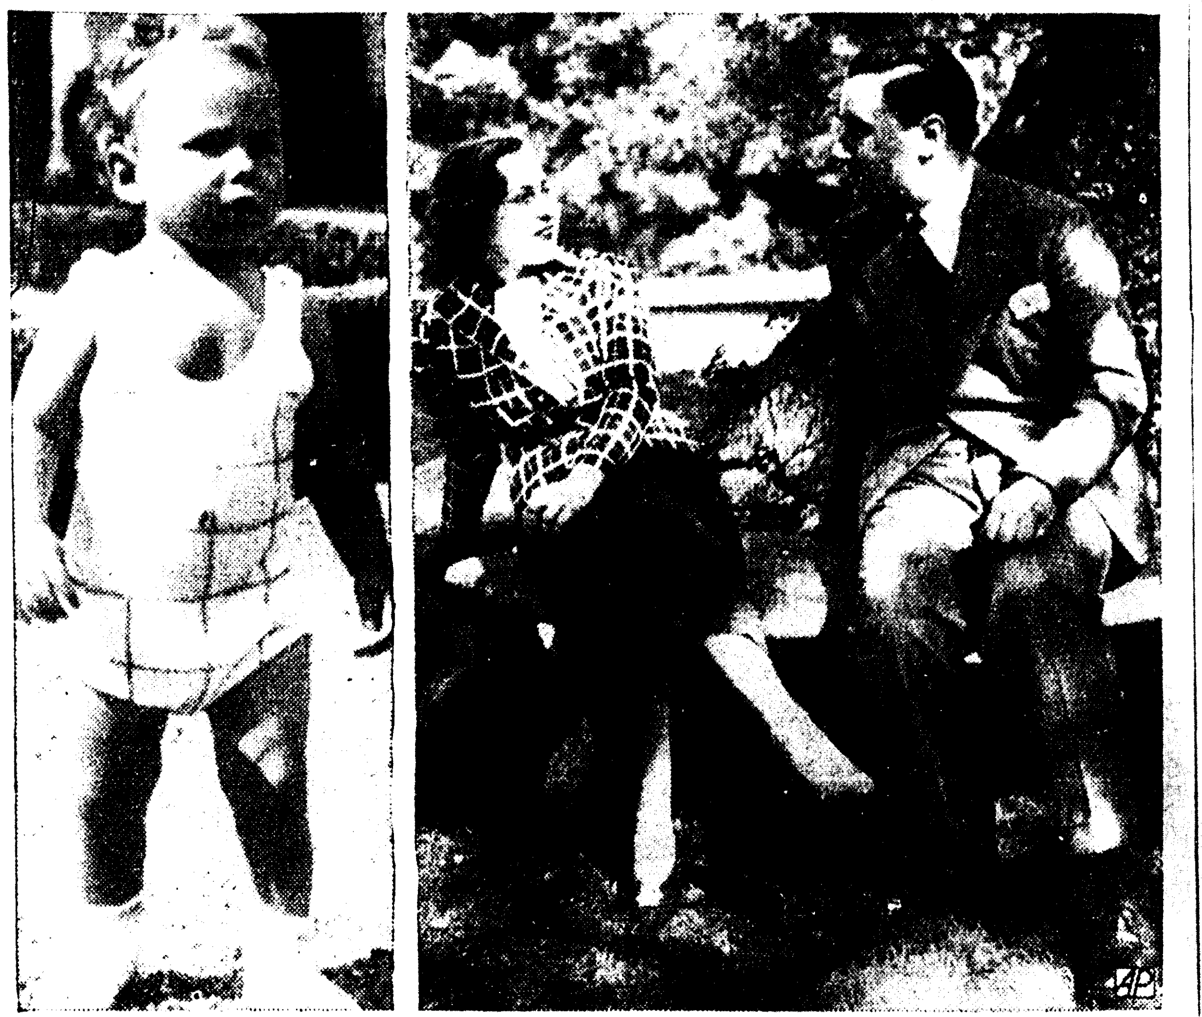
Three-Year-Old Scion Of Wealthy Family Kidnaped



Three-year-old Marc de Tristan, son of Count and Countess Marc de Tristan, was snatched from the hands of his nurse at Hillsborough, Calif., by a kidnaper who demanded $100,000 for his return. Both the count and countess are members of prominent wealthy families.

YOUNGSTER'S ABDUCTOR WARNS AGAINST PROBES

Authorities Declare They Withdraw At Request Of Close Kin

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif., Sept. 21—(AP)—"There has been no contact with the kidnaper."

These words came through the dread silence of the DeTristan home today, 24 hours after three-year-old Marc, scion of several wealthy families, was abducted by a man who left a demand for $100,000 ransom.

The money was ready, to be paid for the safe return of the little boy, son of Count and Countess Marc DeTristan, socially prominent members of this exclusive neighborhood.

The kidnaper, who signed the ransom note as "Unconventional Eccentric," had a free hand to open negotiations with the family. Police and federal agents withdrew from the case at the family's urgent plea, lest the kidnaper's threat of "fatal result" of interference be carried out.

But the dark, middle-aged man with the hook-nose had made no attempt to communicate with the parents, a member of the immediate family confided today in a broken voice. Through the medium of a classified advertisement in a San Francisco paper, the DeTristans had carried out the kidnaper's first instruction—to signify willingness to meet the ransom note demands.

The curly-haired little boy was snatched from his nurse Friday on a roadway near the DeTristan estate. In a scuffle with the abductor the nurse, Mary Foley, 50, was knocked to the ground. The kidnaper lost his hat. The hat, the ransom notes and a meager description of the man and the kidnap car were the only clues. But federal agents said many cases had been solved through less significant clues.

The hat and the strange note, written in highflown style, were taken to a laboratory for analysis.

Earl J. Connelly, Washington, D. C., assistant director of the FBI and an expert on kidnap cases, was here to direct the G-men once the child had been returned or found.

Little Marc, the only child of the DeTristans, was to receive "the most charming and generous supervision" while in the hands of the abductor, the ransom note stated.

But a dreadful consequence of police interference with the kidnaper's plan was threatened in another paragraph. "The fatal results of their interference," the note read, "are too well known to deserve comment. * * * Do not be confused by our politeness. We entertain no illusion about the consequences of our profession. We mean business, make no mistake about that—and we want results."

So the $100,000 demand was agreed to by the family as the DeTristans placed the life and safety of little Marc above all other considerations and consequences.

Dr. Joseph Catton, San Francisco, noted psychiatrist, said the kidnaper's reference to his own "intelligence and enlightment" and the apparent assurance with which he wrote, gave an impression he had a "two-sided"

Londoners Make Best Of Life Underground

This family has taken shelter in a London subway station during a German air raid and everybody except the baby seems to be sleeping soundly. Preparing against the possibility that nightly aerial attacks will continue through the winter, British officials have announced plans are being made for warm underground shelters. For miles the Nazi-held French coastline was alive with the light of exploding bombs.

It was a resumption at even heightened fury, of night-long assaults of Friday night against German ships and barges jammed beam to beam in clusters of 50 and more in the harbors of the channel and North sea.

Attack after attack on the ports from Boulogne and Dunkerque, fateful town of escape for the British Army trapped in Flanders on up the coast to the tidal bases of the low countries left devastation and flame astride quays, moles, channels and docks, officials said.

Three hour-long raids were made on Dunkerque alone, where the pilots found the greatest concentration of German troop vessels.

Other raiders penetrated interior Holland, Belgium and Germany itself and the pilot of one came back to describe an attack from 800 feet on a supply train near Munster.

Two big bombs hit the train, front and rear.

"The engine was lifted up into the air and blown to bits and fragments of the wrecked train shot up as high as the attacking aircraft," the official account said.

DEFENSE TO LAST PLAN FOR LONDON

LONDON, Sept. 21—(AP)—Sir George Broadbridge, former lord mayor of London, declared today in a broadcast to the United States Conference of Mayors at New York that London would be defended to the last as "the very bulwark of civilization as we know it."

He spoke on behalf of the present lord mayor, Sir William Coxen, who was present in the studio, but unable to deliver the address because of a sore throat.

Never before had London faced an ordeal "so cruel, so searching" as the daily bombings, he declared.

WILLKIE BLASTS NEW DEAL PLAN OF RELIEF DOLE

Says Administration Wants To Keep People Permanently On Dole

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The New Deal was accused by Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, today of desiring to "keep the people permanently on relief."

Addressing street crowds during a daytime automobile tour, the Republican presidential nominee said that was one of the differences between his ideas and those of the present Democratic administration.

"I want to put them (the people) to work at good wages in American industry."

Relief rolls "have always gone up in election years," Willkie charged. "I see the process already commencing. I see this powerful government bringing pressure on those below as to how they should vote."

Willkie asserted that if he were elected president no citizen would be taken off the relief rolls until he had a job.

Willkie urged street audiences to vote in the November election even if they wanted a third term for President Roosevelt.

Flanked by two score motorcycle policemen, Willkie stopped his long

MRS. JONES TAKES COURSE AT L. S. U.

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Sam Jones, wife of Louisiana's governor, became a coed for the second time today.

She enrolled and attended first classes in Louisiana State University's new Pan-American division, which was enthusiastically approved by her husband as a force for continental solidarity.

"I hope I have time to do the work," Mrs. Jones said as she signed up for a course in Latin American sociology and one in second-year Spanish.

She attended the University of Arizona in 1921, 1922 and 1923, and studied also at Ward Belmont College.

ARMY GENERAL, PAIR MISSING IN AIRPLANE

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Sept. 21.—(AP)—A search for a missing army plane in which Brigadier General Francis W. Honeycutt and two others were making a routine flight was focussed tonight on a desolate area of tidewater swampland near the mouth of the Satilla river after a tugboat hand reported seeing a plane fall in flames there Friday night.

About three score army and coast guard planes scoured the section until dusk and the search was continued tonight by parties in small boats.

Funds For Operations Of Draft Are Okayed

Appropriations Subcommittee Approves $1,500,000,000 Defense Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—A $1,500,000,000 defense bill which includes funds for paying, feeding and clothing army conscripts, received approval today of a House appropriations subcommittee.

Chairman Woodrum, Democrat, Virginia, said the measure would be submitted to the full appropriations committee early next week and probably would come up in the House Thursday. It is expected to be the last major defense bill of the session.

Originally, the bill contained $338,000,000 additional for barracks for the army of draftees to be called into training. This was taken from the bill, however, and passed as a separate measure earlier this week in order to expedite a start on construction of the housing facilities.

At the war department, the army announced a plan of reorganization for its two cavalry divisions to convert them into "heavy and powerful striking instrumentalities" with "tremendous fire power."

The divisions will be increased from 500 to 600 officers and from 8,500 to 9,500 enlisted men. Horses will be reduced in number from 8,000 to 6,000 for each division, while motor vehicles will be increased from 350 to 800.

The department also announced award of $31,747,543 worth of contracts. Of this total, $21,919,068 was for motor trucks divided as follows: Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing Company, $12,491,797; Fargo Motor Corporation, $4,780,591; General Motors Corporation, Chevrolet division, $3,089,304; Diamond T Motor Car Company, $1,557,376. The number of trucks involved in the orders and the delivery dates were not disclosed.

U. S. POPULATION HITS 131,409,881

Gain Of 7 Per Cent, Smallest In History Of Nation, Is Recorded

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The census bureau announced tonight that the population of the United States on April 1 was 131,409,881. This was a gain of 7 per cent since 1930—the smallest percentage increase in any decade of American history.

The 48 states and the District of Columbia reported 8,634,835 more residents than they did 10 years ago, but individual states had widely differing stories.

By percentages, Florida gained the fastest of the states, 27.9 per cent, while South Dakota lost the most, 7.5 per cent. The District of Columbia, where the number of government workers has doubled, outpaced all the states with a 36.2 gain.

In actual numbers, California gained the most, 1,196,437, and Kansas lost the most, 81,862.

The 7 per cent national gain was less than half the ratio in any previous decade. Census Director William L. Austin said this was due to a declining birth rate and a virtual stoppage of immigration during the last 10 years. From 1910 to 1920, the gain was 14.9 per cent, and from 1920 to 1930 it was 16.1 per cent.

Austin said many sociologists had predicted that, eventually, the population would reach some "static" level and stop increasing. While his bureau is unwilling to make an official pre-

Draft Advisory Committee Is Named

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 21.—(AP)—In two steps toward revitalizing America's defense, President Roosevelt appointed a six-man advisory committee today to help coordinate plans for conscription of manpower and approved a proposal for creation of the office of undersecretary of war—a proposal which would establish new controls for the army's vast procurement program.

In addition, he disclosed that employment in the nation's vital aircraft industry had more than trebled since December, 1938, that the greatest percentage gain had been in 29 interior states, and that he expected the greatest future advances in that same area.

Four members of the advisory committee have been helping with plans for the draft, whose director probably will be named next week, ever since conscription legislation was brought before Congress.

The four are:

Frederick Osborn, New York, who was in charge of Red Cross work with the American Army in France in the World War, is active in sociological work, and for the past month has been a consultant of the budget bureau.

Colonel William H. Draper, Jr., New York, who is a reserve officer and specialist on selective service.

Floyd W. Reeves, University of Chicago professor, who has been serving recently as an executive assistant to the National Defense Commission.

Joseph P. Harris, professor of political science at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and an advisor to the defense commission on administrative matters.

The new men are Channing H. Tobias, New York, director of negro work for the national counsel of the Y. M. C. A., and Wayne Coy, Delphi, Ind., assistant federal security administrator.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said he would "guess" that the director of conscription would be appointed next week. The president, he said, "has just been waiting for all concerned, I think, to reach an agreement."

Major General Allen Guillion, judge advocate general of the army, has been regarded in Washington as the man most likely to get the job.

It was Secretary Stimson who recommended that the position of undersecretary of war be established during "periods of emergency."

Legislation will be needed, and a bill has been prepared for submission to Congress. The legislators recently authorized the appointment of an undersecretary of the navy and James V. Forrestal was named.

Under the current setup, the assistant secretary of war is responsible for procuring guns, planes, tanks and all other items vital to the army. Stimson was understood to feel that the secretary of war should bear that responsibility, with the right to allocate portions of it to an undersecretary and assistant secretary.

SHERIFF CLEARS TWO CASES HERE

Thefts Of Diamond Ring, Gun Allegedly Admitted By Prisoner

An investigation which began on August 20 with the arrest of James E. Elledge, 40, finally led yesterday to an alleged confession and the recovery of a valuable diamond ring and a pistol, Sheriff Milton Coverdale announced.

Elledge, the sheriff said, was jailed after he had allegedly broken into the home of J. C. Shaw, 201 Browning street, West Monroe, on August 20. Nothing was stolen, the housebreaker having been frightened away before he could loot the home, the sheriff added.

On July 25, Mrs. Berry Yeldell, West Monroe, notified the sheriff's department that while taking her pet dog for a walk at Lazarre point, scenic spot on the Ouachita river, she laid down her purse containing a valuable diamond ring. On returning, she reported, she found the purse and the ring missing.

On August 10, Conrad Cage, West Monroe, told the sheriff's office that his car had been broken into and a pistol stolen from a compartment.

Sheriff Coverdale suspected Elledge following his arrest, he said, and questioned him. He denied the thefts. The sheriff intermittently continued his probe. Finally, he said, Elledge "broke" and admitted the stealing.

The prisoner, Sheriff Coverdale said, taken to Shreveport yesterday, pointed out a pawn shop where the ring and the gun had been "hocked." Both were recovered.

Two charges of larceny were added to the breaking and entering count already against Elledge, Sheriff Coverdale said.

'PHONEY' DIMES CAUSE SLOT MACHINE RAIDS

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Police today helped a man who claimed he was "gypped" by slot machines, get even.

The man had 41 pennies, cut down and colored to look like dimes, in his possession when arrested for intoxication. He said he got them in the "jack pot" of a dime slot machine at a local club.

The officers raided five private clubs here today and seized 43 gambling devices in what they said was one of the largest raids of its kind in the state. The equipment valued at nearly $3,000 will be confiscated but no prosecutions are anticipated.

NATIONAL DEFENSE ISSUE OF STAMPS SET OCT. 16

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Postmaster General Walker aonnounced today that the date of first day sales of national defense stamps had been changed from October 12 to October 16 in order to coincide with registration day. Stamps will be issued in one-cent, two-cent and three-cent denominations.

EMPLOY 200,000

VICHY, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Two hundred thousand unemployed workers in unoccupied France will be given jobs on a vast new public works program expected to take five years, the government announced today. The work will include improving and lengthening rail lines, rebuilding bridges, and extending telephone and telegraph service.

DIG UP BOMB

LONDON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The same "suicide squad" which dug up a huge unexploded bomb from near St. Paul's Cathedral was credited today with digging out another this time from the grounds of the German Hospital in London.

Lieutenant Robert Davies of the Royal Canadian Engineers, chief hero in the St. Paul's exploit, crawled into the crater and pulled out the fuse.

USING RAYS

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—(AP)—German aerial observers regularly use infra-red rays to photograph British objectives through clouds, competent quarters said today.

This is an application of a method in long and general use for such work.

Informants said Germany would be "only too happy" to have another method whereby observers actually could see through the clouds while they were in them, but that she hasn't.

LOGAN-WALTER MEASURE IMMEDIATE ACTION ASKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Proponents of the Logan-Walter bill to facilitate appeals to the courts from administrative rulings of government agencies have demanded that the Senate leadership permit action on the measure at this session.

Senator Burke, Democrat, Nebraska, told the Senate that unless an agreement was reached to take up the bill on a definite date he proposed "to do everything in my power to see that other legislation is not passed ahead of it."

MURDER SUSPECT FOUND DROWNED

Body In Same Reservoir In Which Choir Singer Was Discovered

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The body of Sylvester Dellear, 51, sought since Friday in connection with the slaying of Miss Madeline Clark, 14-year-old Lenox choir singer, was found today in the same reservoir where her body was recovered.

John Gilman, Turners Falls diver, made the discovery in 35 feet of water after a half-hour's search.

Miss Clark's body was found floating in the reservoir Friday just a month prior to her scheduled marriage to another man.

State police broadcast a call for the arrest of Dellear "for questioning on a murder case" after Medical Examiner George S. Wickham pronounced the attractive paper mill clerk a victim of "murder." Her head bore three gashes.

Assistant District Attorney Harold R. Goewey said he had been informed that Miss Clark was escorted by Dellear when she left choir practice at St. Helene's Chapel in nearby Lenox on Thursday night. Goewey described the escort as married and estranged from his wife.

A blood-stained automobile, identified by Police Lieutenant John F. Horrigan as belonging to Dellear, and a blood-stained hammer, were found on the edge of the reservoir.

The order to send a diver into action came after police had dragged the reservoir and Civilian Conservation Corps members searched adjacent woods with bloodhounds.

Horrigan said Lane Fyler, 45, a mechanical engineer in the mill employing Miss Clark, had told him that he and she had intended to marry next month. Horrigan quoted Fyler as saying he had asked her to "break the news gently to Dellear."

Miss Clark's body was found during a search instituted by her mother when she became alarmed at the daughter's failure to return home from the choir practice. The victim's body was fully clothed except for shoes.

International In Brief

(By Associated Press)

Skies aflame:

British bombers raid channel "invasion ports"; attack, following night-long raids Friday on Nazi bases, called war's heaviest; Germans hold London in air siege for 15th successive night; Berlin sources say damage must be "considerable" in new blows on London's docks.

Desert war:

Motorized Italian vanguards press beyond Sidi Barrani; British say Fascist army must begin big push soon or endure further British naval and air harassment.

Next step?

Rome sources hint at Axis showdown in Greece and Turkey, last strongholds of British influence in southeast Europe; but Rome-Berlin partners, now in conference stage, keep plans dark.

Oriental muddle:

Hope for agreement between Japan and French Indo-China wanes as French sources declare colony will balk at Japanese demands considered too humiliating; say "no" to giving Japan rights to a military base at Tonkin.

LONDON, Sept. 22 (Sunday).—(AP)—British warplanes swarmed across the English channel last night and early today in a fiery and explosive smash at the French and lowlands ports of the Nazi "invasion head."

Cliffside observers on the British side saw miles of flame sown along the opposite shore and, in the bright-lighted night, were heartened in the conviction that the invasion program had been knocked awry.

U. S. POPULATION HITS 131,409,881

Gain Of 7 Per Cent, Smallest In History Of Nation, Is Recorded

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The census bureau announced tonight that the population of the United States on April 1 was 131,409,881. This was a gain of 7 per cent since 1930—the smallest percentage increase in any decade of American history.

The 48 states and the District of Columbia reported 8,634,835 more residents than they did 10 years ago, but individual states had widely differing stories.

By percentages, Florida gained the fastest of the states, 27.9 per cent, while South Dakota lost the most, 7.5 per cent. The District of Columbia, where the number of government workers has doubled, outpaced all the states with a 36.2 gain.

In actual numbers, California gained the most, 1,196,437, and Kansas lost the most, 81,862.

The 7 per cent national gain was less than half the ratio in any previous decade. Census Director William L. Austin said this was due to a declining birth rate and a virtual stoppage of immigration during the last 10 years. From 1910 to 1920, the gain was 14.9 per cent, and from 1920 to 1930 it was 16.1 per cent.

Austin said many sociologists had predicted that, eventually, the population would reach some "static" level and stop increasing. While his bureau is unwilling to make an official pre-

Draft Advisory Committee Is Named

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 21.—(AP)—In two steps toward revitalizing America's defense, President Roosevelt appointed a six-man advisory committee today to help coordinate plans for conscription of manpower and approved a proposal for creation of the office of undersecretary of war—a proposal which would establish new controls for the army's vast procurement program.

In addition, he disclosed that employment in the nation's vital aircraft industry had more than trebled since December, 1938, that the greatest percentage gain had been in 29 interior states, and that he expected the greatest future advances in that same area.

Four members of the advisory committee have been helping with plans for the draft, whose director probably will be named next week, ever since conscription legislation was brought before Congress.

The four are:

Frederick Osborn, New York, who was in charge of Red Cross work with the American Army in France in the World War, is active in sociological work, and for the past month has been a consultant of the budget bureau.

Colonel William H. Draper, Jr., New York, who is a reserve officer and specialist on selective service.

Floyd W. Reeves, University of Chicago professor, who has been serving recently as an executive assistant to the National Defense Commission.

Joseph P. Harris, professor of political science at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and an advisor to the defense commission on administrative matters.

The new men are Channing H. Tobias, New York, director of negro work for the national counsel of the Y. M. C. A., and Wayne Coy, Delphi, Ind., assistant federal security administrator.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said he would "guess" that the director of conscription would be appointed next week. The president, he said, "has just been waiting for all concerned, I think, to reach an agreement."

Major General Allen Guillion, judge advocate general of the army, has been regarded in Washington as the man most likely to get the job.

It was Secretary Stimson who recommended that the position of undersecretary of war be established during "periods of emergency."

Legislation will be needed, and a bill has been prepared for submission to Congress. The legislators recently authorized the appointment of an undersecretary of the navy and James V. Forrestal was named.

Under the current setup, the assistant secretary of war is responsible for procuring guns, planes, tanks and all other items vital to the army. Stimson was understood to feel that the secretary of war should bear that responsibility, with the right to allocate portions of it to an undersecretary and assistant secretary.

SHERIFF CLEARS TWO CASES HERE

An investigation which began on August 20 with the arrest of James E. Elledge, 40, finally led yesterday to an alleged confession and the recovery of a valuable diamond ring and a pistol, Sheriff Milton Coverdale announced.

Elledge, the sheriff said, was jailed after he had allegedly broken into the home of J. C. Shaw, 201 Browning street, West Monroe, on August 20. Nothing was stolen, the housebreaker having been frightened away before he could loot the home, the sheriff added.

On July 25, Mrs. Berry Yeldell, West Monroe, notified the sheriff's department that while taking her pet dog for a walk at Lazarre point, scenic spot on the Ouachita river, she laid down her purse containing a valuable diamond ring. On returning, she reported, she found the purse and the ring missing.

On August 10, Conrad Cage, West Monroe, told the sheriff's office that his car had been broken into and a pistol stolen from a compartment.

Sheriff Coverdale suspected Elledge following his arrest, he said, and questioned him. He denied the thefts. The sheriff intermittently continued his probe. Finally, he said, Elledge "broke" and admitted the stealing.

The prisoner, Sheriff Coverdale said, taken to Shreveport yesterday, pointed out a pawn shop where the ring and the gun had been "hocked." Both were recovered.

Two charges of larceny were added to the breaking and entering count already against Elledge, Sheriff Coverdale said.

'PHONEY' DIMES CAUSE SLOT MACHINE RAIDS

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Police today helped a man who claimed he was "gypped" by slot machines, get even.

The man had 41 pennies, cut down and colored to look like dimes, in his possession when arrested for intoxication. He said he got them in the "jack pot" of a dime slot machine at a local club.

The officers raided five private clubs here today and seized 43 gambling devices in what they said was one of the largest raids of its kind in the state. The equipment valued at nearly $3,000 will be confiscated but no prosecutions are anticipated.

NATIONAL DEFENSE ISSUE OF STAMPS SET OCT. 16

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Postmaster General Walker aonnounced today that the date of first day sales of national defense stamps had been changed from October 12 to October 16 in order to coincide with registration day. Stamps will be issued in one-cent, two-cent and three-cent denominations.

War Bulletins

EMPLOY 200,000

VICHY, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Two hundred thousand unemployed workers in unoccupied France will be given jobs on a vast new public works program expected to take five years, the government announced today. The work will include improving and lengthening rail lines, rebuilding bridges, and extending telephone and telegraph service.

DIG UP BOMB

LONDON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The same "suicide squad" which dug up a huge unexploded bomb from near St. Paul's Cathedral was credited today with digging out another this time from the grounds of the German Hospital in London.

Lieutenant Robert Davies of the Royal Canadian Engineers, chief hero in the St. Paul's exploit, crawled into the crater and pulled out the fuse.

USING RAYS

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—(AP)—German aerial observers regularly use infra-red rays to photograph British objectives through clouds, competent quarters said today.

This is an application of a method in long and general use for such work.

Informants said Germany would be "only too happy" to have another method whereby observers actually could see through the clouds while they were in them, but that she hasn't.

LOGAN-WALTER MEASURE IMMEDIATE ACTION ASKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Proponents of the Logan-Walter bill to facilitate appeals to the courts from administrative rulings of government agencies have demanded that the Senate leadership permit action on the measure at this session.

Senator Burke, Democrat, Nebraska, told the Senate that unless an agreement was reached to take up the bill on a definite date he proposed "to do everything in my power to see that other legislation is not passed ahead of it."

MURDER SUSPECT FOUND DROWNED

Body In Same Reservoir In Which Choir Singer Was Discovered

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The body of Sylvester Dellear, 51, sought since Friday in connection with the slaying of Miss Madeline Clark, 44-year-old Lenox choir singer, was found today in the same reservoir where her body was recovered.

John Gilman, Turners Falls diver, made the discovery in 35 feet of water after a half-hour's search.

Miss Clark's body was found floating in the reservoir Friday—just a month prior to her scheduled marriage to another man.

State police broadcast a call for the arrest of Dellear "for questioning on a murder case" after Medical Examiner George S. Wickham pronounced the attractive paper mill clerk a victim of "murder." Her head bore three gashes.

Assistant District Attorney Harold R. Goewey said he had been informed that Miss Clark was escorted by Dellear when she left choir practice at St. Helene's Chapel in nearby Lenox on Thursday night. Goewey described the escort as married and estranged from his wife.

A blood-stained automobile, identified by Police Lieutenant John F. Horrigan as belonging to Dellear, and a blood-stained hammer, were found on the edge of the reservoir.

The order to send a diver into action came after police had dragged the reservoir and Civilian Conservation Corps members searched adjacent woods with bloodhounds.

Horrigan said Lane Fyler, 45, a mechanical engineer in the mill employing Miss Clark, had told him that he and she had intended to marry next month. Horrigan quoted Fyler as saying he had asked her to "break the news gently to Dellear."

Miss Clark's body was found during a search instituted by her mother when she became alarmed at the daughter's failure to return home from the choir practice. The victim's body was fully clothed except for shoes.

International In Brief

(By Associated Press)

Skies aflame:

British bombers raid channel "invasion ports"; attack, following night-long raids Friday on Nazi bases, called war's heaviest; Germans hold London in air siege for 15th successive night; Berlin sources say damage must be "considerable" in new blows on London's docks.

Desert war:

Motorized Italian vanguards press beyond Sidi Barrani; British say Fascist army must begin big push soon or endure further British naval and air harassment.

Next step?

Rome sources hint at Axis showdown in Greece and Turkey, last strongholds of British influence in southeast Europe; but Rome-Berlin partners, now in conference stage, keep plans dark.

Oriental muddle:

Hope for agreement between Japan and French Indo-China wanes as French sources declare colony will balk at Japanese demands considered too humiliating; say "no" to giving Japan rights to a military base at Tonkin.

LEGION MEETING STARTS MONDAY

'Spare Room' Problem Faced By Boston, City Of 800,000

BOSTON, Sept. 21 [illegible] This city of almost 800,000 population encountered a "spare room" problem today as it welcomed throngs of American Legionnaires arriving for their second national convention here since 1930.

Legion officials said they expected an attendance of 200,000 World War veterans and their families for the three-day session starting Monday.

With hotels and lodging houses enjoying capacity business, reservations for the overflow were booked at points as distant as Worcester, 40 miles west, and Plymouth, equally far away.

Tourist camps for miles around were called into service. Some visitors planned to sleep at the homes of local legionnaires, some in sleeping [illegible] others on a steam[illegible] [illegible]

They predicted 2,000,000 persons [illegible] throughout New England [illegible] the route of march. Stores [illegible] closed and traffic barred [illegible] city's center during the [illegible] procession.

Though the convention opening was two days away, Boston's [illegible] streets were gaily-bedecked [illegible] white and blue bunting and from [illegible] to time the blare of [illegible] bands could be heard.

While a carnival spirit prevailed, Legion leaders heralded the convention as the most important in the organization's history, largely because of issues raised by warfare abroad. "Americanism" will be the keynote.

Ten legionnaires have announced their candidacy for the post of national commander, now held by Raymond J. Kelly, Detroit.

TRAINING SCHOOL OPENS

RUSTON, Sept. 21—(Special)—A training school for Christian workers will begin in the Trinity Methodist church September 22 at 3 p.m. and will continue each night, Monday through Friday.

The big event of the convention—at least from the general public's viewpoint—will be the Legion's 22nd annual parade Tuesday.

Convention officials said it would take approximately 12 hours to pass a given point, with an estimated 120,000 marchers and 400 bands or other musical units.

They predicted 2,000,000 persons from throughout New England would line the route of march. Stores will be closed and traffic barred from the city's center during the colorful procession.

Though the convention opening was two days away, Boston's winding streets were gaily-bedecked in red, white and blue bunting and from time to time the blare of newly-arriving bands could be heard.

Salute!

We Americans [illegible] and [illegible] American [illegible] giving all that to [illegible].

Reservists [illegible] National Guardsmen, National Air [illegible] the Army, Navy and Marine Corps [illegible] not a peaceful field [illegible] how to master [illegible] 1940, are not apart from [illegible].

We [illegible] part of a [illegible] picture of a nation rising [illegible] of peace to meet in all [illegible] which a turbulent world may offer.

Modern war has [illegible] the distinction between civilian and soldier [illegible] before. Ask the women and children of London. Ask the middle-aged air raid marshals of Berlin or Birmingham. Ask any citizen of any of the beleaguered countries of Europe, or Asia.

We are all in this together. And as the men of one branch of the service [illegible] proper authority in other branches, recognizing the unifying principle that all are part of a single defense force, so we who remain for the present in civilian life salute you, who go to become the first line of defense.

It would be idle to promise that you shall under no circumstances lose anything by the year or more you give to your country. To many it may well mean real sacrifice. Every effort is being made to make those sacrifices as infrequent and as light as possible.

But on the other hand, many who apply themselves to this new life with a will may make gains by it; there is improved health, the knowledge of how to cooperate and work with others, direct promotion, training in useful trades, associations and friendships with men from all regions, a bigger, broader view of the responsibilities of being an American. These may be won by those who don khaki with the resolve to treat it as an opportunity as well as a duty.

You are going out to do your job. We promise to do ours. Together we shall make America strong, ready to play her part in the world with honor and without fear.

THE PRODIGAL

The oyster, that delectable mouthful which was banished so heartily last April, has returned and once again is in good standing in the household. September has an "r" in it, which means that the oyster season is on, and that from the various oyster beds of the coast there will come a wide variety of salts, blue points and other choice items fit for a king. The oyster stands pretty high on the list of the better things of life. It will be a privilege to greet it again.

The popularity of the oyster is not to be denied. That old vaudeville joke about the man who first ate an oyster, in which he was termed the world's greatest hero, is the world's worst bit of humor, in the opinion of many persons. The oyster stands out as the great sacrifice of all time. Each year this inarticulate creature gives himself up to the world at large and submits to various forms of torture in order to provide happiness for man. It is fried, broiled and barbecued; it is stewed, minced and stuffed. And never a word of protest, not so much as a murmur. This is really an outstanding sacrificial act, a deed of great virtue, and one that should be appreciated.

There have been monuments erected for dumb animals, for the man who first propounded the theory that cigar ashes are good for the rugs, for various products of the soil, such as apples, grapes and peaches, but never a written testimonial for the oyster, not even a simple plaque on a public building. That should be corrected.

A poor, dumb thing like an oyster should have some sort of a memorial. It's the only fair thing to do.

COSTLY ACCIDENTS

If America could markedly reduce its accident rate, a sizeable dent could be put in the cost of national defense without any additional burden upon the taxpayers.

That conclusion is derived from disclosure by the National Safety Council of the fact that, in 1939, property damage due to accidents totaled more than a billion dollars. In the case of automobile crashes alone, almost 10,000,000 cars were damaged.

While a 100 per cent record of improvement is out of the question, it is probable that a bit more care and caution in the home, in the factory and on the highway would greatly reduce this terrific property loss and in addition curb the even more deplorable toll of death and injury.

Every citizen, in any event, should ponder the National Safety Council's findings. A billion-dollar property loss, plus 93,000 fatalities and more than 8,000,000 maimings is not a creditable commentary upon the security of American life.

Italy faces a paper shortage and gives up 217 tons of outdated government documents for remanufacture, probably old promises and treaty agreements.

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 21.—Dear Staff: Having just flown to and from Fort Worth with Samuel Goldwyn, Bob Hope, Gary Cooper, Walter Brennan and other screen lites who attended the Texas premiere of "The Westerner," I'm full of discussion and reportorial [illegible].

I listened to a lot of talk on this trip—everything from the double feature evil to why Hope couldn't break 90 on the California golf championship qualifying round. Herewith are fragments of some remarks jotted en route.

Sam Goldwyn: "If double features are not eliminated soon, half the producers [illegible] a greater percentage of the [illegible] go broke."

Gary Cooper: "I pick screen roles [illegible] because I always pick stories to suit my type, and never change my type to suit stories."

Bob Hope: "The greatest danger a comedian faces after years of activity is that of repeating himself or, worse yet, repeating others. Striving to maintain originality is the reason for most comedians' prematurely grey hair."

Edward Arnold: "There comes a time in every man's life when his country and his neighbors demand his full attention. I've reached that hour, that's why I'm devoting so much energy to selling Americanism and all the word stands for."

My own observation: It's very difficult to laugh at a Hope quip and simultaneously nod serious agreement with one of Goldwyn's bombastic ideas. Also "The Westerner" is a "must-see" picture!

JIMMIE FIDLER.

Dear Boss: After reading your last paragraph (see above), in which you admit finding it difficult to "yes" two big shots at the same time, you'll pardon us for regarding your past claims to studio experience with suspicion. Anyone who's worked at a studio, even briefly, should be able to handle the above situation in an effortless breeze!

Cancel that announced Canadian tour for Tyrone Power and Annabella—the studio's ordered him home instanter for "Down to the Sea in Ships," which incidentally will be given a different plot than the first screen version. . . . Mrs. Margaret (Linda's mama) Darnell has persuaded Dallas school authorities to okay Linda's California credits, and she'll be formally graduated with her old Sunset High class there, come June. . . . Better watch that Simone Simon-Eddie Norris romance; they're not kidding. . . . How come you made no mention of Edgar Bergen's near disaster (he escaped with scratches) when his plane nosed over the other day during practice landings?

Doris Bowden has nixed a proffered role in Helen Hayes' next stage play. . . . 20th Century's decision to rewrite the Bob Young role in "Western Union" because Bob doesn't look like a dirty-nasty is no compliment to Don Ameche, for whom the part was originally designed. . . . Janet Beecher has been inked for Irene Rich's fall air-show. . . . Add aviation students: Grace (Mrs. Bill Boyd) Bradley. . . . Sonny Ainsworth, that more-than-good-looking cigaret gal at Ciro's, is being screen tested.

Brenda Joyce, in partnership with a bevy of college gal pals, has launched a Beverly Hills enterprise to be known as "Little Debs"; they'll teach 6-to-12-year-old misses horsebacking, dancing, et al. . . . Wot's this about Virginia Field, fiancee of Richard Greene, going to London for war's duration in order to be near him? . . . Columbia has signed Bdwy's Lee Cobb, 27-year-old specialist in octogenarian roles, for "This Thing Called Love." Patricia Morison, who's just completed a lead in "The Round-up," has ultimatumed Paramount that there'll be no more western assignments or else. . . . Betty Brewer, kid star recruited from the WPA rolls, is staking her family in the restaurant business.

Jackie Cooper gets his first professional kiss from Rita Hayworth (the lucky guy!) when they appear in Charlot's Revue, to be staged locally for war relief. . . . That bandage spoiling the lines of Mady Carroll's ankle is the result of a studio stumble. . . . Add men-in-a-predicament: Albert Dekker, playing simultaneously in two pictures (1) as a jolly, fat bandmaster and (2) as a lean, hungry prizefighter. . . . The Akim Tamiroffs say those separation rumors are bosh. . . . Chris Pin Martin will accept Mexican president-elect's bid to attend next month's inauguration ceremonies in Mexico City if he can find his birth certificate proving he's an Arizonian—without it, he couldn't get back across the border.

BIBLE CONFERENCE TO CLOSE SUNDAY

RAYVILLE, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Bible conference, "Great Christian Teachings," conducted by Dr. James T. Carlyon at the Rayville Methodist church proved to be such a success that it was continued until Sunday instead of ending on Friday as it was at first announced.

The last session will be conducted Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service.

Dr. Carlyon, teacher of theology at the Southern Methodist University, has conducted several informal forum meetings in the home of Dr. and Mrs. John C. Calhoun, where he is a guest during his stay in Rayville.

Rev. W. J. Reid, pastor of the Rayville Methodist church, stated, "I would like to publicly thank Dr. Carlyon for his contribution and words of encouragement."

Human Side Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

(Copyright, 1940, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

A distinguished psychologist once assured me that people don't go crazy all at once. It isn't like falling over a cliff or making a sharp turn. Mental aberrations are the extensions and amplifications of such every-day traits as day-dreaming, self-pity, vanity, envy and "hatred, malice and uncharitableness." Branch off on any of these roads, long enough and far enough, and it leads straight to the squirrel-cage.

The Germans bring this up. In current interpretation of Germany today, even informed and studious interpretation, there is frequent emphasis of something like a national psychosis, perhaps induced by the Versailles treaty and the sufferings of the post-war years. There are also stressed the new, nihilistic and revolutionary aspects of the Teutonic rampage, as against the old patterns of imperialism and power politics. This revolutionary drive is unquestionably there, but it isn't new and we go wrong if we think of it as a demon rather than a growth, distortion and final ascendancy of latent, ingrowing traits.

In our view, the parallel is close between the German mass obsession and the drift of any one man down into cuckoo land, as recorded 25 years ago in a fascinating little book called "The Psychology of Insanity," by a physician named Hart. It's a grand little book, in spite of its unpleasant title and has lit up as many dark crypts of the human mind as any book of our time. It is an excellent manual of wholesome mental conditioning.

But, more immediately pertinent to the Germans, is Arthur Bullard's fine book, "The Diplomacy of the Great War," published in 1917. It is most interesting to note that even in that far day every symptom of German goofiness which appalls us today was recorded and studied and had been for a long time. For instance the dominant-race nonsense. Mr. Bullard writes:

"In order to justify the claim of their philosophers that the Germans were a peculiar race with a special mission, it was necessary to invent a false theory of ethnology. There is no fact more firmly established about development of humanity than that there is no such thing as a pure race. Man has developed by an immensely long process of hybridization. From the biological points of view the Germans are no different from the English. The 'kitchen middens'—the refuse heaps of prehistoric communities—along the shores of the Baltic show beyond dispute the presence of the Alpine and Mediterranean brunettes side by side with the northern blondes. Modern science—outside of Germany—is unanimous on this point. But in Germany, the myth of a pure race is still taught.

"The race idea has become little short of an obsession with the Germans. Much comment and indignation has been caused in Europe by some of the maps used in the school geographies of Germany. Neighboring independent countries have been given a color very nearly as the same as that of the German empire. But the men who drew these maps, far from intending to insult the people they represented as almost German, undoubtedly thought they were complimenting them."

Going back several centuries, Mr. Bullard finds the remote origins of virtually all the strange self hypnosis and mad aggression which we are too apt to ascribe to the "new Germany." Relative to the character and motivations of Bismarck, he writes:

"Over and above the Deutschland—the geographical section of the globe where their flag flies—hovers a mystic ideal—the 'Deutschtum.' It is an expression impossible to translate into English. It is the force of this ideal which has made Germany what it is. It has amalgamated scattered dukedoms and petty principalities into a great, coherent forward pushing nation. It has performed a miracle of psychology. It furnishes the most striking example in history of how to change human nature. Whether you consider it a regeneration or a malignant degeneration, it is impossible to dispute the amazing change which has come over the German people since the days of Goethe or Kant."

Remember, that was in 1917. Mr. Bullard's book is up to date and timely today.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday School Lesson For Sept. 29
Text: Proverbs 11:24-31; Luke 16:11-13
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
(Editor of Advance)

Our lessons during this quarter have for the most part shown a very good balance of Old and New Testament teaching. Here in the discussion of the use and abuse of wealth we have wise words from Proverbs, reinforced with the teaching of Jesus.

The writer of Proverbs states what we all ought to know, yet what comparatively few of us really believe and act upon, namely, that there is such a thing as giving and scattering and yet increasing. The farmer who sows his seed knows this. If he sows sparingly, he will reap sparingly.

As a matter of fact, he has to scatter his seed with great profusion, with the knowledge that not all of it may germinate and with the realization that possibly much of it that does germinate will be cut off by frost, by blight, or by some other cause.

If he calculated what he would get from each individual seed, he would be in danger of getting no crop at all. He must scatter liberally and freely over the ground, if he is going to have a harvest under the most favorable conditions.

As this is true in the physical world, it is also true in the spiritual world. We cannot reap a harvest of kindness unless we sow very liberally the seeds of kindness. We cannot have a life of richness and fullness ourselves, if we are self-centered and selfish.

The man who withholds his grain from people who are starving has upon him, as the writer of Proverbs says, the people's curse, while blessings are upon the head of the man who does not hoard but who makes his grain available.

However, the matter is not one merely of the cursing of the one man or the blessing of the other. They are cursed or they are blessed inherently in their deeds. The wise man said long ago that the man who trusts in his riches has put his confidence in something that may fail him. We have had plenty of evidence of that during recent years.

There is nothing fine or blessed about poverty. As a matter of fact, it is tragic not to have sufficient for one's needs. But what does man gain when he has a great deal more than he needs for normal living? There comes a time—although it may only be in the hour of death—when his riches fail him and are almost entirely worthless.

When I was a boy there used to come to our home the bound volumes of a monthly paper, designed for home reading. I remember on one page, with a very striking illustration, there was the story of the wreck of a ship, going home from Australia with a number of miners who had struck it rich.

The picture represented these miners as frantically removing their gold belts and throwing the gold away, and underneath the picture was the legend, "Take it who will . . . we are all going down."

Gold was worth nothing whatever in that crisis. And it is worth nothing more than that under any circumstances unless it is used in accordance with the wisdom that God gives.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

DON'T NEGLECT THE TWO-YEAR-OLD

The two-year-old child is likely to be overlooked when the second baby comes. His mother has her hands full and under the pressure of household duties, infant care and social obligations, she easily falls into the notion that "he's quite big enough to look out for himself a bit." The "bit" is where the mischief begins.

A two-year-old can help himself—a little. He still must have help in dressing, some attention when he is eating, and much supervision once removed, and that means keeping him in sight most of the time. He is only twenty-four months from helplessness and that's not much if you measure it against thirty years, which is the time of maturity these days.

Most of all this little one needs to feel that his mother still cares for him. He needs to be taken on his mother's lap now and then and hugged and loved. He needs to feel that for this time, at least, he is the whole of life to his mother. He needs to be chattered to, not talked to as if he were a matured person. He wants to hear a story about the dog, the fairy, or the man in the moon.

This little session with his mother is his most intense instruction hour. Lessons do not have to be in the books. They are best when they come in terms of stories, conversations and just chattering intercourse. It is here that the child gets his first and, therefore, most lasting lessons in language, speech, ethics, good taste for living. It is here that he sets a lasting relationship with his mother.

Mothers are busy people, far too busy most of the time. It is difficult for them to get time out for an hour of rest, and a period of togetherness with one little child when there are others as eager for her companionship is not easy to manage. Here is where good aunts and devoted grandmothers and grandfathers come into the family group.

That is what family means. No children should have to grow up without the loving wisdom of grandparents showered upon them. Mothers are anxious and so likely to be too narrow in their management of the little ones. The "grands" know that much of what we worry about is not important and so are likely to loosen up delightfully. This offers relief to the family and especially to the mother.

I know that many young mothers will cry me down here because the "grands" break up their carefully set discipline and routine. That is true. They will and they do. Take it as it comes. Know that you, the mother, have the strongest hold on the child, and it is what you say and what you do that gives him his character and quality. Just take it easy and make the most of the situation.

Mothers are the managers of the home, the community and the nation. They need all the cooperation they can get, and it is wise of them to take the whole family into partnership as far as they can with safety.

What's the best way to introduce the new baby into a family of brothers and sisters? This and similar questions is helpfully answered in Angelo Patri's booklet, "Your Child and Other People." Send for it, enclosing ten cents in coin. Address Angelo Patri, care News-Star—World, P. O. Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By Susan Brandeis

[illegible]

WASHINGTON. [illegible] D. Roosevelt [illegible] of the United States [illegible] performance [illegible] the ship of state.

With problems of [illegible] such as we [illegible] President Roosevelt and his administration conceived and [illegible] effectively [illegible] which has [illegible] thousands of [illegible] children in this country [illegible] at the same time [illegible] and useful public improvements [illegible] not have had [illegible].

President Roosevelt and his administration worked out [illegible] to effect such remarkable [illegible] the Social Security board, the National Youth administration and other parts of a great program to extend the service given by the government to the people of the United States.

I could enumerate many other measures which will make President Roosevelt stand out in history as one of our greatest presidents, but I shall mention only one—the National Labor Relations Act. How many people realize that strikes were 15 per cent lower in 1939 than they were in 1937 and 1938 as a result of this important piece of legislation? It is a matter of record that since the NLRA was declared constitutional industrial disputes have steadily declined.

It is important during the forthcoming election to bear in mind that the continuation of the National Labor Relations law is still in danger. As recently as last winter, there was a fight on it in Congress and the fight is still going on.

It is impossible to forget that it was President Roosevelt and a Democratic Congress who gave America's poorest-paid workers a living wage by establishing a minimum wage under the Wage and Hour Law. Under this legislation men and women workers, some of them receiving as little as $3.00 a week, will soon receive a $16 minimum for a 40-hour week. Most of the workers affected, more than 2,000,000 of them, were unorganized and a large majority were women.

When President Roosevelt was inaugurated in 1933, the United States was in a desperate situation because of domestic problems.

By the courage and wisdom with which they met that situation, I believe President Roosevelt and those under his guidance demonstrated their ability to lead this nation through danger. Today we face a situation in which the last great democracy on earth, except our own, is in desperate straits, fighting heroically for existence, needing our help, encouragement, and cooperation.

Is this any time to turn over the helm to a man whose greatest claim to fame is that he sold his utilities business to the governor?

I say, no.

SEMINARY STUDENT DIES OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Robert Ramsey, 27, Union Theological Seminary student, died Friday night in a Richmond hospital of infantile paralysis some four hours after he was placed in an "iron lung" sped here by truck from Wilmington, N. C., 232 miles distant.

The Davidson College graduate contracted the dread disease the day after he entered the seminary last week. His lungs became paralyzed Friday morning. Another polio sufferer was occupying the only available respirator in the city.

Twenty-five of Ramsey's classmates administered artificial respiration in relays while seminary officials asked authorities in Wilmington to send an "iron lung."

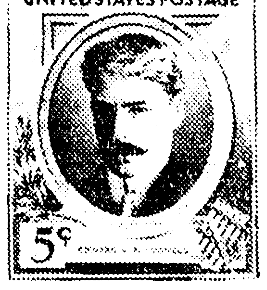
STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein



PHILATELY will know Edward A. MacDowell as the man on the U. S. 5-cent stamp, above, fourth of the composers group of Famous Americans. But the world knows him as a man with a dream—a dream that came true.

MacDowell's dream is realized at Peterborough, N. H., designated for first-day sale of the MacDowell stamp, in a colony for artists. Here in quiet woodland cabins, away from the noise and distractions, musicians, poets, authors, playwrights create American masterpieces. MacDowell's gift to America is not in his own music alone, but in the work of those who are helped by his dream.

MacDowell and his wife struggled for years to live while he composed. He knew the difficulties of working in a city. A year before his death, Mrs. MacDowell promised to make the way easier for other artists. Now, after 32 years, the MacDowell Colony at Peterborough is one of the nation's greatest artistic centers.

Salute!

We, Americans who remain behind at our regular jobs and affairs, salute you, Ameriacns who are leaving all that to learn to defend the land we love.

Regulars, volunteers, National Guardsmen, National Army conscripts, men of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, we salute you! Though you enter now a specialized field of national defense, that of learning how to master machine weapons and the tactics of 1940, you are not apart from us.

We are all parts of a great mosaic picture of a nation rising from lethargy and the quiet pursuits of peace to meet in all its strength any menace which a turbulent world may offer.

Modern war has destroyed the distinction between civilian and soldier as never before. Ask the women and children of London. Ask the middle-aged air raid marshals of Berlin or Birmingham. Ask any citizen of any of the beleaguered countries of Europe, or Asia.

We are all in this together. And as the men of one branch of the service salute proper authority in other branches, recognizing the unifying principle that all are part of a single defense force, so we who remain for the present in civilian life salute you who go to become the first line of defense.

It would be idle to promise that you shall under no circumstances lose anything by the year or more you give to your country. To many it may well mean real sacrifice. Every effort is being made to make those sacrifices as infrequent and as light as possible.

But on the other hand, many who apply themselves to this new life with a will may make gains by it: there is improved health, the knowledge of how to cooperate and work with others, direct promotion, training in useful trades, associations and friendships with men from all regions, a bigger, broader view of the responsibilities of being an American. These may be won by those who don khaki with the resolve to treat it as an opportunity as well as a duty.

You are going out to do your job. We promise to do ours. Together we shall make America strong, ready to play her part in the world with honor and without fear.

THE PRODIGAL

The oyster, that delectable mouthful which was banished so heartily last April, has returned and once again is in good standing in the household. September has an "r" in it, which means that the oyster season is on, and that from the various oyster beds of the coast there will come a wide variety of salts, blue points and other choice items fit for a king. The oyster stands pretty high on the list of the better things of life. It will be a privilege to greet it again.

The popularity of the oyster is not to be denied. That old vaudeville joke about the man who first ate an oyster, in which he was termed the world's greatest hero, is the world's worst bit of humor, in the opinion of many persons. The oyster stands out as the great sacrifice of all time. Each year this inarticulate creature gives himself up to the world at large and submits to various forms of torture in order to provide happiness for man. It is fried, broiled and barbecued; it is stewed, minced and stuffed. And never a word of protest, not so much as a murmur. This is really an outstanding sacrificial act, a deed of great virtue, and one that should be appreciated.

There have been monuments erected for dumb animals, for the man who first propounded the theory that cigar ashes are good for the rugs, for various products of the soil, such as apples, grapes and peaches, but never a written testimonial for the oyster, not even a simple plaque on a public building. That should be corrected.

A poor, dumb thing like an oyster should have some sort of a memorial. It's the only fair thing to do.

COSTLY ACCIDENTS

If America could markedly reduce its accident rate, a sizeable dent could be put in the cost of national defense without any additional burden upon the taxpayers.

That conclusion is derived from disclosure by the National Safety Council of the fact that, in 1939, property damage due to accidents totaled more than a billion dollars. In the case of automobile crashes alone, almost 10,000,000 cars were damaged.

While a 100 per cent record of improvement is out of the question, it is probable that a bit more care and caution in the home, in the factory and on the highway would greatly reduce this terrific property loss and in addition curb the even more deplorable toll of death and injury.

Every citizen, in any event, should ponder the National Safety Council's findings. A billion-dollar property loss, plus 93,000 fatalities and more than 8,000,000 maimings is not a creditable commentary upon the security of American life.

Italy faces a paper shortage and gives up 217 tons of outdated government documents for remanufacture, probably old promises and treaty agreements.

OUR COUNTRY

We Sing From Our Childhood To Old Age; We Know What We Mean—Booth Tarkington

(Twelfth of 24 articles on "Our Country," written exclusively for NEA Service and Monroe Morning World by the nation's most famous authors.)

By Booth Tarkington

Booth Tarkington

In the old song to America we chorus that we love her rocks and templed hills; but it isn't because of her landscape that we love her. We love her landscape because it is the visible home that the spirit of man longed for since human time began, and, after great tribulation, found at last—"the land of the free."

"Sweet land of liberty," "Let us die to make men free," "Let freedom ring," we sing in our childhood and in our old age, and we know what we mean. From the beginning we have meant the same thing: individual freedom—freedom under the law to stand equal to any other man, freedom to do what we will so that it be not to any man's injury, freedom from government by a human master, freedom that makes of government not a king but an instrument of the Constitution we created in order to insure our freedom.

We speak the English language. The freedom that we mean began to live on the Field of Runnymede; it grew in the battles Cromwell won to prove that men could not be taxed by the decision of one voice; its vitality was too strong to succumb to the defeats of the American Revolution, and it came to full size at Yorktown.

Many nations have sought that freedom and some of them have held it for a while, only to revert to the old serfdom of the Absolute Monarchy, or to see their freedom die under the caterpillar wheels of conquerors.

In this there is no discouragement for us. An idea fought for and cherished through seven hundred years until it made a nation one hundred and thirty million strong is too greatly loved to "perish from the earth." America shall always mean Freedom.

We must make up our minds to answer NO! to some questions about America, declares Sophie Kerr in the next article of this series on "Our Country."

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 21.—Dear Staff: Having just flown to and from Fort Worth with Samuel Goldwyn, Bob Hope, Gary Cooper, Walter Brennan and several more screen lites who attended the Texas premiere of "The Westerner," I'm full of discussion and repercussion.

I listened to a lot of talk on this trip—everything from the double feature evil to why Hope couldn't break 80 in the California golf championship qualifying round. Herewith are fragments of sage remarks jotted en route:

Sam Goldwyn: "If double features are not eliminated soon, half the producing companies and a greater percentage of theaters must go broke."

Gary Cooper: "If my screen roles have fitted me well, it's because I always seek stories to suit my type, and never change my type to suit stories."

Bob Hope: "The greatest danger a comedian faces after years of activity is that of repeating himself or, worse yet, repeating others. Striving to maintain originality is the reason for most comedy stars' prematurely grey hairs."

Edward Arnold: "There comes a time in every man's life when his country and his neighbors demand his first attention. I've reached that hour; that's why I'm devoting so much energy to selling Americanism and all the word stands for."

My own observation: It's very difficult to laugh at a Hope quip and simultaneously nod serious agreement with one of Goldwyn's bombastic ideas. Also: "The Westerner" is a "must see" picture!

JIMMIE FIDLER.

Dear Boss: After reading your last paragraph (see above), in which you admit finding it difficult to "yes" two big shots at the same time, you'll pardon us for regarding your past claims to studio experience with suspicion. Anyone who's worked at a studio, even briefly, should be able to handle the above situation in an effortless breeze!

Cancel that announced Canadian tour for Tyrone Power and Annabella—the studio's ordered him home instanter for "Down to the Sea in Ships," which incidentally will be given a different plot than the first screen version. . . . Mrs. Margaret (Linda's mama) Darnell has persuaded Dallas school authorities to okay Linda's California credits, and she'll be formally graduated with her old Sunset High class there, come June. . . . Better watch that Simone Simon-Eddie Norris romance—they're not kidding. . . . How come you made no mention of Edgar Bergen's near disaster (he escaped with scratches) when his plane nosed over the other day during practice landings?

Doris Bowden has nixed a proffered role in Helen Hayes' next stage play. . . . 20th Century's decision to rewrite the Bob Young role in "Western Union" because Bob doesn't look like a dirty-nasty is no compliment to Don Ameche, for whom the part was originally designed. . . . Janet Beecher has been inked for Irene Rich's fall airshow. . . . Add aviation students: Grace (Mrs. Bill Boyd) Bradley. . . . Sonny Ainsworth, that more-than-good-looking cigaret gal at Ciro's, is being screen tested.

Brenda Joyce, in partnership with a bevy of college gal pals, has launched a Beverly Hills enterprise to be known as "Little Debs"—they'll teach 6-to-12-year-old misses horsebacking, dancing, et al. . . . Wot's this about Virginia Field, fiancee of Richard Greene, going to London for war's duration in order to be near him? . . . Columbia has signed Bdwy's Lee Cobb, 27-year-old specialist in octogenarian roles, for "This Thing Called Love." Patricia Morison, who's just completed a lead in "The Round-up," has ultimatumed Paramount that there'll be no more western assignments—or else. . . . Betty Brewer, kid star recruited from the WPA rolls, is staking her family in the restaurant business.

Jackie Cooper gets his first professional kiss from Rita Hayworth (the lucky guy!) when they appear in Charlot's Revue, to be staged locally for war relief. . . . That bandage spoiling the lines of Mady Carroll's ankle is the result of a studio stumble. . . . Add men-in-a-predicament: Albert Dekker, playing simultaneously in two pictures (1) as a jolly, fat bandmaster and (2) as a lean, hungry prizefighter. . . . The Akim Tamiroffs say those separation rumors are bosh. . . . Chris Pin Martin will accept Mexican president-elect's bid to attend next month's inauguration ceremonies in Mexico City if he can find his birth certificate proving he's an Arizonian—without it, he couldn't get back across the border.

BIBLE CONFERENCE TO CLOSE SUNDAY

RAYVILLE, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Bible conference, "Great Christian Teachings," conducted by Dr. James T. Carlyon at the Rayville Methodist church proved to be such a success that it was continued until Sunday instead of ending on Friday as it was at first announced.

The last session will be conducted Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service.

Dr. Carlyon, teacher of theology at the Southern Methodist University, has conducted several informal forum meetings in the home of Dr. and Mrs. John C. Calhoun, where he is a guest during his stay in Rayville.

Rev. W. J. Reid, pastor of the Rayville Methodist church, stated, "I would like to publicly thank Dr. Carlyon for his contribution and words of encouragement."

Human Side Of The News

(Copyright, 1940, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

A distinguished psychologist once assured me that people don't go crazy all at once. It isn't like falling over a cliff or making a sharp turn. Mental aberrations are the extensions and amplifications of such every-day traits as day-dreaming, self-pity, vanity, envy and "hatred, malice and uncharitableness." Branch off on any of these roads, long enough and far enough, and it leads straight to the squirrel-cage.

The Germans bring this up. In current interpretation of Germany today, even informed and studious interpretation, there is frequent emphasis of something like a national psychosis, perhaps induced by the Versailles treaty and the sufferings of the post-war years. There are also stressed the new, nihilistic and revolutionary aspects of the Teutonic rampage, as against the old patterns of imperialism and power politics. This revolutionary drive is unquestionably there, but it isn't new and we go wrong if we think of it as a demon rather than a growth, distortion and final ascendancy of latent, ingrowing traits.

In our view, the parallel is close between the German mass obsession and the drift of any one man down into cuckoo land, as recorded 25 years ago in a fascinating little book called "The Psychology of Insanity," by a physician named Hart. It's a grand little book, in spite of its unpleasant title and has lit up as many dark crypts of the human mind as any book of our time. It is an excellent manual of wholesome mental conditioning.

But, more immediately pertinent to the Germans, is Arthur Bullard's fine book, "The Diplomacy of the Great War," published in 1917. It is most interesting to note that even in that far day every symptom of German goofiness which appalls us today was recorded and studied and had been for a long time. For instance the dominant-race nonsense. Mr. Bullard writes:

"In order to justify the claim of their philosophers that the Germans were a peculiar race with a special mission, it was necessary to invent a false theory of ethnology. There is no fact more firmly established about development of humanity than that there is no such thing as a pure race. Man has developed by an immensely long process of hybridization. From the biological points of view the Germans are no different from the English. The 'kitchen middens'—the refuse heaps of prehistoric communities—along the shores of the Baltic show beyond dispute the presence of the Alpine and Mediterranean brunettes side by side with the northern blondes. Modern science—outside of Germany—is unanimous on this point. But in Germany, the myth of a pure race is still taught.

"The race idea has become little short of an obsession with the Germans. Much comment and indignation has been caused in Europe by some of the maps used in the school geographies of Germany. Neighboring independent countries have been given a color very nearly as the same as that of the German empire. But the men who drew these maps, far from intending to insult the people they represented as almost German, undoubtedly thought they were complimenting them."

Going back several centuries, Mr. Bullard finds the remote origins of virtually all the strange self hypnosis and mad aggression which we are too apt to ascribe to the "new Germany." Relative to the character and motivations of Bismarck, he writes:

"Over and above the Deutschland—the geographical section of the globe where their flag flies—hovers a mystic ideal—the 'Deutschtum.' It is an expression impossible to translate into English. It is the force of this ideal which has made Germany what it is. It has amalgamated scattered dukedoms and petty principalities into a great, coherent forward pushing nation. It has performed a miracle of psychology. It furnishes the most striking example in history of how to change human nature. Whether you consider it a regeneration or a malignant degeneration, it is impossible to dispute the amazing change which has come over the German people since the days of Goethe or Kant."

Remember, that was in 1917. Mr. Bullard's book is up to date and timely today.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday School Lesson For Sept. 29
Text: Proverbs 11:24-31; Luke 16:11-13
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
(Editor of Advance)

Our lessons during this quarter have for the most part shown a very good balance of Old and New Testament teaching. Here in the discussion of the use and abuse of wealth we have wise words from Proverbs, reinforced with the teaching of Jesus.

The writer of Proverbs states what we all ought to know, yet what comparatively few of us really believe and act upon, namely, that there is such a thing as giving and scattering and yet increasing. The farmer who sows his seed knows this. If he sows sparingly, he will reap sparingly.

As a matter of fact, he has to scatter his seed with great profusion, with the knowledge that not all of it may germinate and with the realization that possibly much of it that does germinate will be cut off by frost, by blight, or by some other cause.

If he calculated what he would get from each individual seed, he would be in danger of getting no crop at all. He must scatter liberally and freely over the ground, if he is going to have a harvest under the most favorable conditions.

As this is true in the physical world, it is also true in the spiritual world. We cannot reap a harvest of kindness unless we sow very liberally the seeds of kindness. We cannot have a life of richness and fullness ourselves, if we are self-centered and selfish.

The man who withholds his grain from people who are starving has upon him, as the writer of Proverbs says, the people's curse, while blessings are upon the head of the man who does not hoard but who makes his grain available.

However, the matter is not one merely of the cursing of the one man or the blessing of the other. They are cursed or they are blessed inherently in their deeds. The wise man said long ago that the man who trusts in his riches has put his confidence in something that may fail him. We have had plenty of evidence of that during recent years.

There is nothing fine or blessed about poverty. As a matter of fact, it is tragic not to have sufficient for one's needs. But what does man gain when he has a great deal more than he needs for normal living? There comes a time—although it may only be in the hour of death—when his riches fail him and are almost entirely worthless.

When I was a boy there used to come to our home the bound volumes of a monthly paper, designed for home reading. I remember on one page, with a very striking illustration, there was the story of the wreck of a ship, going home from Australia with a number of miners who had struck it rich.

The picture represented these miners as frantically removing their gold belts and throwing the gold away, and underneath the picture was the legend, "Take it who will . . . we are all going down."

Gold was worth nothing whatever in that crisis. And it is worth nothing more than that under any circumstances unless it is used in accordance with the wisdom that God gives.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

DON'T NEGLECT THE TWO-YEAR-OLD

The two-year-old child is likely to be overlooked when the second baby comes. His mother has her hands full and under the pressure of household duties, infant care and social obligations, she easily falls into the notion that "he's quite big enough to look out for himself a bit." The "bit" is where the mischief begins.

A two-year-old can help himself—a little. He still must have help in dressing, some attention when he is eating, and much supervision once removed, and that means keeping him in sight most of the time. He is only twenty-four months from helplessness and that's not much if you measure it against thirty years, which is the time of maturity these days.

Most of all this little one needs to feel that his mother still cares for him. He needs to be taken on his mother's lap now and then and hugged and loved. He needs to feel that for this time, at least, he is the whole of life to his mother. He needs to be chattered to, not talked to as if he were a matured person. He wants to hear a story about the dog, the fairy, or the man in the moon.

This little session with his mother is his most intense instruction hour. Lessons do not have to be in the books. They are best when they come in terms of stories, conversations and just chattering intercourse. It is here that the child gets his first and, therefore, most lasting lessons in language, speech, ethics, good taste for living. It is here that he sets a lasting relationship with his mother.

Mothers are busy people, far too busy most of the time. It is difficult for them to get time out for an hour of rest, and a period of togetherness with one little child when there are others as eager for her companionship is not easy to manage. Here is where good aunts and devoted grandmothers and grandfathers come into the family group.

That is what family means. No children should have to grow up without the loving wisdom of grandparents showered upon them. Mothers are anxious and so likely to be too narrow in their management of the little ones. The "grands" know that much of what we worry about is not important and so are likely to loosen up delightfully. This offers relief to the family and especially to the mother.

I know that many young mothers will cry me down here because the "grands" break up their carefully set discipline and routine. That is true. They will and they do. Take it as it comes. Know that you, the mother, have the strongest hold on the child, and it is what you say and what you do that gives him his character and quality. Just take it easy and make the most of the situation.

Mothers are the managers of the home, the community and the nation. They need all the cooperation they can get, and it is wise of them to take the whole family into partnership as far as they can with safety.

What's the best way to introduce the new baby into a family of brothers and sisters? This and similar questions is helpfully answered in Angelo Patri's booklet, "Your Child and Other People." Send for it, enclosing ten cents in coin. Address Angelo Patri, care News-Star—World, P. O. Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By Susan Brandeis
(Daughter of Louis D. Brandeis, retired justice, Supreme Court of the United States)

WASHINGTON—I believe Franklin D. Roosevelt to be the right man for the tremendous responsibility that rests on the shoulders of the president of the United States, because he has shown in almost eight years of performance how effectively he can steer the ship of state.

With problems of unemployment such as we never had before, President Roosevelt and his administration conceived and have effectively operated a relief and work program which has literally saved the lives of thousands of men, women and children in this country and have at the same time created great and useful public improvements which we could not have had in any other way.

President Roosevelt and his administration worked out and put into effect such remarkable achievements as the Social Security board, the National Youth administration, and other parts of a great program to extend the service given by the government to the people of the United States.

I could enumerate many other measures which will make President Roosevelt stand out in history as one of our greatest presidents, but I shall mention only one—the National Labor Relations Act. How many people realize that strikes were 45 per cent lower in 1939 than they were in 1937 and 1938 as a result of this important piece of legislation? It is a matter of record that since the NLRA was declared constitutional industrial disputes have steadily declined.

It is important during the forthcoming election to bear in mind that the continuation of the National Labor Relations law is still in danger. As recently as last winter, there was a fight on it in Congress and the fight is still going on.

It is impossible to forget that it was President Roosevelt and a Democratic Congress who gave America's poorest-paid workers a living wage by establishing a minimum wage under the Wage and Hour Law. Under this legislation men and women workers, some of them receiving as little as $3.00 a week, will soon receive a $16 minimum for a 40-hour week. Most of the workers affected, more than 2,000,000 of them, were unorganized and a large majority were women.

When President Roosevelt was inaugurated in 1933, the United States was in a desperate situation because of domestic problems.

By the courage and wisdom with which they met that situation, I believe President Roosevelt and those under his guidance demonstrated their ability to lead this nation through danger. Today we face a situation in which the last great democracy on earth, except our own, is in desperate straits, fighting heroically for existence, needing our help, encouragement, and cooperation.

Is this any time to turn over the helm to a man whose greatest claim to fame is that he sold his utilities business to the governor?

I say, no.

SEMINARY STUDENT DIES OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Robert Ramsey, 27, Union Theological Seminary student, died Friday night in a Richmond hospital of infantile paralysis some four hours after he was placed in an "iron lung" sped here by truck from Wilmington, N. C., 232 miles distant.

The Davidson College graduate contracted the dread disease the day after he entered the seminary last week. His lungs became paralyzed Friday morning. Another polio sufferer was occupying the only available respirator in the city.

Twenty-five of Ramsey's classmates administered artificial respiration in relays while seminary officials asked authorities in Wilmington to send an "iron lung."

STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein

UNITED STATES POSTAGE
5¢

PHILATELY will know Edward A. MacDowell as the man on the U. S. 5-cent stamp, above, fourth of the composers group of Famous Americans. But the world knows him as a man with a dream—a dream that came true.

MacDowell's dream is realized at Peterborough, N. H., designated for first-day sale of the MacDowell stamp, in a colony for artists. Here in quiet woodland cabins, away from the noise and distractions, musicians, poets, authors, playwrights create American masterpieces. MacDowell's gift to America is not in his own music alone, but in the work of those who are helped by his dream.

MacDowell and his wife struggled for years to live while he composed. He knew the difficulties of working in a city. A year before his death, Mrs. MacDowell promised to make the way easier for other artists. Now, after 32 years, the MacDowell Colony at Peterborough is one of the nation's greatest artistic centers.

He is also survived by four brothers, Shep and Oscar Roye, West Monroe, Oliver Roye, Downsville, Palmer Roye, Rusk, Tex., and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Wallace, Pasadena, Calif.

Born in Union parish June 6, 1885, Mr. Roye married Miss Ruth Roberts, Downsville, 32 years ago, and for the past 15 years has resided in West Monroe. He was a wood contractor, and a member of the Masonic Order and of the Tefils Grotto.

Funeral services are in charge of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

INSURANCE WORKERS GIVEN TRIP AWARDS

Three Monroe citizens, members of a local insurance firm, returned this week from a trip to Washington, New York and the World's Fair, awarded them by the home office of the Southern Life and Health Insurance Company.

The trio and their wives were awarded the trip, all expenses paid, on completion of a certain allotment of work scheduled by the home office.

Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Burdick, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Danna and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams. Mr. Burdick, manager of the Monroe office, stated that 265 company representatives over the South were awarded similar trips.

The awarded trips this year were presented to employes in celebration of the company's 50th anniversary. Next year trips will be awarded to Cuba.

FALSE TEETH CLUE TO HOUSE PROWLER

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 21.—(AP)—This is almost a story like the one about the prince and Cinderella's slipper.

Only in this case it's the police who are looking for mouth minus its lower dentures, instead of a prince searching for a dainty foot.

LIBRARIAN

Miss Mary H. Clay, who has been appointed librarian of Northeast Junior College. She comes to Monroe from Mary Hardin-Baylor College.

MISS MARY CLAY NAMED LIBRARIAN

Formerly Served In Same Capacity At Northeast Junior College

Appointment of Miss Mary H. Clay as librarian for the Northeast Junior College was announced Saturday by Dean C. C. Colvert. She fills the position made vacant by the recent resignation of Miss Sue Hefley, now state supervisor of high school libraries.

Miss Clay's coming to Monroe will mean the renewing of old acquaintances for she served as librarian of the local college from 1932-1934.

Since then she has been librarian at Mary Hardin-Baylor College, Belton, Tex.

She returns to Monroe with fine achievements to her credit. In addition to her work as librarian, when she initiated several interesting library projects, she identified herself with community activities and held numerous offices in state organizations.

Among her major interests was the work with the American Association of University Women. She was president of the Belton branch of that organization from 1937-1939.

Distinction has been gained through leadership in the Texas Library Association, and in 1938-1939 she was editor of News Notes, official organ of the association.

Her professional activities include membership in the Southwestern Library Association, the American Library Association, the Association of College and Reference Libraries, and the Texas State Teachers' Association.

State and national recognition of Miss Clay's activities has been shown by inclusion of a sketch in The Texan Who's Who and in Who's Who in American Education. These sketches refer to her graduating with high honors from the University of Illinois Library School.

Miss Clay and her mother, Mrs. C. C. Clay, who makes her home with her daughter, expect to arrive in Monroe October 1.

"A timely gift for the school," commented Lewis Slater, head of the Northeast Junior College Science Department, as he inspected a valuable piece of equipment presented by C. C. Boardman, general manager of the Thermatomic Carbon Company.

The object which provoked curiosity and interest is a modification of the orsat gas analyzer. It is utilized in analyzing flue gas and testing thermal decomposition and exhaust gases from engines.

Mr. Slater spoke of the value of the equipment, particularly in view of the fact that this semester marks the first time that a course in quantitative chemical analysis has been offered to sophomores at the local college.

In class laboratory work he hopes to give types of analyses that are applicable to local chemical industries.

Several industrial plants located in this area have stated their intention of cooperating with the science department through the presentation of equipment and appliances. Acquisition of equipment that will add to the practicability of the course will mean a great asset, Mr. Slater said.

Registration figures at Northeast Junior College had reached the 620 mark at noon Saturday. This count does not include numerous students who have not fully completed registration. Only seven are lacking to equal the total enrollment of last year, according to L. M. Norton, registrar.

Time limit for registration for credit extends to October 5.

GOODWILL COMMUNITY HISTORY IS RELATED

PIONEER, Sept. 21.—(Special)—Goodwill community, when it had its beginning in 1935, was a vast wilderness located in the rich lands of Boeuf river bottom between Oak Grove and Mer Rouge.

Now, five years later, this wilderness has become the home of approximately 500 families.

Today Goodwill community boasts three stores, two filling stations, two blacksmith shops, a planer mill, a modern gin, Baptist church, a 10-room, modern schoolhouse with approximately 600 pupils, rural mail route, and a high power line.

Rev. J. C. Price announced that land has been purchased upon which a Methodist church will be built. He said, "We ask our friends to assist us in building this much needed church. Our plan will not only give us a representative place to worship, but will well equip us for the educational work of the church. We will be truly grateful to anyone sending donations to this cause."

Donations will be received if sent to Rev. R. R. Ketchens, Route No. 3, box 148, Oak Grove, La., or to Rev. J. C. Price, postoffice box 12, Pioneer, La., it was announced.

NAMED SUPERVISOR

RUSTON, Sept. 21.—(Special)—C. W. Edwards, Ruston, was appointed WPA educational supervisor of Lincoln and Bienville parishes, it was announced recently.

HOW CENSORSHIP WORKING IN WAR

Associated Press Chief Of Foreign Service Explains Setups

By John Evans

Associated Press Chief of Foreign Service

Censors' shifting theories muddy the stream of news but the fortunes of war enable reporters to tell the vital truths of the conflict.

Newly tightened British censorship hides some details of the Nazi air war on England. Times of attacks and exactness of damage are blue-pencilled from London dispatches but German versions and British comment quickly bring out essential facts.

Censorship of some sort envelopes most of the world. It ranges from a blanket of fear and silence to the "censorship of responsibility" under which United States correspondents in particular are free to tell what they see and what they can justify as facts. Nearly all countries bar what they consider military information that might be useful to an enemy. The warring nations demand that reporters be impartial. Hostile critics find their news channels blocked and they are advised or ordered to leave the country.

Censorship obeyed with fear and accepted passively, would stifle much of the truth. Intelligent reporters aren't passive and they get results. There is nothing mysterious about getting truthful news.

The Associated Press has large bureaus of trained American newspapermen in the principal capitals and responsible correspondents in all countries.

The AP organization spreads further than does censorship. What isn't known in one country usually becomes public in another and by assaying official announcements in the light of other accurate information, the essential truth develops.

An illustration of this experience was the breakdown of British censorship on the Nazi air raid over London August 15. British censors used hush-hush methods but Germany gave a "play-by-play" account of the big scale bombing. The British censors' action raised a storm of protest in England and obliged the censors to let newspapers in England and abroad know rather fully what was happening.

Facts may be hidden in an occupied country when communications are cut but such secrecy arouses suspicions that often are worse than the truth and occupation authorities usually loosen their regulations as the lesser evil.

Roughly, censorship is what it was when the war began a year ago. Here are the various systems:

Britain—English censors on Thursday barred times of air raids and too specific reports of damage after a period of considerable freedom.

There is examination of all dispatches and written broadcasts aimed chiefly at military information. Reasonable freedom is permitted otherwise. Canada trusts newspapers and reporters to comply but Hongkong, Singapore, India, Egypt and other possessions use London's blue pencil method.

Germany—Foreign correspondents are under a censorship of responsibility. United States reporters, especially, have practically normal, peacetime facilities for handling official news. They are free to send what they wish but they must conform to official reports on air raids, and send the news only after the raid is over. They must refrain from untruthful, damaging attacks on the Nazi government. They may tell of restrictions on Jews, describe conditions in subjugated countries, report food rationing and so forth.

Italy—Like Germany, Italy has a "responsibility" censorship. Dispatches are telephoned to neutral Switzerland.

Soviet Russia—The U. S. S. R. examines carefully all news dispatches but generally allows any published matter to be sent abroad even when it is highly critical of Soviet events or officials. Soviet censorship operates chiefly through government control of news at its source. Tass, the official agency, newspapers and press officials necessarily are the chief sources of information. Correspondents are free to gather their own news but few of them speak Russian and few Russian officials are talkative about Soviet affairs.

Occupied countries—Northern France, the Netherlands, Belgium, Poland, Denmark and Norway are under strict German control. There is no official censorship but there is something like a blanket of silence over them. Correspondents from Berlin offices occasionally may travel about these isolated countries and write uncensored dispatches about conditions but peoples under military rule keep rather quiet. Nevertheless, slowly the story gets told. Knowledge of what happens in the German-occupied regions often seems less than it is because that news is obscured by the war. Such dispatches generally are without dramatics. They deal with the ordinary life of average people.

Unoccupied France—Vichy, France, where Marshal Petain rules, has its old war censorship softened because there is left for France only the bitter aftermath of disaster.

Japan, Spain, Portugal and even Switzerland have censorships. Japan's is the most rigorous and Switzerland's the lightest. Switzerland seeks to prevent the sending of news that might anger some of her strong neighbors. She wishes to stay out of trouble.

Control of newspapers is general in Europe and Asia. It is the theory of many governments that public opinion can be directed at will. Where censorship is heavy, the public buys fewer newspapers, whether through distrust or economy.

Better Heating, Health Will Be Theme Of Meeting Here

UNITED GAS FIRM WILL BE SPONSOR AT CITY BANQUET

Campaign To Aid General Public Will Be Waged In This Area

All dealers in gas appliances in the Twin Cities will be guests of honor at a banquet at the Virginia Hotel Tuesday night given by the United Gas Corporation for the purpose of inaugurating a campaign in the interest of better heating and better health for the public.

Prominent speakers for the occasion will be Dean A. Strickland, general sales manager of the United Gas Corporation; P. C. Anderson, resident sales manager; Alden J. Breaux, dealer sales coordinator; Miss Evelyn Barton, home service adviser, all of Houston, Tex.; and Alston Prophit, district manager.

Officials of the gas company stated that new and attractive features of the gas appliances to be offered this fall and winter will be outlined at the banquet. Ranges, heaters, water heaters and refrigerators will be principally featured.

This campaign, an annual event sponsored by the United Gas Corporation, is an effort to bring together dealers who are presenting to the public the latest and most valuable features of all automatic gas appliances.

"The people of Monroe and West Monroe have become conscious of the advantages of better heating and we feel that the sale of this type of heating during the fall will far surpass previous records," Mr. Prophit said. "Many hundreds of homes in the Twin Cities will enjoy the benefits of automatic heating during the winter months."

"We feel a bit of pleasure and pride in our efforts to bring to the public of the Twin Cities the great accomplishments of our modern line of gas appliances for the home," Mr. Prophit declared.

Throughout the past five or six weeks, employes of the United Gas Corporation have received extensive training at special sales meetings held by the officials in preparation for the campaign.

While not connected directly in any way with the annual Furniture Week being observed throughout the nation this week, the modern gas appliance campaign is quite in line with the idea of greater health and happiness in the modern home.

Those persons who because of inefficient heating systems suffered from the extensive cold last winter are advised to see the new and modern appliances which are on display at local stores and acquaint themselves with the many outstanding features, economical and otherwise.

SPECIAL SCHOOL BOARD FIVE-MILL TAX PASSED

RUSTON, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The special school board five-mill tax was passed in Tuesday's election, with only 91 votes cast against the tax, according to Superintendent H. L. Campbell.

The tax is merely one to replace the tax recently expired and will, therfore, place no heavier burden on the property owners, it was announced.

HOW CENSORSHIP WORKING IN WAR

Associated Press Chief Of Foreign Service Explains Setups

By John Evans

(Associated Press Chief of Foreign Service)

Censors' shifting theories muddy the stream of news but the fortunes of war enable reporters to tell the vital truths of the conflict.

Newly tightened British censorship hides some details of the Nazi air war on England. Times of attacks and exactness of damage are blue-pencilled from London dispatches but German versions and British comment quickly bring out essential facts.

Censorship of some sort envelopes most of the world. It ranges from a blanket of fear and silence to the "censorship of responsibility" under which United States correspondents in particular are free to tell what they see and what they can justify as facts. Nearly all countries bar what they consider military information that might be useful to an enemy. The warring nations demand that reporters be impartial. Hostile critics find their news channels blocked and they are advised or ordered to leave the country.

Censorship obeyed with fear and accepted passively, would stifle much of the truth. Intelligent reporters aren't passive and they get results. There is nothing mysterious about getting truthful news.

The Associated Press has large bureaus of trained American newspapermen in the principal capitals and responsible correspondents in all countries.

The AP organization spreads further than does censorship. What isn't known in one country usually becomes public in another and by assaying official announcements in the light of other accurate information, the essential truth develops.

An illustration of this experience was the breakdown of British censorship on the Nazi air raid over London August 15. British censors used hush-hush methods but Germany gave a "play-by-play" account of the big scale bombing. The British censors' action raised a storm of protest in England and obliged the censors to let newspapers in England and abroad know rather fully what was happening.

Facts may be hidden in an occupied country when communications are cut but such secrecy arouses suspicions that often are worse than the truth and occupation authorities usually loosen their regulations as the lesser evil.

Roughly, censorship is what it was when the war began a year ago. Here are the various systems:

Britain—English censors on Thursday barred times of air raids and too specific reports of damage after a period of considerable freedom.

There is examination of all dispatches and written broadcasts aimed chiefly at military information. Reasonable freedom is permitted otherwise. Canada trusts newspapers and reporters to comply but Hongkong, Singapore, India, Egypt and other possessions use London's blue pencil method.

Germany — Foreign correspondents are under a "censorship of responsibility." United States reporters, especially, have practically normal, peacetime facilities for handling official news. They are free to send what they wish but they must conform to official reports on air raids, and send the news only after the raid is over. They must refrain from untruthful, damaging attacks on the Nazi government. They may tell of restrictions on Jews, describe conditions in subjugated countries, report food rationing and so forth.

Italy—Like Germany, Italy has a "responsibility" censorship. Dispatches are telephoned to neutral Switzerland.

Soviet Russia—The U. S. S. R. examines carefully all news dispatches but generally allows any published matter to be sent abroad even when it is highly critical of Soviet events or officials. Soviet censorship operates chiefly through government control of news at its source. Tass, the official agency, newspapers and press officials necessarily are the chief sources of information. Correspondents are free to gather their own news but few of them speak Russian and few Russian officials are talkative about Soviet affairs.

Occupied countries — Northern France, the Netherlands, Belgium, Poland, Denmark and Norway are under strict German control. There is no official censorship but there is something like a blanket of silence over them. Correspondents from Berlin offices occasionally may travel about these isolated countries and write uncensored dispatches about conditions but peoples under military rule keep rather quiet. Nevertheless, slowly the story gets told. Knowledge of what happens in the German-occupied regions often seems less than it is because that news is obscured by the war. Such dispatches generally are without dramatics. They deal with the ordinary life of average people.

Unoccupied France—Vichy, France, where Marshal Petain rules, has its old war censorship softened because there is left for France only the bitter aftermath of disaster.

Japan, Spain, Portugal and even Switzerland have censorships. Japan's is the most rigorous and Switzerland's the lightest. Switzerland seeks to prevent the sending of news that might anger some of her strong neighbors. She wishes to stay out of trouble.

Control of newspapers is general in Europe and Asia. It is the theory of many governments that public opinion can be directed at will. Where censorship is heavy, the public buys fewer newspapers, whether through distrust or economy.

New Manager

Harold H. Dixon, for seven years connected with the Lee-Rogers Chevrolet Company as salesman, last week was named sales manager of the West Pontiac Company, 312 Walnut, Allen West, owner, announced. Dixon, born and raised in Monroe, has been connected with the automobile business here for 12 years.

Dixon will have charge of sales for the new 1941 Pontiac, recently put on display. He says he is particularly enthusiastic about the new car and looks forward to a good sales year. He also will handle used cars but will concentrate mostly on the sale of the new Pontiac.

WAR ON PESTS IS WAGED HERE BY ORKIN CO.

Manager Cofield Says His Firm Ready To Act

Through vigorous effort the nation now is building effective defence against the types of "isms" which are described daily in headlines of newspapers, but apathetic individuals continue to suffer unnecessary losses from another kind of "ism"—pest-ism—which could just as easily be controlled by proper precaution, points out F. W. Cofield, general manager of Orkin Exterminating Company, 221 Bernhardt building.

"Many home owners must be reminded of the fact, but the truth remains that we are constantly at war with the insect world. And as Maeterlinck, the great author, once wrote, insects are so incomparably better armed and better equipped than we are, that they will probably be our successors," Cofield explained.

"However, the public today is able to control advancing armies of roaches, moths, ants, rats and other such pests through the services of the Orkin company and other pest control organizations."

"To apply the scientific control measures which have been proved as most effective, trained men are employed by pest control operators to make application of the prescribed treatment in much the same manner the trained nurse carries out the orders of the doctor. Service men are picked for their ability, neat personal appearance, and courtesy to the client," he said.

"Pests not only cause millions of dollars damage to property each year, but they also are disease carriers and a threat to human health. Calling a pest control operator before it is too late may save a valuable coat from being ruined by moths, or illness from germs carried by some kind of pest."

"In assisting the public in its constant war against insects and vermin, the pest control operators maintain a high code of ethics. For instance, members of the Pest Control Association in his advertising or other soliciting of business must not use tricky, fraudulent or misleading words or methods; the members must thoroughly analyze requirements of his clients and recommend best suited control means; members must render skilled, intelligent and conscientious service."

"Today, Orkin Exterminating Company is contributing to the health and economic welfare of North Louisiana and other parts of the country by providing an effective pest control service to private homes, hotels, office buildings, apartment houses, schools, restaurants, [illegible] transportation companies [illegible] nesses."

"Perhaps you have [illegible] with pests—pests which have attacked your person, your clothing, food or building itself. One sure way to control [illegible] is common enemy is by expert [illegible] of a poisonous chemical [illegible] hydrogen [illegible]."

MONROE P.-T. A. HEARS ADDRESS

Miss Marjorie Oliver Speaks On 'Teaching, Then And Now'

Miss Marjorie Oliver, city school supervisor, spoke on "Teaching, Then and Now," at the meeting of the Sherrouse P.-T. A. held at the school.

Miss Oliver in her address stressed the fact that today the teacher places emphasis upon the whole child, while she used to place it upon subject matter.

Mrs. Courtland Fluitt, program chairman, presented the theme, "Community Planning for the Youth." Mrs. C. L. Dillingham gave excerpts from the state and national presidents' messages.

The scrapbook, under the direction of Mrs. G. M. Heindenreich, was exhibited at this time, and Mrs. C. C. Lindley, president, appointed the following committee chairmen:

Mrs. W. Cotton, hospitality committee; Mrs. Guy DuPriest, publication committee; Mrs. C. F. Horton, goals committee; Mrs. W. W. Stevens, membership committee; Mrs. L. Walters, music committee; Mrs. E. R. McBride, publicity committee; Mrs. C. Fluitt, program committee; Mrs. Harold Riggs, study group chairman; Mrs. J. E. Ingouf, summer roundup committee.

At the conclusion of the meeting fruit punch, cookies, and candy were served those present by Mrs. H. F. Shepard and Mrs. Clifford Benson.

WHERE THE MAGNOLIA BLOOMS

West Monroe, La.,
Sept. 20, 1940.

To the Editor:

Monroe where the magnolia blooms
There's where the sun's most always shining
Where poverty clouds have a silver lining,
Where the magnolia blooms.

Down where knighthood's still in flower,
Where men marry for love, not a dower,
Where the magnolia blooms.

Down where the latch-string's outside the door,
Where friend is friend, whether rich or poor,
Where they date their ancestry back to Noah,
Monroe! where the magnolia blooms.

ANDRE CAJUN

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

Monroe, La.,
Sept. 20, 1940.

To the Editor:

Am enclosing a short communication on what I consider a serious situation of the flagrant violation of drivers of automobiles, bicycles and trucks which in the judgment of a number of citizens can be minimized if the enforcement officers perform their duties.

In the past fortnight I saw a car driven by a 11-year-old girl, another by a boy, 13 or 14 years old. Then, too, I have seen several state trucks loaded with gravel, some empty, exceeding the speed limit. They are not the only truck drivers violating the speed limit.

I believe that not less than 50 per cent of the cyclists have no bells or lights attached to their cycles.

CIRCUS ACTION

West Monroe, La.,
Sept. 20, 1940.

To the Editor:

Being a citizen and taxpayer of the city of West Monroe, I am naturally interested in what goes on under the guise of public welfare for my community.

It is thus that I am in a quandary over the recent actions of our city council, first granting and then suddenly revoking a permit for a circus to show in West Monroe.

Why this action? Would the parties who instigated this bit of giving and revoking be so kind as to make a public statement to the press and public giving detailed reasons for said action in order that the public might be enlightened concerning the whole matter?

If the cause is that the circus is to be in town on a Sunday, then is it fair for the community to sponsor a rodeo show next month, one of which days will be a Sunday afternoon showing? I can see no difference in one from the other.

I thoroughly agree with the person who wrote to the editor of the Morning World and whose letter appeared in the Public Forum of Saturday, September 21, when he says, and I quote: "This is supposed to be a free country, and one where people can do, act, and think like they please. When one minority group says to the majority, 'You can't go to a circus on a Sunday,' it is just not going to work. People will stand so much and no more." (End of quote.)

So will the city authorities please come out in the open with a public statement and inform their electors just what is going on behind the scenes of the circus permit give and take business before they become a three-ring laughing stock of the West Monroe public? When said statement is given I, for one, will feel that I share in the running of my community. If not, I think some changes should be made in our public offices. What do you think?

JAMES E. KINCADE.

PROTECT THOSE LIVES

Monroe, La.,
Sept. 20, 1940.

To the Editor:

All the schools private, parochial, and public are functioning with a full faculty of teachers and nearly 100 per cent of pupils ranging in age from 6 to 13 or more in attendance. These youngsters are the future citizens of our nation and are taught the A-B-C's of education and later the fundamentals of education which prepares them when reaching the adult stage to assume an interest in their duties of citizenship. So far so good, but are we who are preparing them for those duties doing our part?

Frankly I believe every well-meaning man or woman, particularly the parents, will admit they are not doing much toward aiding those who feel an interest in protecting the lives of our children and others who have interests in living. If so, why don't we waken to our responsibilities?

In order for us to realize our responsibilities, I am appealing to the individual, the parent, the civic bodies, the press, and last but not lease, the enforcement officers—the sheriffs, police, state police, marshals and constables, to perform their duties, believing the judges will cooperate with them in the enforcement of the laws for the protection of our citizenship of the nation.

I am asking the reader, as well as those who are responsible for the safety of our children, to ponder over the serious situation we are confronted with.

Do you realize that during 1939, over 40,000—more than the American losses in the World War No. 1—were killed and over one million crippled and maimed for life. Take for illustration, our own community. The deaths and cripples if possible could be assembled in a group caused by the careless and reckless driving of automobiles and truck drivers would send the cold shivers to creep down one's spinal column if they have any regard for human life.

Do you realize that the big industrial organizations are doing more toword minimizing accidents than the law enforcement officers of our state? That seems a rather severe indictment against those who we elect for our protection. I challenge them to deny that statement. If they do I will produce the evidence and prove to the contrary.

In my next communication I will give cases and at the same time, ask the parents and others interested in the protection of our citizenship from the indifferent and careless and reckless automobile driver.

WAR ON PESTS IS WAGED HERE BY ORKIN CO.

Manager Cofield Says His Firm Ready To Act

Through vigorous effort the nation now is building effective defense against the types of "isms" which are described daily in headlines of newspapers, but apathetic individuals continue to suffer unnecessary losses from another kind of "ism"—pest-ism—which could just as easily be controlled by proper precaution, points out E. W. Cofield, general manager of Orkin Exterminating Company, 221 Bernhardt building.

"Many home owners must be reminded of the fact, but the truth remains that we are constantly at war with the insect world. And as Maeterlink, the great author, once wrote, insects are so incomparably better armed and better equipped than we are, that they will probably be our successors," Cofield explained.

"However, the public today is able to control advancing armies of roaches, moths, ants, rats and other such pests through the services of the Orkin company and other pest control organizations."

"To apply the scientific control measures which have been proved as most effective, trained men are employed by pest control operators to make application of the prescribed treatment in much the same manner the trained nurse carries out the orders of the doctor. Service men are picked for their ability, neat personal appearance, and courtesy to the client," he said.

"Pests not only cause millions of dollars damage to property each year, but they also are disease carriers and a threat to human health. Calling a pest control operator before it is too late may save a valuable coat from being ruined by moths, or illness from germs carried by some kind of pest."

"In assisting the public in its constant war against insects and vermin, the pest control operators maintain a high code of ethics. For instance, members of the Pest Control Association in his advertising or other soliciting of business must not use tricky, fraudulent or misleading words or methods; the members must thoroughly analyze requirements of his clients and recommend best suited control means; members must render skilled, intelligent and conscientious service."

"Today, Orkin Exterminatng Company is contributing to the health and economic welfare of North Louisiana and other parts of the country by providing an effective pest control service to private homes, hotels, office buildings, apartment houses, schools, restaurants, warehouses, water transportation companies, and other businesses."

"Perhaps you have had 'skirmishes' with pests—pests which have attacked your person, your clothing, food or building itself. One sure way to control this common enemy is by expert application of a poisonous chemical called hydrocyanic acid."

For expert pest control service, call Orkin Exterminating Company, Cofield suggests.

Veteran Coach Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech [illegible] 198-pound [illegible] Bobby Dodd [illegible] Roy Goree.

Up at Lexington, Kentucky's coaches [illegible] giant Clark Wood of Huntington, W. Va., [illegible] prospect Kentucky ever had." Bob Herbert, another [illegible] West Virginian, is a good line plunger and punter, with [illegible] Allan [illegible] Bill Black, halfback, and Phil Cutchin, halfback, are counted on [illegible] either as starters or regular reserves.

There will be no sophomores in the starting lineup at Mississippi State unless the injury jinx [illegible] to work on Allyn McKeen's squad, but at least three newcomers will do regular relief duty. John Black, 186 pounds and the fastest man on the squad, is No. 2 wingback, while George Varnado, 178, will sub at right end and Gladney White, 198, help out at right tackle.

Alabama, with sophomores to burn, expects only two of them—quarterback Charley Deshane and right halfback Davie Brown—to start with the Crimson Tide's first string. On the regular reserve list, however, are newcomers Joe Domnanovich, center; Irby Woodall and George Hecht, guards; Cliff Hansen, tackle; Tom Maxwell, Sam Sharpe, Babe Roberts and George Weeks, ends; Al Sabo and Don Salls, quarterbacks; George Gammon, Jule Fuqua, Russ Mosley, and Russ Craft, halfbacks.

Auburn has eight newcomers who look good, but not yet good enough to displace more experienced first-stringers. Tackle Jim McClurkin, 200-pound dynamo, guard Nick Ardillo [illegible] Henry Menacee are most promising and may start for the Tigers later in the season. Centers Jack Ferrell and Tex Williams and halfbacks Bill Yearout, Monk Gafford, Clarence Hanson and Ty Irby are sure of much reserve duty.

With sophomores [illegible] at Louisiana State, Coach Bernie Moore is counting heavily on untried talent for his first string. Best prospects for the starting lineup are Walter Gorinski, [illegible] fullback, and Jack Barrett, 225-pound tackle. Big, fast and quick in reaction, Gorinski is rated by [illegible] a coming star in the conference.

[illegible] in the last week's fray was the play of Andrew Craft, halfback, who ran well against the Eagles, and displayed good defensive work. Jack Trimble, giant end, also showed some good football, snaring the first touchdown pass out of the hands of an Eagle defender. John Laffey, Norman Dillard, Guy Miller, and [illegible] played good ball at [illegible] Laffey and Dillard alternated at the blocking back and spinner-back positions, with both looking fine.

The Tigers' defense looked good, holding the Eagles to three first downs and letting them complete only one [illegible] The Tigers tried four heaves and completed two.

One aspect that didn't look so good, however, was the scoring plays inside the 20-yard line. The Tigers messed up around eight or nine chances to score, when they had the ball in the shadow of the Menard goal. They either fumbled or were stopped.

The squad will be drilled this week on this one thing, trying to gain strength in scoring from close in. Both scores in last week's contest came from outside the Eagles' 40-yard line, one on a pass from Dillard to Trimble, and the other on a long jaunt by Craft.

Admission prices will be 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for students.

MERLE HAPES STAR OF OLE MISS WIN

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Merle Hapes led a fumbling but powerful University of Mississippi team to a 37 to 0 victory over Union University of Jackson, Tenn., today for a successful opening of the Rebels' 1940 campaign.

With a great exhibition of open field running, Hapes twisted for touchdown runs of 70, 55 and five yards, and gained 101 yards in his seven attempts from scrimmage.

Old Miss scored in the first period after Jackie Flack's run across the goal line had been called back to the 33-yard mark. There Flack passed to Center Cyrus Swinney, who was stopped on the Bulldog's one-yard stripe. Jim Tillman leaped over center for the tally.

In the second period Hapes jaunted 70 yards for his first touchdown, and Ray Terrell broke loose 60 yards for another. Junie Hovious kicked the extra point.

Hapes scored the only third period marker with his 55-yard run, and in the fourth climaxed an 85-yard drive with a five yard plunge over left tackle. He and Hovious carried the ball into scoring position.

CUBS EDGE CARDS

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Vern Olsen, young southpaw, pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 4 to 3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in 11 innings today. It was his 12th triumph of the season against nine defeats.

A crowd of 5,005 watched the Cards go out in front by two runs, then the Cubs overtake them and push to the fore in the fifth. The Cards, however, tied it up in the sixth and the teams battled on even terms until the 11th when Glenn Russell singled, stole second and scored on Al Todd's single.

ROWE HERO OF DETROIT WIN OVER CLEVELAND

COMEBACK KING PITCHES TIGERS TO 5-0 VICTORY

Triumph Puts Detroiters Two Games In Front In Pennant Race

By Dale Stafford

DETROIT, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Lyn Thomas Rowe, baseball's story-book pitcher, wrote another chapter today in one of the game's greatest comeback sagas.

The Arkansas Express of old, Rowe stifled the Cleveland Indians with a meager five hits as he pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 5-to-0 victory that gave them a commanding two-game edge in the current crucial series with the Tribe and the same margin on top of the American League standings.

The win, 16th of the season as compared to only three defeats for Rowe, left the Tigers in the most dominating position they have enjoyed all year long in their circuit's most topsy-turvy pennant race in 30 years.

Rowe was the show today and the ovation he received from the crowd of 42,330 as he strode off the diamond a winner was something to be remembered.

Not only did the 6-foot-4½-inch giant muffle the bats of the Indians when hits meant runs but he contributed a run-scoring single to the attack that wrecked Cleveland's hopes.

In only one inning was Rowe in trouble. That was the seventh, when two singles and a walk filled the bases with two men out. The Tigers were ahead, 4 to 0.

Up to the plate as a pinch-hitter strode Odell Hale, Rowe's fellow townsman from El Dorado, Ark., who has been batting against Lyn since boyhood. Hale was supposed to know Rowe's pitching but Rowe appeared to know more about Hale's batting, because he struck him out. There died Cleveland's last and only real threat, Rowe pitching to only six hitters in the last two innings.

For the first four innings the game was almost a replica of yesterday's except that Rowe pitched better than did Louis (Buck) Newsom. Al Milnar, Cleveland southpaw, held Detroit to a couple of singles and a triple in this span.

The triple came in the fourth inning from the bat of Frank (Pinky) Higgins and because of it the Indians may not have Catcher Rollie Hemsley for the rest of the season. With two men out and the bases empty, Higgins lined to center. The ball was retrieved by Ben Chapman.

The relay to the plate caught Higgins but the Tiger third sacker, a former blocking halfback for the University of Texas football team, bowled Hemsley over. Rollie left the game in the next inning and was taken to a hospital, where doctors said he had a possible rib fracture.

The lower half of the Tiger batting order went to work in the next inning. Pete Fox opened with a two-bagger to left. He reached third as George Tebbetts rolled out. Rowe singled to center, scoring Fox. A surprise bunt single by Dick Bartell caught the Indians unawares and Third Baseman Ken Keltner heaved the ball into right field, Rowe reaching third and Bartell second. Rowe scored after the catch of Barney McCosky's long fly. Charley Gehringer got an infield hit but Bartell was out overrunning third.

The lower half of the Detroit lineup produced again in the sixth. With one out, Rudy York walked. He was forced by Higgins. Fox lined to center, Higgins scored and Fox went to second. Tebbetts slammed a single to short left, scoring Fox. Rowe fanned.

Pirates Finally Halt Red Win Streak At Eleven Games

S. E. CONFERENCE TEAMS DEPEND ON 100 SOPHOMORES

Youngsters Are Rated As First Stringers Or Regular Reserves

(By Associated Press)

Take it from the Southeastern Conference coaches, more than 100 sophomores are rated as either first stringers or regular reserves in the 13-school circuit this year and no less than 50 of them have a chance to make the headlines and the scoring column as backs or ends.

Georgia, counting heavily on last year's "fabulous freshmen," likely will have most newcomers in the starting lineup, but Frank Thomas at Alabama has the largest number of likely-looking sophomores in the conference. He lists 16—eight of them in the backfield. Louisiana State and Georgia have 11 each, Tulane eight, and Auburn and Vanderbilt six each.

Most eye-filling is Georgia's Frankie Sinkwich, whom Coach Wally Butts hopes to see shake loose for pay-off runs like those which made him famous as a freshman. The tentative first-string backfield also included sophomores Chuck Christian, halfback, and Red Keuper, fullback, who likely will alternate with newcomers Jim Todd, Brooker Blanton and Andy Dudish. George Poschner, whom Sinkwich brought to Georgia, looks like a regular starter at end, along with sophomore tackle Gene Ellenson. Both starting guards—Walter Ruark and Everett Horne—are sophomores. Carl Grate and Oliver Hawk, newcomer ends, also will see service.

Veteran Coach Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech has fewest first-year prospects on the varsity. Billy Carden, a 198-pound tackle, is rated a reserve, and fullback Bobby Dodd may relieve Roy Goree.

Nineteen-year-old Bill Nowling, 180-pound newcomer from St. Petersburg, Fla., is Coach Bob Neyland's nomination for starting fullback at Tennessee. Leonard Simonetti, a 240-pound freshmen tackle last year, has whittled his frame down to 220 pounds and recently has attracted Neyland's attention with savage downfield blocking. Al Hust, 200-pound sophomore end, has come along fast and likely will see action. James Swartzinger, 180-pound wingback, is expected to start some games.

Up at Lexington, Kentucky's coaches rate giant Clark Wood of Huntington, W. Va., "the best sophomore tackle prospect Kentucky ever had." Bob Herbert, another towering West Virginian, is a good line plunger and punter, with promise of action aplenty. Sophomores Allan Parr, end; Bill Black, halfback, and Phil Cutchin, halfback, are counted on by Ab Kirwan either as starters or regular reserves.

There will be no sophomores in the starting lineup at Mississippi State unless the injury jinx goes to work on Allyn McKeen's squad, but at least three newcomers will do regular relief duty. John Black, 186 pounds and the fastest man on the squad, is No. 2 wingback, while George Varnado, 178, will sub at right end and Gladney White, 198, help out at right tackle.

Alabama, with sophomores to burn, expects only two of them—quarterback Charley Deshane and right halfback Davie Brown—to start with the Crimson Tide's first string. On the regular reserve list, however, are newcomers Joe Demnanovich, center; Irby Woodall and George Hecht, guards; Clift Hansen, tackle; Tom Maxwell, Sam Sharpe, Babs Roberts and George Weeks, ends; Al Sabo and Don Salls, quarterbacks; George Gammon, Jule Papais, Russ Mosley, and Russ Craft, halfbacks.

Auburn has eight newcomers who look good, but not yet good enough to displace more experienced first-stringers. Tackle Jim McClurkin, 200-pound dynamo, guard Nick Ardillo and end Henry Monsees are most promising and may start for the Tigers later in the season. Centers Jack Ferrell and Tex Williams and halfbacks Bill Yearout, Mong Gafford, Clarence Harkins and Ty Irby are sure of much reserve duty.

With sophomores making up half his squad at Louisiana State, Coach Bernie Moore is counting heavily on untried talent for his first string. Best prospects for the starting lineup are Walter Gorinski, 190-pound fullback, and Jack Barrett, 220-pound tackle. Big, fast and quick in reaction, Gorinski is rated by observers as a coming star in the conference.

Neville To Open Class 'A' Schedule With Oak Grove

Tigers' First Home Battle Will Be Played At Brown Stadium Wednesday

Neville's Tigers, back home with a victory over Menard Memorial Eagles under their belts, will start preparing Monday for their first class "A" game to be played Wednesday night at Northeast Junior college's Brown stadium. The game will get underway at 8 p.m. It will be the Tigers' first home tilt of the year.

Coach Percy Brown reported that the Neville eleven came out of the Eagle clash in good shape and that he was well pleased with the defensive showing the boys made against the heavier Menard team.

Coach Brown moved the date of the Oak Grove contest up to Wednesday because the Indians will be using the Brown stadium on Friday night, when the game was originally scheduled.

After the battle with the Oak Grove eleven, Mangham and Rayville teams will visit Monroe for class "A" battles with Neville.

Especially bright in the last week's fray was the play of Andrew Craft, halfback, who ran wild against the Eagles, and displayed good defensive work. Jack Trimble, giant end, also showed some good football, snaring the first touchdown pass out of the hands of an Eagle defender. John Luffey, Norman Dillard, Guy Miller, and Lloyd Barham played good ball at times. Luffey and Dillard alternated at the blocking back and spinner-back positions, with both looking fine.

The Tigers' defense looked good, holding the Eagles to three first downs and letting them complete only one aerial. The Tigers tried four heaves and completed two.

One aspect that didn't look so good, however, was the scoring plays inside the 20-yard line. The Tigers messed up around eight or nine chances to score, when they had the ball in the shadow of the Menard goal. They either fumbled or were stopped.

The squad will be drilled this week on this one thing, trying to gain strength in scoring from close in. Both scores in last week's contest came from outside the Eagles' 40-yard line, one on a pass from Dillard to Trimble, and the other on a long jaunt by Craft.

Admission prices will be 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for students.

BIG PARADE TO FEATURE RODEO OPENING AT FAIR

A giant parade through the downtown areas of Monroe and West Monroe on Wednesday, October 9, will formally open the rodeo events to be held in conjunction with the Ouachita Valley Fair.

Director Ike Hamilton also announced that the Brahma calves, to be used in the championship calf roping contests, 15 vicious Brahma bulls, the animal part of the steer riding event, have been secured. The calves are from the Don Hines ranch in Orange, Tex., and the bulls from the Huntsville, Tex., penitentiary.

The horses for the bronc riding event have been rented from Bill Bogan of Beaumont, Tex., and are from one of the best herds in the West.

There will be five rodeo events held during the fair, Wednesday through Saturday nights, and the fifth on Sunday afternoon.

"There's nothin' to it," he said. "I've never had my feet hurt yet and anybody can run faster without having to drag those big heavy shoes."

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The Pirates halted an 11-game winning streak of the National League champion Cincinnati Reds today by battling to an 8-7 triumph in the 10-inning nightcap of a double header. The Reds copped the opener 8-1.

Bucky Walters handcuffed the Bucs with five hits in the initial fray to score his 21st victory against nine defeats this season.

Little Deb Garms, almost certain to claim the 1940 National League batting crown, singled in the tenth of the second game with the bases loaded to give the Pirates their third win over the Reds this year. It was Garms' fifth hit of the game.

CUBS EDGE CARDS

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Vern Olsen, young southpaw, pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 4 to 3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in 11 innings today. It was his 12th triumph of the season against nine defeats.

A crowd of 5,005 watched the Cards go out in front by two runs, then the Cubs overtake them and push to the fore in the fifth. The Cards, however, tied it up in the sixth and the teams battled on even terms until the 11th when Glenn Russell singled, stole second and scored on Al Todd's single.

BENGAL BOXERS IN SUGAR BOWL

Louisiana State University's Crack Squad Will Engage Idaho

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Two championship college boxing teams—University of Idaho and Louisiana State—will meet in an intersectional program here December 27 to open the annual Sugar Bowl Mid-Winter Sports Carnival.

The New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association, sponsors, announced today that acceptances had been received from Athletic Directors Ted Banks of Idaho and T. P. Heard of Louisiana State.

The boxing championships will usher in a week of diversified sports climaxed by the New Year's Day football classic in Tulane Stadium that has brought New Orleans national recognition with its 70,000 spectators.

The Idaho team, boasting three national champions in Ted Kara, Laune Erickson and John Webster, is the winner of the National Collegiate and Pacific Coast Conference boxing championships.

Louisiana State, Southeastern Conference champion, has won several intersectional dual meets. Last year L. S. U. defeated all conference foes and won from Wisconsin's great 1939 national champion team.

The bout will be staged in Municipal Auditorium, which has a seating capacity of 10,000.

RICHARD SIGNED AGAIN

ATLANTA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Paul Richard, manager of the Atlanta Crackers, now tied with Nashville in Southern Association playoff series, today was signed to pilot the club for another year.

It will be the fourth term for the lean Texan. The Crackers finished in second place this year, in fourth last year and won the pennant in 1938.

MOBLEY REFUSES GO WITH GORILLA

Rod Fenton Gets Match With Grubmeyer In Main Event Thursday Night

After agreeing to meet the winner of last week's main event at the Monroe wrestling arena, Rex Mobley, the world light heavyweight champion, backed out. Therefore, Gorilla Grubmeyer, who defeated Buck Davidson in the main go, will battle the tough Rod Fenton in a non-title match.

Another newcomer, Billy McEuin, a Texas cowboy, will meet Bob Corby, who made his debut before the local fans last Thursday, in the first match of the program.

Evidently Mobley figured he would get Davidson, who is older than either he or Grubmeyer, and his title would be safer than in a bout with the junior titleholder, Grubmeyer. But when Gorilla came through with a win over the Terre Haute veteran, Mobley got cold feet.

Promoter Kallio and Fenton are arguing with Grubmeyer that this match with Fenton should be for his junior belt, but so far have had no luck at convincing the Gorilla that it would gain him anything to defend his crown against the tough Canadian.

Nevertheless, a match with Grubmeyer and Fenton as the main attraction and the newcomers, Corby and McEuin, as a supporter, should prove to be an interesting card.

Corby put up a real fight in his match last week with Fenton, having the rough Rod in misery time after time with a bothering hammer lock or wrist lock. He even gave the Canadian some of his own hair pulling and eye gouging back.

It was only after Fenton had repeatedly got a choking headlock on Corby, that he won the last two falls and the match.

National Guard Call Won't Hit Football Schedules

OUACHITA PLAYS HOMER PELICANS HERE THURSDAY

Lions Open Home Season Against Strong '39 Class 'A' Champions

The Ouachita parish Lions will be[illegible] Monday afternoon for their first home game of the year with the strong Homer Pelicans Thursday at Brown Stadium. Game time is 8 p.m. The Pelicans were the class A state champions in 1939.

Coach L[illegible] "Preacher" Roberts of the Homer eleven lost only three veterans from his winning squad of last year and has 17 back in uniform.

The Lions handed the Minden Crimson Tide a shellacking last week, 16 to 0. Herbert Pace, 194-pound fullback for the Lions, did a major portion of the ground-gaining, with Clayton Brown, who got to play only one quarter because of sickness, and Cotton Hall also standing out. In the [illegible] Sam McInnis blocked a punt [illegible] safety, registered by Ouachita. [illegible] distinguished himself [illegible] was removed from the game [illegible] the second period, because of [illegible]. Both he and Brown, however, will be ready to go the first practice session Monday.

The Lion forwards put up a stiff defensive battle, the entire line playing like demons. The Minden eleven could only garner 3 first downs through their stone wall defense.

The Lions scored their two touchdowns, the first on a fake reverse, which worked for 20 yards and a score by Brown, and the other after Pace had bucked from the Lion's 30 to the Crimson Tide's 30, where a penalty upset them, and then after taking the ball again, driving from the [illegible] stripe to a touchdown. Richard Pate carried the ball over from the five.

The Tide only threatened once, the Lion forward wall holding them for four downs. A pass completion by the Crimson put the ball on the Lion's ten, where the Ouachita team held, taking the ball at the end of four plays on their own 12.

The line from one to end played jam-up ball all night, with Cummings, Doss, Edgar, McInnis, Eason, and Foreman standing out. Besides Pace, who according to Coach Avants, "looks as good as any high school fullback I have ever seen," Pate, Hewitt and Hall did great work.

WATERPROOF TIGERS HARD AT WORK FOR WINNSBORO

WATERPROOF, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Waterproof Tigers have completed three weeks of intensive training for their 1940 gridiron season. Next week they will begin the polishing up drills for their opener against Winnsboro on the Tigers field Friday night.

The Waterproof Tigers are the lightest squad in the history of the school. There is one prospect weighing more than 160 pounds.

The team will feel the loss of Robert and James Rife, Cotton Hopson and Lloyd Cason, the only veterans with more than a year of experience. Four other members of this year's squad have been lost, two by change of residence and two others by dropping out of school.

But the 19 remaining gridders are working hard and showing a fine spirit, according to the coach.

The Tiger schedule follows:

Sept. 27, Winnsboro, here; Oct. 4, open; Oct. 11, open; Oct. 18, Catholic (Natchez) here; Oct. 25, Tallulah, there; Nov. 1, Newellton, there; Nov. 8, Clarks, here; Nov. 15, open; Nov. 22, Columbia, there; Nov. 28, St. Joseph, there; Dec. 6, Delhi, there.

TULANE

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Trainer Claude "Monk" Simons said today St. John Smith, most versatile man on the Tulane squad, who had moved up from an unknown to third-string right halfback, definitely would be out of the Boston College opener next Saturday with a knee injury. Smith hurt the knee in scrimmage yesterday.

TENNESSEE

Two doctors who examined the 160-pound headliner immediately said they didn't believe he would be out of action more than a few days.

GEORGIA TECH

ATLANTA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Georgia Tech gridders suffered their fifth knee injury today when Rob Ison, All-Southeastern end last year, was tackled on an end around play and had to be helped from the field.

Trainer Claude Bond said he would probably be out for about two weeks.

GEORGIA

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Five sophomores will be in the University of Georgia starting lineup next Friday in the Bulldogs' season opener against Oglethorpe, Coach Wallace Butts announced today.

FLORIDA

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Sept. 21.—(AP)—The University of Florida reserves put on a better show than the regulars against the freshmen this afternoon, after which Coach Tom Leib dared anybody to try to pick his opening lineup for the Mississippi State game next Saturday night.

"Pick your own lineup and watch me cross you up," smiled Leib. "I may never start my best team."

Halfback Tommy Harrison and fullback Charlie Tate sparked the first team to two touchdowns against the husky freshmen. Then the reserves took over, and 200-pound Keith Ross, sophomore, and Leo Cahill, junior, led the way for four touchdowns.

Both regular and reserve combinations halted Mississippi State plays as run by the freshmen.

ALABAMA

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Three varsity teams rattled off eight touchdowns against the freshmen here today as Alabama scrimmaged.

A 40-yard sprint by Paul Spencer and a 75-yard jaunt by Jule Papais highlighted individual work. For the frosh, the Hutson twins passed to a score—Rob to Ray.

KENTUCKY

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Kentucky's "best grid team in years" opened its season today with a convincing demonstration of power that swamped Baldwin-Wallace's husky eleven, 59 to 7.

The temperature hung around 95, but had little effect as Kentucky's several good backfields raced through and around the Ohioans and its line stopped nearly all their drives.

The Wildcats made 14 first downs to the Yellow Jackets' six and gained 347 yards by rushing to the latters' meager 21.

VANDERBILT

ARCADIA DEFEATS NEWELLTON, 6-0

NEWELLTON, Sept. 21.—(Special)—Arcadia's scrapping Hornets, scoring in the final minutes of the game, ruined Newellton's opening game here Friday, 6 to 0, in the first night contest ever played in Tensas parish.

Revis Youngblood, 155 pounds of fine halfback, smashed over from the one-yard marker for the only score of the game, with only three minutes remaining to be played.

Jimmy Smith, rangy center of the Hornets, set the stage for the winning marker when he intercepted one of Charlie Watts' passes on the Bears' 29 and dashed to the Bear three before being brought down. Smith played a fine game all night and continually backed up the Hornet line in great fashion.

Newellton threatened twice, first early in the first quarter when Watts, carrying practically every play, sparked a drive to the Hornet 18. But there the drive bogged down and Arcadia kicked out to mid-field. In the third period Lanier Hart, Bear guard, picked an Arcadia pass out of the air and raced 75 yards to the Hornet 22-yard line before he fell. The Bears lost the ball on downs shortly afterwards.

Score by periods:

First downs: Arcadia 0, Newellton 6.

ONE GREEN WAVE MAN IS MEMBER; L. S. U. HAS NONE

Prep Schools In Monroe Area Not Affected By Nov. 25 Order

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—College and prep school football schedules may not be seriously interfered with by the national guard mobilizations call for November 25 where playing schedules overlap the date.

While no provision was made for exemption of football players in the call in which Mississippi and Louisiana will furnish nearly 5,000 members, military authorities said leaves might be arranged by members affected for completion of the football games.

Many of the grid schedules extend past mobilization date and a number of members of high school and prep squads in the two states belong to the national guard and may be subject to the call for a year's training.

One member of the Tulane squad is a member of the guard, while Louisiana State University has none.

Mississippi college has eight members of the national guard on its squad, five of them first stringers, but the football season there ends November 16.

Laurel High School, Mississippi Big Eight champions, would be hard hit if its seven first team and four reserves who are guardsmen had to leave before the season closes November 28.

Their last game is scheduled with Hattiesburg three days after the guard call but both teams have open dates on November 21 and the final game could be shoved up a week.

The national guard troops in the Monroe district will not be affected by the November 25 call, Major Louis Rolleigh declared. He added that his companies, in the Monroe, Ruston, Minden and Natchitoches areas were not expected to see service until after January 3.

Fourteen of the 26 members of the Louisiana College varsity squad are in the guard but the college will finish its games on November 21 ahead of the mobilization.

Louisiana college athletic officials said their athletes were eager for the year's training and that most of those to train were corporals and sergeants but some would get commissions.

Menard High School, at Alexandria, with one guardsman on the team, closes its schedule November 21.

Two high school players at Hattiesburg and three with Mississippi Southern college there will get the call. One of the college players already has obtained his release from immediate duty.

No players were affected at Shreveport, La.

HERE'S ANOTHER 'BARE' STORY ABOUT FOOTBALL

Arnott's pants slipped their moorings as he started a 32 yard run toward the New Smyrna Beach goal. With each tackler he eluded, his pants descended lower. Arnott was torn between desires to score a touchdown and hitch his moleskins. Team loyalty won and he almost lost his pants.

He struggled toward the goal with his pants at half mast about his knees, hampering him much more than enemy tacklers. By the time he reached the goal he was slowed to a hobble and the stands were roaring with laughter.

Arnott's dignity was badly dented but the crowning insult was added by the officials who annulled the play and penalized Jackson for offside.

Jackson finally won the game 67-0.

Dixie Sports Huddle

By Romney Wheeler

ATLANTA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The bull bats are back and Tennessee's coaching staff is happy once more. . . . The insect-eating creatures appeared out of the dusk and swooped low over the Volunteer's practice field. . . . so low, in fact, that practice had to be suspended. . . . But no one complained. . . . They are counted as the best of omens. . . . Assistant Coach Bill Britton recalled that bull bats came in the dusk one afternoon in 1938. . . . That was the year the experts picked Tennessee as the south's also-ran. . . . and the Vols went undefeated and untied. . . . As a choice between bull bats and practice, Britton will take the bull bats.

Dot 'n' Dashes—

Under the hat—

Tennessee's Bob Neyland is peeved because rival coaches accuse him of listing his players lighter than they are. . . . So this year he's adding a few pounds for good measure. . . . Those football rankings by a national magazine writer, commenting on Southern "professionalism," have Dixie papers sizzling. . . . Says the Birmingham News: "Some of the Big Ten schools wouldn't feel so secure if they knew the amount of evidence stacked against them in southern filing cases. They might be fooling themselves but they aren't fooling the public."

Personal mention—

Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis will tour the South for the first time since he won the crown—but not as a fighter. . . . He has signed as a song-and-dance man with a band. . . . Glenn Thistlethwaite, University of Richmond coach, wants backfield positions numbered instead of named. . . . "Nine or ten times a year," he fumes, "for 32 years, I've been giving out starting backfields composed of quarterbacks who are not quarterbacks, fullbacks who don't even play half-way back, and halfbacks who play all the way back. It's silly."

FARMERS GET 13-0 WIN FROM DUBACH

FARMERVILLE, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Farmerville Farmers opened their 1940 grid season with a 13-0 victory over the Dubach Plungers Friday afternoon.

The Farmers made 14 first downs to the Plungers' 5.

The Farmers scored first in the initial quarter with a 40-yard drive, featured by Taylor's jaunt of 20 yards. Roan carried the ball over on a buck from the one-yard stripe.

WILDCATS DEFEAT OLLA TIGERS, 24-0

WINNSBORO, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Winnsboro Wildcats opened their 1940 gridiron season with a 24 to 0 victory over the Olla-Standard Tigers Friday night.

The Wildcats tallied their first 6-pointer in the second quarter when Clauson, quarter and prospective All-Stater, scored standing up on a buck at the center of the line. Clauson also scored the fourth marker on a smash off tackle in the third period.

Coughran caught a pass from Clauson in the second quarter for the second score, and Miller bucked the line for the other touchdown in the third quarter.

TO MEN OF MILITARY AGE

With the passing of the Conscription Bill, men of ages 21 to 35 inclusive are subject to military service. While the selective method which is to be used will not affect every one of you men between these ages, it undoubtedly has made some of you hesitant about your fall clothing purchases. In the 34-year history of Sig Haas & Sons, we have often risen to meet unusual circumstances. We meet them again with a new policy, designed to eliminate any undue financial burden on those who may be drawn into military service.

A Defense Cooperation Money-Back Certificate will be issued to all men of military age on purchases, for personal use, made up to and including November 25, 1940. Suits, topcoats, overcoats, furnishings, hats and shoes may be purchased on this plan. In the event that you are conscripted and actually enter into the service on or before January 31, 1941, this certificate, with your notice of call, will entitle you to the privilege of returning your entire purchase for full credit, regardless of wear.

Our first consideration in this move has been for you young men between 21 and 35 who are subject to conscription. As one of Monroe's oldest and leading retail establishments we are proud to be first with this timely service. You may come to Sig Haas & Sons and buy your fall requirements with the utmost confidence that you will not incur a needless expenditure.

'QUESTION MARK' BENGALS DISPLAY STRENGTH IN TILT

Bulldogs Put Up Vicious Fight; Gain Steadily Through Tiger Line

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Louisiana State university's "question mark" Bengals gained strength steadily through their first test to defeat gamely scrapping Louisiana Tech tonight, 39-7.

Sophomore talent showed brightly, with soph halfback Adrian Dodson of Columbus, Miss., leading the attack. Of the 32 men L. S. U. used, 16 were in their first year on the team.

Tech's passing attack threatened repeatedly and the smaller team led at the end of the first quarter. L. S. U. scored first. Leo Bird of Shreveport, quarterback, went around right end soon after center Bill Hogan had recovered a fumble. The conversion kick was blocked.

Tech's lone score came after Robert Phillips, Clinton, Ind., guard, recovered a fumble by L. S. U. tailback Gerald Hightower on L. S. U.'s 11. Halfback James Tinsley, who sparked his team throughout, plunged and passed to James Gardner, Mansfield end, for the score.

Tinsley's kick was good.

In the second period, Hightower took the ball over the goal line, assisted by workman-like blocking by Willie Miller, sophomore guard from Minden. In the same period Dodson's 20 yard pass to Charles Johnson, end, was good for another touchdown.

On the first play after a blocked kick in the third, Dodson got loose for 35 yards and a touchdown.

Halfback Billy McKinney set up another in the fourth with a run from punt formation and galloped over after faking a pass. Hightower went off tackle for the final score after a march in the fourth.

The lineups:

OUACHITA PLAYS HOMER PELICANS HERE THURSDAY

Lions Open Home Season Against Strong '39 Class 'A' Champions

The Ouachita parish Lions will begin work Monday afternoon for their first home game of the year with the strong Homer Pelicans Thursday at Brown stadium. Game time is 8 p.m. The Pelicans were the class A state champions in 1939.

Coach Lloyd "Preacher" Roberts of the Homer eleven, lost only three veterans from his winning squad of last year, and has 17 back in uniform.

The Lions handed the Minden Crimson Tide a shellacking last week, 16 to 0. Herbert Pace, 194-pound fullback for the Lions did a major portion of the ground-gaining, with Clayton Brown, who got to play only one quarter because of sickness, and Cotton Hall also standing out. In the line, Sam McInnis, blocked a punt for the safety registered by Ouachita, and otherwise distinguished himself. He was also removed from the game during the second period, because of sickness. Both he and Brown, however, will be ready to go the first practice session Monday.

The Lions scored their two touchdowns, the first on a fake reverse, which worked for 20-yards and a score by Brown, and the other after Pace had bucked from the Lion's 30 to the Crimson Tide's 30, where a penalty upset them, and then after taking the ball again, driving from the mid-field stripe to a touchdown. Richard Pate carried the ball over from the five.

The Tide only threatened once, the Lion forward wall holding them for four downs. A pass completion by the Crimson put the ball on the Lion's ten, where the Ouachita team held, taking the ball at the end of four plays on their own 12.

The line from one to end played jam-up ball all night, with Cummings, Doss, Edgar, McInnis, Eason, and Foreman standing out. Besides Pace, who according to Coach Avants, "looks as good as any high school fullback I have ever seen," Pate, Hewitt, and Hall did great work.

WATERPROOF TIGERS HARD AT WORK FOR WINNSBORO

WATERPROOF, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Waterproof Tigers have completed three weeks of intensive training for their 1940 gridiron season. Next week they will begin the polishing up drills for their opener against Winnsboro on the Tigers field Friday night.

The Waterproof Tigers are the lightest squad in the history of the school. There is one prospect weighing more than 160 pounds.

The team will feel the loss of Robert and James Rife, Cotton Hopson and Lloyd Cason, the only veterans with more than a year of experience. Four other members of this year's squad have been lost, two by change of residence and two others by dropping out of school.

But the 19 remaining gridders are working hard and showing a fine spirit, according to the coach.

The Tiger schedule follows:

Sept. 27, Winnsboro, here; Oct. 4, open; Oct. 11, open; Oct. 18, Catholic (Natchez) here; Oct. 25, Tallulah, there; Nov. 1, Newellton, there; Nov. 8, Clarks, here; Nov. 15, open; Nov. 22, Columbia, there; Nov. 28, St. Joseph, there; Dec. 6, Delhi, there.

In Australia, more couples separate in the 24th year of marriage than in the first, according to divorce statistics.

Gridiron Briefs

TULANE

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Trainer Claude "Monk" Simons said today St. John Smith, most versatile man on the Tulane squad, who had moved up from an unknown to third-string right halfback, definitely would be out of the Boston College opener next Saturday with a knee injury. Smith hurt the knee in scrimmage yesterday.

TENNESSEE

Two doctors who examined the 160-pound headliner immediately said they didn't believe he would be out of action more than a few days.

GEORGIA TECH

ATLANTA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Georgia Tech gridders suffered their fifth knee injury today when Rob Ison, All-Southeastern end last year, was tackled on an end around play and had to be helped from the field.

Trainer Claude Bond said he would probably be out for about two weeks.

GEORGIA

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Five sophomores will be in the University of Georgia starting lineup next Friday in the Bulldogs' season opener against Oglethorpe, Coach Wallace Butts announced today.

FLORIDA

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Sept 21.—(AP)—The University of Florida reserves put on a better show than the regulars against the freshmen this afternoon, after which Coach Tom Leib dared anybody to try to pick his opening lineup for the Mississippi State game next Saturday night.

"Pick your own lineup and watch me cross you up," smiled Leib. "I may never start my best team."

Halfback Tommy Harrison and fullback Charlie Tate sparked the first team to two touchdowns against the husky freshmen. Then the reserves took over, and 200-pound Keith Ross, sophomore, and Leo Cahill, junior, led the way for four touchdowns.

Both regular and reserve combinations halted Mississippi State plays as run by the freshmen.

ALABAMA

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Three varsity teams rattled off eight touchdowns against the freshmen here today as Alabama scrimmaged.

A 40-yard sprint by Paul Spencer and a 75-yard jaunt by Jule Papais highlighted individual work. For the frosh, the Hutson twins passed to a score—Rob to Ray.

KENTUCKY

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Kentucky's "best grid team in years" opened its season today with a convincing demonstration of power that swamped Baldwin-Wallace's husky eleven, 59 to 7.

The temperature hung around 95, but had little effect as Kentucky's several good backfields raced through and around the Ohioans and its line stopped nearly all their drives.

The Wildcats made 14 first downs to the Yellow Jackets' six and gained 347 yards by rushing to the latters' meager 21.

VANDERBILT

ARCADIA DEFEATS NEWELLTON, 6-0

NEWELLTON, Sept. 21.—(Special)—Arcadia's scrapping Hornets, scoring in the final minutes of the game, ruined Newellton's opening game here Friday, 6 to 0, in the first night contest ever played in Tensas parish.

Revis Youngblood, 155 pounds of fine halfback, smashed over from the one-yard marker for the only score of the game, with only three minutes remaining to be played.

Jimmy Smith, rangy center of the Hornets, set the stage for the winning marker when he intercepted one of Charlie Watts' passes on the Bears' 29 and dashed to the Bear three before being brought down. Smith played a fine game all night and continually backed up the Hornet line in great fashion.

Newellton threatened twice, first early in the first quarter when Watts, carrying practically every play, sparked a drive to the Hornet 18. But there the drive bogged down and Arcadia kicked out to mid-field. In the third period Lanier Hart, Bear guard, picked an Arcadia pass out of the air and raced 75 yards to the Hornet 22-yard line before he fell. The Bears lost the ball on downs shortly afterwards.

Score by periods:

ONE GREEN WAVE MAN IS MEMBER; L. S. U. HAS NONE

Prep Schools In Monroe Area Not Affected By Nov. 25 Order

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—College and prep school football schedules may not be seriously interfered with by the national guard mobilizations call for November 25 where playing schedules overlap the date.

While no provision was made for exemption of football players in the call in which Mississippi and Louisiana will furnish nearly 5,000 members, military authorities said leaves might be arranged by members affected for completion of the football games.

Many of the grid schedules extend past mobilization date and a number of members of high school and prep squads in the two states belong to the national guard and may be subject to the call for a year's training.

One member of the Tulane squad is a member of the guard, while Louisiana State University has none.

Mississippi college has eight members of the national guard on its squad, five of them first stringers, but the football season there ends November 16.

Laurel High School, Mississippi Big Eight champions, would be hard hit if its seven first team and four reserves who are guardsmen had to leave before the season closes November 28.

Their last game is scheduled with Hattiesburg three days after the guard call but both teams have open dates on November 21 and the final game could be shoved up a week.

The national guard troops in the Monroe district will not be affected by the November 25 call, Major Louis Rolleigh declared. He added that his companies, in the Monroe, Ruston, Minden and Natchitoches areas were not expected to see service until after January 3.

Fourteen of the 26 members of the Louisiana College varsity squad are in the guard but the college will finish its games on November 21 ahead of the mobilization.

Louisiana college athletic officials said their athletes were eager for the year's training and that most of those to train were corporals and sergeants but some would get commissions.

Menard High School, at Alexandria, with one guardsman on the team, closes its schedule November 21.

Two high school players at Hattiesburg and three with Mississippi Southern college there will get the call. One of the college players already has obtained his release from immediate duty.

No players were affected at Shreveport, La.

HERE'S ANOTHER 'BARE' STORY ABOUT FOOTBALL

Arnott's pants slipped their moorings as he started a 32 yard run toward the New Smyrna Beach goal. With each tackler he eluded, his pants descended lower. Arnott was torn between desires to score a touchdown and hitch his moleskins. Team loyalty won and he almost lost his pants.

He struggled toward the goal with his pants at half mast about his knees, hampering him much more than enemy tacklers. By the time he reached the goal he was slowed to a hobble and the stands were roaring with laughter.

Arnott's dignity was badly dented but the crowning insult was added by the officials who annulled the play and penalized Jackson for offside.

Jackson finally won the game 67-0.

Dixie Sports Huddle

By Romney Wheeler

ATLANTA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The bull bats are back and Tennessee's coaching staff is happy once more. . . . The insect-eating creatures appeared out of the dusk and swooped low over the Volunteer's practice field. . . . so low, in fact, that practice had to be suspended. . . . But no one complained. . . . They are counted as the best of omens. . . . Assistant Coach Bill Britton recalled that bull bats came in the dusk one afternoon in 1938. . . . That was the year the experts picked Tennessee as the south's also-ran. . . . and the Vols went undefeated and untied. . . . As a choice between bull bats and practice, Britton will take the bull bats.

Dot 'n' Dashes—

Under the hat—

Tennessee's Bob Neyland is peeved because rival coaches accuse him of listing his players lighter than they are. . . . So this year he's adding a few pounds for good measure. . . . Those football rankings by a national magazine writer, commenting on Southern "professionalism," have Dixie papers sizzling. . . . Says the Birmingham News: "Some of the Big Ten schools wouldn't feel so secure if they knew the amount of evidence stacked against them in southern filing cases. They might be fooling themselves but they aren't fooling the public."

Personal mention—

Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis will tour the South for the first time since he won the crown—but not as a fighter. . . . He has signed as a song-and-dance man with a band. . . . Glenn Thistlethwaite, University of Richmond coach, wants backfield positions numbered instead of named. . . . "Nine or ten times a year," he fumes, "for 32 years, I've been giving out starting backfields composed of quarterbacks who are not quarterbacks, fullbacks who don't even play half-way back, and halfbacks who play all the way back. It's silly."

FARMERS GET 13-0 WIN FROM DUBACH

FARMERVILLE, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Farmerville Farmers opened their 1940 grid season with a 13-0 victory over the Dubach Plungers Friday afternoon.

The Farmers made 14 first downs to the Plungers' 5.

The Farmers scored first in the initial quarter with a 40-yard drive, featured by Taylor's jaunt of 20 yards. Roan carried the ball over on a buck from the one-yard stripe.

WILDCATS DEFEAT OLLA TIGERS, 24-0

WINNSBORO, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Winnsboro Wildcats opened their 1940 gridiron season with a 24 to 0 victory over the Olla-Standard Tigers Friday night.

The Wildcats tallied their first 6-pointer in the second quarter when Clauson, quarter and prospective All-Stater, scored standing up on a buck at the center of the line. Clauson also scored the fourth marker on a smash off tackle in the third period.

Coughran caught a pass from Clauson in the second quarter for the second score, and Miller bucked the line for the other touchdown in the third quarter.

With the passing of the Conscription Bill, men of ages 21 to 35 inclusive are subject to military service. While the selective method which is to be used will not affect every one of you men between these ages, it undoubtedly has made some of you hesitant about your fall clothing purchases. In the 34-year history of Sig Haas & Sons, we have often risen to meet unusual circumstances. We meet them again with a new policy, designed to eliminate any undue financial burden on those who may be drawn into military service.

A Defense Cooperation Money-Back Certificate will be issued to all men of military age on purchases, for personal use, made up to and including November 25, 1940. Suits, topcoats, overcoats, furnishings, hats and shoes may be purchased on this plan. In the event that you are conscripted and actually enter into the service on or before January 31, 1941, this certificate, with your notice of call, will entitle you to the privilege of returning your entire purchase for full credit, regardless of wear.

Our first consideration in this move has been for you young men between 21 and 35 who are subject to conscription. As one of Monroe's oldest and leading retail establishments we are proud to be first with this timely service. You may come to Sig Haas & Sons and buy your fall requirements with the utmost confidence that you will not incur a needless expenditure.

JUNIOR COLLEGE PLAYS KILGORE FRIDAY NIGHT

New Athletic Commissioner Opens Tour Of Schools

INDIANS WILL TRY TO SNAP TEXANS' WIN STREAK AT 19

Rangers Last Beaten By Redskins In Contest In '37 By 46-6 Score

Coming out of their first clash of the season with the Copiah-Lincoln Wolves in good shape, the Northeast Junior college Indians will get down to hard work Monday preparing for their tilt with the Kilgore, Tex., Junior college Rangers.

Coaches Jim Malone and Ernie Seago were well pleased with the play of the boys in the Wolves-Indian game, considering that it was the first battle of the year. Especially bright was the offensive play of the second string line, and "Dixie" Howell, right guard, and Ralph Taylor, left end, on the first string line.

All the Indians came out of the fray in good condition with the exception of Gerald White, second string spin-back, who received a bad leg injury. He will be out of the practice session for several days. White was just recovering from a face injury.

Coach Malone indicated that he would send the boys through a light scrimmage Tuesday afternoon, saying the boys needed to improve their form considerably to be able to give the Kilgore Rangers a hard battle.

The Kilgore eleven hasn't been defeated in its last nineteen starts, the last victory coming Thursday night over the Daniel Baker Hill Billies, a four year college of Brownwood, Tex., 12 to 0. They met defeat last at the hands of the Indians in '37, 46-6.

The Rangers, coached by Clyde Lee and Jimmy Parks, run their plays from both single and double wing, and short punt formations. Coach Malone said that his eleven would have to be drilled in defense for each of these formations.

Starring for the Rangers in the Hill Billy battle were Tom Ed Cosper, no kin to the Indians' wingman, a 195-pound, 6-foot back, Leonard Hardy, 196-pound wingback, Captain Gene Hale, 212-pound tackle, and Herschel Curtis, the other tackle.

The Indians, on the other hand, will not have the strain of a long winning streak to uphold, but will have the added incentive to break the Ranger streak.

Coach Malone announced that he would give the Indians a long signal drill Monday and the scrimmage Tuesday, with the two remaining days being spent in putting the finishing touches on the offense and defense.

EUDORA SMASHES OAK GROVE, 24-0

EUDORA, Ark., Sept. 21.—(Special)—Coach Jack Mays' Oak Grove Tigers lost their second game of the season to the Eudora eleven Friday, 25 to 0.

Eudora scored early in the first quarter and again in the latter part of the period. They tallied another in the second and third periods each. The Tigers tightened in the fourth quarter, however, and held the Eudora team scoreless.

Despite the fact that the Eudora team outweighed the Tigers 165 to 145 pounds average, the Tigers drove repeatedly to the Eudora goal line, but lacked the necessary scoring punch.

During the half, the Eudora band, led by their all-girl drum and bugle corps, paraded through the field, their green and silver uniforms and caps adding a carnival air to the game.

The lineups were:

Oak Grove	Pos.	Eudora
O'Neal	LE	Ashley
Tullos	LT	Meek
Philley	LG	Reid
Lester	C	Mize
Simms	RG	Hutson
Huff	RT	Hill
Redd	RE	Serios
Holiman	QB	Williams
H. O'Neal	LH	Morrar
Borden	RH	Ashley
Womach	FB	Ables

Summary: First downs: Oak Grove 6, Eudora 7. Passes completed: Oak Grove 18, Eudroa 16. Passes incompleted: Oak Grove 7, Eudora 7. Passes intercepted: Oak Grove 4, Eudora 2.

Oak Grove's next contest will be with the Neville Tigers of Monroe, there.

CONNER TO VISIT LOUISIANA STATE, GREEN WAVE NEXT

Mike Sennett Conner Drops In On Ole Miss For Friendly Talk

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Mike Sennett Conner, new athletic commissioner for the Southeastern Conference, opened his tour of the 13 schools today with a visit at Ole Miss, his alma mater of 30 years ago, in his role as "referee" in athletic practices.

The visits, said the former governor of Mississippi, were simply the start of his regime, and in the nature of a "get acquainted" tour. He will drop in on Louisiana State and Tulane next week and follow up with trips to Vanderbilt, Sewanee and Tennessee.

His meeting yesterday in Memphis with conference officials was called to properly interpret and construe the rules of the conference. "Soon all member institutions will be advised of those interpretations for their information and guidance," he said.

Commissioner Conner sees in the present program "a real opportunity for constructive service to the young men of this conference."

"I have been especially impressed," he said, "with the sincerity and frankness of all athletic authorities of the conference. Everyone seems very anxious to observe the rules and play the game fairly."

The commissioner was pointed in remarking, "We have no problems in the Southeastern Conference that aren't present in other conferences. I feel it is a distinction to frankly admit we recognize the virtue of an athletic scholarship."

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Armed with broad powers to investigate and punish violators of Southeastern Conference regulations, Athletic Commissioner Mike Conner prefers to think of himself as a "referee" rather than a "czar" of the crack 13-school league.

The Southeastern's executive committee yesterday invested Conner with sweeping authority to act on all accusations impugning the athletic policies of member schools and to determine the punishment—which may be a heavy fine or a recommendation of suspension or expulsion from the league—for violations of conference rules. Penalized members may appeal his decisions to the executive committee within five days after their announcement.

"My appointment is an effort to guard more carefully the fine spirit of amateur competition and establish more cordial relations between schools within and without the conference," said Conner, now a Jackson, Miss., attorney, in an interview.

The Southeastern Conference has long been the target for charges of proselyting and subsidization of athletes. It openly permits the awarding of athletic scholarships and provides that an athlete may hold a job paying not more than $10 a month while attending school.

Charges against the conference, which last year sent three of its members into post-season "bowl" games, are "exaggerated" and "not peculiar" to the Southeastern, Conner asserted.

He said he was convinced "everybody wants to see the rules and policies of the conference faithfully observed to the end that competition may be fair and clean. It's my job to see that they are."

GIANTS WIN!

BOSTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—For the first time since September 9 the Giants won a ball game today.

Their 3-1 victory over the Boston Bees put to an end the longest losing streak of the National league season—11 straight games.

Harry Gumbert had a three-hit shutout until the ninth when Preibisch walked, took second on an infield out and scored on West's double.

DETROIT BLANKS CLEVELAND, 5-0

[illegible] and Greenberg's [illegible].

In the series final tomorrow Tommy Bridges, the frail veteran, is due to pitch for Detroit. Bobby Feller was originally scheduled for the assignment for Cleveland but there was some doubt tonight as to whether he would pitch.

After tomorrow's game the Tigers take a day off and then play the Chicago White Sox a pair of games. Cleveland will be playing the St. Louis Browns at the same time.

The Tigers and Indians end the season with a three-game series opening at Cleveland next Friday.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer)

Spain's adherance to the Berlin-Rome axis—perhaps in a passive role—is widely believed to have been one result of the axis conference just concluded in Rome.

The purpose of such an arrangement would be to give more leverage from which to pry the British empire loose from its foundations. John Bull's strength of resistance and counter-attack is causing furrows in the brows of his enemies.

This is a move which I should say Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini would have preferred to avoid—the admission of a third partner to the anticipated profits of the firm. Still, observers generally have been expecting it as a logical development of this very critical moment in the European war.

The ultimate outcome of this war is to my mind going to be determined in the very near future. The conflict may drag on indefinitely, but we always shall be pretty sure who the winner will be.

The axis conference was the outgrowth of this crisis. Hitler and Mussolini had two grave issues to consider:

1. The inability of Germany to crush England quickly as Hitler had planned.

2. Mussolini's need of assistance in his champaign to try to break the British control of the Mediterranean.

And the solution of both these vital problems hinges on the finding of some way to break the British control of the seven seas and that terrific naval blockade which is ever tightening about the Nazi-Fascist allies.

Spain enters into the picture because of its vast strategic importance as an instrument with which to attack the British naval domination. You don't even have to glance at your maps to recall that the geographical position of Spain and its Moroccan possession just across the narrow Strait of Gibraltar would make it the natural guardian of the western entrance to the Mediterranean but for one thing—Britain's possession of the fortress of Gibraltar and the naval base up against the big rock.

Hitler and Mussolini figure that if they can blast England out of Gibraltar and establish their own bases on the strait, they will have gone far towards wrecking Britain's control and so cutting her main imperial artery. Such an operation, however, would involve the cooperation of Spain, at least to the extent of granting the axis powers the privilege of operating from Spanish soil.

But Spanish Generalissimo Franco isn't casting his lot with the axis for nothing. If his cooperation was indeed determined upon at the conference, then we have a right to assume that the parley also fixed the price—probably an extension of Spain's African possessions and the return of Gibraltar.

The conference also most certainly considered further assistance for Mussolini from Hitler in the battle of the Mediterranean. One thing which would be bound to come up in such a discussion would be the feasibility and usefulness of a German drive down through the Balkans and on into Syria with the idea of attacking Britain from two sides at once.

However, while such a move would seem to be a possibility, it undoubtedly is one which Hitler wouldn't undertake hastily. Although it holds out alluring advantages it also presents two grave dangers: It would put Hitler in the uncomfortable position of having to wage war on both the western and eastern fronts at the same time. And it very easily might bring about a clash with Russia.

JUNIOR COLLEGE PLAYS KILGORE FRIDAY NIGHT

Rangers Last Beaten By Redskins In Contest In '37 By 46-6 Score

Coming out of their first clash of the season with the Copiah-Lincoln Wolves in good shape, the Northeast Junior college Indians will get down to hard work Monday preparing for their tilt with the Kilgore, Tex., Junior college Rangers.

Coaches Jim Malone and Ernie Seago were well pleased with the play of the boys in the Wolves-Indian game, considering that it was the first battle of the year. Especially bright was the offensive play of the second string line, and "Dixie" Howell, right guard, and Ralph Taylor, left end, on the first string line.

All the Indians came out of the fray in good condition with the exception of Gerald White, second string spin-back, who received a bad leg injury. He will be out of the practice session for several days. White was just recovering from a face injury.

Coach Malone indicated that he would send the boys through a light scrimmage Tuesday afternoon, saying the boys needed to improve their form considerably to be able to give the Kilgore Rangers a hard battle.

The Kilgore eleven hasn't been defeated in its last nineteen starts, the last victory coming Thursday night over the Daniel Baker Hill Billies, a four year college of Brownwood, Tex., 12 to 0. They met defeat last at the hands of the Indians in '37, 46-6.

The Rangers, coached by Clyde Lee and Jimmy Parks, run their plays from both single and double wing, and short punt formations. Coach Malone said that his eleven would have to be drilled in defense for each of these formations.

Starring for the Rangers in the Hill Billy battle were Tom Ed Cosper, no kin to the Indians' wingman, a 195-pound, 6-foot back, Leonard Hardy, 196-pound wingback, Captain Gene Hale, 212-pound tackle, and Herschel Curtis, the other tackle.

The Indians, on the other hand, will not have the strain of a long winning streak to uphold, but will have the added incentive to break the Ranger streak.

Coach Malone announced that he would give the Indians a long signal drill Monday and the scrimmage Tuesday, with the two remaining days being spent in putting the finishing touches on the offense and defense.

EUDORA SMASHES OAK GROVE, 24-0

EUDORA, Ark., Sept. 21.—(Special)—Coach Jack Mays' Oak Grove Tigers lost their second game of the season to the Eudora eleven Friday, 25 to 0.

Eudora scored early in the first quarter and again in the latter part of the period. They tallied another in the second and third periods each. The Tigers tightened in the fourth quarter, however, and held the Eudora team scoreless.

Despite the fact that the Eudora team outweighed the Tigers 165 to 145 pounds average, the Tigers drove repeatedly to the Eudora goal line, but lacked the necessary scoring punch.

During the half, the Eudora band, led by their all-girl drum and bugle corps, paraded through the field, their green and silver uniforms and caps adding a carnival air to the game.

The lineups were:

Oak Grove	Pos.	Eudora
O'Neal	LE	Ashley
Tullos	LT	Meek
Philley	LG	Reid
Lester	C	Mize
Simms	RG	Hutson
Huff	RT	Hill
Redd	RE	Serios
Holiman	QB	Williams
H. O'Neal	LH	Morrar
Borden	RH	Ashley
Womach	FB	Ables

Summary: First downs: Oak Grove 6, Eudora 7. Passes completed: Oak Grove 18, Eudroa 16. Passes incompleted: Oak Grove 7, Eudora 7. Passes intercepted: Oak Grove 4, Eudora 2.

Oak Grove's next contest will be with the Neville Tigers of Monroe, there.

New Athletic Commissioner Opens Tour Of Schools

CONNER TO VISIT LOUISIANA STATE, GREEN WAVE NEXT

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Mike Sennett Conner, new athletic commissioner for the Southeastern Conference, opened his tour of the 13 schools today with a visit at Ole Miss, his alma mater of 30 years ago, in his role as "referee" in athletic practices.

The visits, said the former governor of Mississippi, were simply the start of his regime, and in the nature of a "get acquainted" tour. He will drop in on Louisiana State and Tulane next week and follow up with trips to Vanderbilt, Sewanee and Tennessee.

His meeting yesterday in Memphis with conference officials was called to properly interpret and construe the rules of the conference. "Soon all member institutions will be advised of those interpretations for their information and guidance," he said.

Commissioner Conner sees in the present program "a real opportunity for constructive service to the young men of this conference."

"I have been especially impressed," he said, "with the sincerity and frankness of all athletic authorities of the conference. Everyone seems very anxious to observe the rules and play the game fairly."

The commissioner was pointed in remarking, "We have no problems in the Southeastern Conference that aren't present in other conferences. I feel it is a distinction to frankly admit we recognize the virtue of an athletic scholarship."

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Armed with broad powers to investigate and punish violators of Southeastern Conference regulations, Athletic Commissioner Mike Conner prefers to think of himself as a "referee" rather than a "czar" of the crack 13-school league.

The Southeastern's executive committee yesterday invested Conner with sweeping authority to act on all accusations impugning the athletic policies of member schools and to determine the punishment—which may be a heavy fine or a recommendation of suspension or expulsion from the league—for violations of conference rules. Penalized members may appeal his decisions to the executive committee within five days after their announcement.

"My appointment is an effort to guard more carefully the fine spirit of amateur competition and establish more cordial relations between schools within and without the conference," said Conner, now a Jackson, Miss., attorney, in an interview.

The Southeastern Conference has long been the target for charges of proselyting and subsidization of athletes. It openly permits the awarding of athletic scholarships and provides that an athlete may hold a job paying not more than $10 a month while attending school.

Charges against the conference, which last year sent three of its members into post-season "bowl" games, are "exaggerated" and "not peculiar" to the Southeastern, Conner asserted.

He said he was convinced "everybody wants to see the rules and polices of the conference faithfully observed to the end that competition may be fair and clean. It's my job to see that they are."

ONLY TROUBLE IS—HOW CAN YOU TELL 'EM APART?

FORT MYERS, Fla., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Twin brothers Tom and Ed Kelly are first-string guards on the Fort Myers high school football team this year.

If they need substitutes, Brothers Solomon and Buddy Hawkins fill in. And the third-stringer is Allen Kelly, brother of the twins.

GIANTS WIN!

BOSTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—For the first time since September 9 the Giants won a ball game today.

Their 3-1 victory over the Boston Bees put to an end the longest losing streak of the National league season—11 straight games.

Harry Gumbert had a three-hit shutout until the ninth when Priebisch walked, took second on an infield out and scored on West's double.

inger and Greenberg's single to center.

In the series final tomorow Tommy Bridges, the frail veteran, is due to pitch for Detroit. Bobby Feller was originally scheduled for the assignment for Cleveland but there was some doubt tonight as to whether he would pitch.

After tomorow's game, the Tigers take a day off and then play the Chicago White Sox a pair of games. Cleveland will be playing the St. Louis Browns at the same time.

The Tigers and Indians end the season with a three-game series opening at Cleveland next Friday.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(AP)—There'll be $50,000 worth of coaching talent in the Knute Rockne film — Howard Jones, Pop Warner, A. A. Stagg, Elmer Layden, Bill Spaulding and Marty Brill. . . . Babe Ruth has turned down a $5,000 offer to play Santa Claus for a New York department store this Christmas. . . . Who started that rumor that Tom Stidham is getting through at Oklahoma? Tom wants to ask the guy where he's going. . . . G. O. P. chiefs were all set to put Artie McGovern on the Willkie campaign train to keep the candidate fit. Willkie nixed the idea—said he's never taken exercises and doesn't intend to start now. . . . And that was that.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Bob Stedler, Buffalo Evening News: "If Steve O'Neill does not manage Buffalo next season, it is likely he will have the Jersey City job in spite of the fact that it is a Giant farm club. . . . After all, Mayor Frank Hague is the boss there."

Tommy Farr is due any clipper now. . . . Frank Howard is having a time replacing Banks McFadden at Clemson. Howard has a guy who can kick and pass, another who can run and kick and a third who can run and pass but there ain't anybody in sight who can run, kick and pass. Oi, oi. . . . About the only wrestling coach who didn't apply for Ed Gallagher's old job at Oklahoma A. and M. was Art Griffith, who got the job. Seems Gallagher left word he hoped Griffith would be called in to pick up where he left off. . . . Interest in the American League race is so widespread, the scoreboard at Ebbets Field has no room for National League news these days.

LONG QUEST ENDS

Thirty years ago an Illinois blacksmith forged a pair of horseshoes with an iron four leaf clover in the center of each. . . . One he sent to big Ed Walsh, the old Sox pitching star. . . . The other he put away until he found someone he deemed worthy of it. . . . Now it hangs over the locker of Ted Lyons.

If the Tigers fail to get into the World's Series, Buck Newsom can pick up $3.500 by pitching exhibitions on the coast. . . . Here's a guy to watch: Although only 29, Eddie Leishman has won two pennants in two years as manager of the Spokane (Wash.) Club. . . . Stoney McLinn, the old sports writer, is doing a slick job of broadcasting the Philadelphia home games. . . . The New York Football Writers' Association is working on Cornell to enlarge the press box accommodations which can't take care of the crowds now that Cornell is big time again. . . . Washington may give Boots Poffenberger another chance in the majors.

TURF LUCK

Hirsch Jacobs, the turf's leading trainer for the last seven years, is getting his lumps at Aqueduct. . . . On the other side of the picture is C. S. Howard, owner of Seabiscuit. . . . He paid $7,050 for five yearlings at Saratoga last year and already one of them—Porter's Cap—has won $33,000.

MAY THE BEST TEAM, ETC.

Two teams in a Minnesota rural league are having the very devil of a time deciding the season's honors. . . . For the last two Sundays, Glenwood and Villard have played extra inning tie games. . . . They will go at it again tomorrow.

MISSISSIPPI STATE

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Wingback Collins Sohner turned in the fanciest performance in the Mississippi State College camp today by catching two touchdown passes in scrimmage from Billy Jefferson. Sonny Elrod, end, also was outstanding.

100 SOPHOMORES TO SEE ACTION

Harry Mehre, whose Mississippi Rebels are rated one of the most potent teams in the conference, expects no less than five sophomores to hold down varsity positions. These are center Dan Wood, right guard Phil Frye and right end Frank Thorsey in the forward wall, plus quarterback Pep Bennett and right halfback Ray Terreell in the ball-toting department. End Art Goodwin and tackle Bob Bernocchi are regular reserves, along with Jackie (Flea Flicker) Flack, fast-stepping left halfback.

Down Florida way, Experimenter Tom Leib is shifting his lineup from day-to-day as he installs the Notre Dame brand of football. Fondren Mitchell, 178-pound halfback, appears the only starting sophomore and that's because Bill Gowan, regular right half, is recuperating from a knee injury. Mitchell and Keith Ross, a 200-pounder, are likely to see plenty of reserve action in the backfield, along with Bill Corry, 200-pound fullback, and Bill Latsko, 185-pound quarterback. Leroy Godwin, 189, may break into the regular lineup at guard.

Around Nashville, Vanderbilt railbirds are talking about sophomores Jack Jenkins, 205-pound blocking back from Texarkana, Tex., and wingback Binks Bushmaier, 164-pounder from Van Buren, Ark. Both are running as regulars on the varsity, and Coach Red Sanders calls Jenkins "one of the best looking sophomore prospects I ever saw." He started as guard this year, but was shifted to blocking back when Bill Kammerer failed to return to school. Arthur Rebrovich, 175, of Chisholm, Minn., alternates with Bushmaier, while promising sophomore Linemen include center Fred Holder of Paris, Tenn., guard Jimmy Fleming of Memphis, and end Sonny Baird of Pineville, Ky.

Sewanee's 33-man squad is nearly half sophomores, and Coach Jenks Gillem expects all of them to play more or less regularly as reserves. Best of the newcomers are Frank Walker, whom Gillem describes as "really a good pass-receiver;" Gant Boswell, a tackle, and Woody Dunn, 185-pound fullback.

GUS DORAZIO SIGNS UP FOR MATCH WITH GODOY

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Promoter Herman Taylor announced today that Arturo Godoy, veteran of two meetings with Heavyweight Campion Joe Louis, would take on Philadelphia's Gus Dorazio here October 7.

Dorazio hasn't been beaten since July, 1939, when Bill Conn stopped him with a technical kayo.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer)

Spain's adherance to the Berlin-Rome axis—perhaps in a passive role—is widely believed to have been one result of the axis conference just concluded in Rome.

The purpose of such an arrangement would be to give more leverage from which to pry the British empire loose from its foundations. John Bull's strength of resistance and counter-attack is causing furrows in the brows of his enemies.

This is a move which I should say Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini would have preferred to avoid—the admission of a third partner to the anticipated profits of the firm. Still, observers generally have been expecting it as a logical development of this very critical moment in the European war.

The ultimate outcome of this war is to my mind going to be determined in the very near future. The conflict may drag on indefinitely, but we always shall be pretty sure who the winner will be.

The axis conference was the outgrowth of this crisis. Hitler and Mussolini had two grave issues to consider:

1. The inability of Germany to crush England quickly as Hitler had planned.

2. Mussolini's need of assistance in his champaign to try to break the British control of the Mediterranean.

And the solution of both these vital problems hinges on the finding of some way to break the British control of the seven seas and that terrific naval blockade which is ever tightening about the Nazi-Fascist allies.

Spain enters into the picture because of its vast strategic importance as an instrument with which to attack the British naval domination. You don't even have to glance at your maps to recall that the geographical position of Spain and its Moroccan possession just across the narrow Strait of Gibraltar would make it the natural guardian of the western entrance to the Mediterranean but for one thing—Britain's possession of the fortress of Gibraltar and the naval base up against the big rock.

Hitler and Mussolini figure that if they can blast England out of Gibraltar and establish their own bases on the strait, they will have gone far towards wrecking Britain's control and so cutting her main imperial artery. Such an operation, however, would involve the cooperation of Spain, at least to the extent of granting the axis powers the privilege of operating from Spanish soil.

But Spanish Generalissimo Franco isn't casting his lot with the axis for nothing. If his cooperation was indeed determined upon at the conference, then we have a right to assume that the parley also fixed the price—probably an extension of Spain's African possessions and the return of Gibraltar.

The conference also most certainly considered further assistance for Mussolini from Hitler in the battle of the Mediterranean. One thing which would be bound to come up in such a discussion would be the feasibility and usefulness of a German drive down through the Balkans and on into Syria with the idea of attacking Britain from two sides at once.

However, while such a move would seem to be a possibility, it undoubtedly is one which Hitler wouldn't undertake hastily. Although it holds out alluring advantages it also presents two grave dangers: It would put Hitler in the uncomfortable position of having to wage war on both the western and eastern fronts at the same time. And it very easily might bring about a clash with Russia.

DIXIE SERIES SET NEXT WEDNESDAY

ATLANTA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The Dixie series, between playoff winners of the Southern association and the Texas league, will open Wednesday in the park of the southern representative, association headquarters announced today.

The Atlanta Crackers and Nashville's first-place finishers are tied at two victories each in the Southern Shaughnessy series. Houston captured the Texas playoff.

Jimmy Sanders, secretary of the Southern association, said the first two games of the Dixie series would be played in Atlanta or Nashville Wednesday and Thursday, to be followed by an off day Friday. The scene will shift to Houston for three games Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The series will be resumed in the Southern association city Wednesday, after Tuesday's idleness, if further contests are needed to decide the four-out-of-seven series.

Harry Johnson and Robert Kober were named the southern umpires to work the series. Rollie Naylor and Art Passarella are the Texas umpires.

GRID OFFICIALS TO FORM ASSOCIATION AT MEETING

North Louisiana football officials will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Frances Hotel to hear a discussion of the grid rules by Dr. William L. Bendel and to form a football officials' association.

The purpose of this meeting and the forming of the association is to bring about more efficient work by the officials of the games and to get better acquainted with the new rules. Freshman Coach Woodrow Turner, Ouachita Parish High School, will be chairman of the meeting.

Anyone who intends to work football games in this section is invited to attend the meeting.

HARDIN-SIMMONS BEATS CENTENARY

Field Goal In Last Three Minutes Puts Cowboys Ahead, 15-13

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 21.—(AP)—A field goal kicked from a difficult angle in the last three minutes of play by Murray Evans, center, gave the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys a victory over the Centenary college Gentlemen here tonight before approximately 6,000 fans in the first game of the season for the local collegians. The score was 15 to 13.

The Cowboys put over the winning boot after the Gentlemen had recovered from an early setback that saw the visitors score through the air late in the first quarter and early in the second. In waging their uphill battle, the local collegians bombed the Cowboys for a touchdown just before the half period was reached and repeated the performance mid-way in the third period. Two interference penalties inflicted on Hardin-Simmons aided the Gents' last touchdown. The final penalty put the ball on the Cowboys' one-yard line.

The Gents showed a stubborn defense in maintaining their 13 to 12 margin up until the last three minutes. A few minutes before Evans dropped back to kick his field goal, the Gents held the visitors for downs on the 15-yard line. Although Mayo Faith did some nice punting for the home crew, they were never able to drive Hardin-Simmons back beyond mid-field. Owen Goodnight and L. B. Russell combined a 36 yard pass to make the setup for Evans' kick.

Last season Evans, a substitute center, kicked the point that gave the Cowboys a 7 to 6 win over the Gents. Earlier in the game tonight, he missed two kicks from placement in trys for points.

He said he had no idea how the kidnaper would make contact with the family, whether by telephone, telegram or letter, but he speculated that a friend, possibly in San Francisco, might be used as an intermediary.

F. B. I. PROCEDURE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—(AP)—The kidnaper, or kidnapers, of three-year-old Marc de Tristan took a 93 to 1 chance of ending up in prison or worse.

Since passage of the "Lindbergh" law in 1933, the federal bureau of investigation has investigated 187 kidnapings and solved 185. The unsolved cases are those of Charles Mattson, 10, kidnaped at Tacoma, Wash., December 27, 1936, and Peter Levine, 12, New Rochelle, N. Y., seized February 24, 1938. Both boys were slain.

The FBI declined to comment immediately on reports of the De Tristan kidnaping, but there was no doubt that the G-men were watching developments closely if they were not already actively in the search for the man who grabbed the child after threatening his nurse with a gun.

If the usual pattern in a kidnaping case was followed, however, immediately upon being informed of the crime, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, referred to a large map facing his desk. It shows the location of every FBI agent, and Hoover knows each one personally.

He would note quickly the ablest men who were near the scene and order them into action. In a matter of minutes, the FBI machine would be in full swing. Dozens of the world's most thoroughly trained investigators would be going over every inch of ground and ever article, questioning requestioning every person involved in the case.

At Washington headquarters, specialists would have begun searching files for names and faces, studying reports from the scene for a familiar note in conversations and actions. And soon afterward, scientists would be processing articles in the laboratory, while experts thumbed through fingerprint records.

All of which adds up to this:

In the 185 solved kidnapings, the G-men have gained 367 convictions in which the courts have imposed 12 death sentences; 42 life sentences; 3,952 years in prison; 72 years suspended; 108 years probation, and $34,270 in fines. Only 24 federal kidnap defendants have been acquitted.

FUNDS FOR DRAFT GET HOUSE OKAY

propriation, the National Economy League demanded in a statement that Congress give the closest scrutiny to the request for funds for the draft.

"According to previous estimates of the war department, only about one-half of this sum is required for compulsory military training in the present year," Ernest Angell, league chairman, said. "The army and navy, with power over more billions than can be intelligently spent in the fiscal year, have seized upon the need for a fourth defense appropriation bill to insert lump sum items which were neither mentioned nor apparently even contemplated a few weeks ago."

President Roosevelt's requests included $40,000,000 for the National Youth Administration and $57,334,000 for the navy as well as some other items not connected with the draft program.

Details of the items approved by the House appropriations subcommittee will not be made public until the measure is reported to the House.

The economy league said, however, that $24,825,108 was asked for administration of the Selective Service Act in the nine months remaining of this fiscal year whereas only $13,990,809 was spent for this purpose in the first 13 months of the World War.

In addition to the big defense appropriation, the House subcommittee approved a $150,000,000 appropriations measure which includes some defense money such as funds for the communications commission to check on foreign radio broadcasts and for the geological survey to keep tab on supplies of strategic materials. The House plans to consider this bill Monday.

History Of Kidnapings

By Associated Press

The Lindbergh law, which made kidnaping a capital offense, resulted from the abduction and slaying of the infant son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh from their Hopewell, N. J., home on March 1, 1932. Bruno Richard Hauptmann was executed for the crime. Major kidnap cases which have occupied federal agents since then:

February 12, 1933 Charles Boettcher, Denver, Colo., released March 1. Kidnaper Verne Sankey hanged himself.

May 27, 1933 Mary McElroy, Kansas City, Mo., released May 28. Walter McGee sentenced to life imprisonment after original sentence of hanging commuted on Miss McElroy's plea. McGee's brother George sentenced to life and Clarence Click eight years. Miss McElroy committed suicide January 21, 1940.

June 15, 1933 William A. Hamm Jr., St. Paul, Minn., banker. Released after one week. Alvin Karpis sentenced to life imprisonment.

July 19, 1933 August Luer, Alton, Ill. Released. Three men and a woman given life sentences.

July 22, 1933 Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City, Okla. Released after nine days. George (Machine Gun) Kelly and five others given life sentences.

Nov. 9, 1933—Brooke Hart, San Jose, Calif. Killed. Harold T. Thurmond and John M. Holmes, his accused kidnapers, lynched by a mob.

Jan. 17, 1934—Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul, Minn. Released after three weeks. Two given life sentences.

May 16, 1934 William F. Gette, Los Angeles, Calif. Three men sentenced to 37 years imprisonment each.

Oct. 10, 1934 Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, Louisville, Ky. Released unharmed. Thomas H. Robinson Jr., serving a life sentence.

December 26, 1936 Charles Mattson, 10, Tacoma, Wash. Found dead. Kidnaper escaped.

Dec. 4, 1937—Arthur Fried, White Plains, N. Y. Cremated in furnace. Joseph Sacoda and Demetrius Gula executed.

Feb. 24, 1938 Peter Levine, 12, New Rochelle, N. Y. Body recovered May 29. Kidnapers still sought.

May 28, 1938 James Bailey Cash Jr., 5, Princeton, Fla. Body recovered June 8. Franklin Pierce McCall executed.

diction, he said the peak might be reached in 1970 or 1980.

The effect of birth rates on the population total was shown, he added, in the fact that the Northern states accounted for only one-third of the national gain, while the Southern half of the country, where the birth rate is higher, and the Pacific Coast states accounted for two-thirds of the increase.

All the Southeastern states had important increases. New England barely gained at all, and industrial states like New York and Pennsylvania gained less than the national average.

New York continued as the most populous state with 13,379,622 residents, which was 6.3 per cent more than it had in 1930. Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio again held the next three ranks, in that order. Then began a number of changes with California ousting Texas from fifth place. Other states to better their ranking included Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, Louisiana, Arkansas, South Carolina, West Virginia, Florida, Rhode Island, District of Columbia, New Mexico.

Nevada continued to trail the states with 110,014 residents, an increase of about 20,000.

The large shifts in population may change the distribution of seats in the House of Representatives, but the exact changes cannot be determined until the census figures are verified, and Congress has a chance to act.

The law requires the census bureau to submit final figures to President Roosevelt by December 1 and directs him to relay the information to Congress in the first week in January.

Then, unless Congress enacts an apportionment system in 60 days, a computation made by the census bureau must be certified to the states by the clerk of the House and the new seating will affect the House elections in the fall of 1942.

One of the possibilities that the new figures raised was that the center of population has moved eastward for the first time in history. It is almost certain to move southward from its 1930 location, 2.9 miles northeast of Linton, Ind.

F. F. A. MEMBERS HOLD FIRST MEET

JONESBORO, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Eros chapter of Future Farmers of America held its first regular meeting of the school year Wednesday and elected the following officers:

Kenneth Salsbury, president; Jack Zeigler, vice-president; Carl Salsbury, secretary; J. T. Storey, treasurer; Wallace Spillers, reporter; J. B. Hawthorn, advisor.

The F. F. A. members unanimously adopted a work program for this year, consisting mainly of school ground beautification, public speaking, parliamentary law, father and son banquet, homestead beautification. There are 37 farm boys of the Eros High school taking agriculture this year, and also 37 F. F. A. members.

FARM LOAN OFFICIALS ATTEND STATE SESSION

Robert G. Harmon, Monroe, president, and Neal W. McHenry, Monroe, director of the Ouachita Valley National Farm Loan Association, attended a two-day conference of Louisiana National Farm Loan Association directors, secretary-treasurers and office assistant in Alexandria recently.

Also attending the meeting were A. C. Ranson, assocation secretary-treasurer, and Miss Pearl Killian, office assistant.

The meeting was addressed by John L. Ryan, senior vice-president of the Federal Land Bank, who reviewed general economic conditions as they affect agriculture and he reported on the condition of the Federal Land Bank.

MONROYAN IS CHOSEN ON HOTEL COMMITTEE

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Automatic reinstatement of hotel employes called to military service was pledged in a resolution adopted today by the Louisiana Hotel Association at the close of its convention. It was adopted unanimously.

Shreveport was chosen as the 1941 convention city and L. H. Marioneaux, Shreveport, was elected president.

CIRCUS TO SHOW IN OUACHITA AREA

granted a permit to the West Monroe Legion post for the Sunday showing. Early last week the council met and revoked the permit after alleged "pressure" had been exerted to prevent the Sunday showing. The Legion post was to have received $800 as its share of the proceeds for providing the license and the lot. The proceeds were to have been applied to a building fund to start a home for the post. Commander Freeman announced.

"We have encountered similar situations in the past," Butler said. "We have a contract signed by the mayor of West Monroe and all of the councilmen and we have a legal right to show on the date set. Other amusement enterprises are operated here on Sundays, such as carnivals, etc., and we can't see why our circus, which has been praised as the finest entertainment ever presented for the amusement of the American public, should be barred."

Butler said he appreciated the fine cooperation of many citizens of the community since he arrived here.

"We have been offered several lots on which to pitch our tents," he said. "If the West Monroe lot is not available, we will select another site, but regardless of where we show, the Ringling circus will play here next Sunday."

Mr. Freeman said the Legion post had received many calls regarding the council's action, and expressed confidence that some arrangement would be made whereby the circus would show here as scheduled.

Butler said the circus had spent thousands of dollars in advertising the showing here and that the circus positively would fill the date.

A meeting of the Burnett-Downs post will be held at the West Monroe city hall Monday night, and the matter is expected to be discussed at that time.

WILLKIE BLASTS NEW DEAL RELIEF

motorcade on palm-lined Mission street to declare:

"I hope you will vote for me, but if anybody in this crowd wants to vote for Franklin Roosevelt for a third term, he should be sure to vote this fall.

"You owe an obligation to vote. You are citizens of the greatest country in the world, and you should exercise your obligation to determine its problems."

The nominee said he was "delighted to come to an area which voted overwhelmingly the last time for Franklin Roosevelt. I like to talk to people who disagree with me, as long as their minds are open to arguments which may change their mind."

In another talk Willkie said he agreed with Mr. Roosevelt that there should be no dictation in voting.

As Willkie's open car rolled over the long bridge from San Francisco to Oakland, the nominee leaned out to chat with a member of his motorcycle escort. Willkie personally paid the bridge toll.

In Washington square, near the home of Joe DiMaggio, Willkie declared that the career of the baseball star represented the functioning of a democracy where any body "has a chance to ascend the heights."

A cheering woman threw a blue paper streamer at Willkie, and, as it swirled about his shoulders, the candidate continued:

"That is the kind of America I represent—that is the kind of America I want to bring back."

"If the tradition against a third term is violated," the nominee added, "then we will be going down the same road traveled by those countries in Europe which found an indispensable man. And with that will go the opportunities for boys like Joe DiMaggio."

In Chinatown, where Mrs. Willkie received flowers from a four-year-old Chinese girl, the candidate said:

"If I am elected president you could have no one who would recognize more your aspirations and hopes under this great American system."

SAY RAF ATTACK GREATEST OF WAR

British raids, night after night, already had encompassed between 80 and 90 per cent of all Germany's gasoline plants.

Tonight the air ministry's news service issued the most extensive account yet of the RAF's night flights, detailing the bombing, port by port.

Its narrative:

Dunkerque: The port, already heavily damaged in previous night attacks, was subjected to three separate raids, each of about one hour's duration. In the first, which began at 8:30 in the evening, direct hits were scored on several of the dock basins; a searchlight was put out by machine gun fire, and large fires which broke out after the bombing could still be seen when the attacking aircraft were well out to sea on their homeward journey.

"In the second attack a stick of bombs exploded across a fleet of 50 barges which were seen lying in one of the basins. Other sticks straddled the main basin, the Freycinet basin, and burst on both sides of the approach channel.

"The third raid took place in the early hours of this morning and was directed mainly against a concentration of some 50 ships moored in Number 2 and 3 docks.

"Attacking through gaps in the clouds, the raiders laid their bombs across the basins and the adjoining canal, in which more ships were lying, and started a number of large fires on the quaysides.

"Calais: A cloud bank across the harbor at 3,000 feet hampered the attack and one pilot spent an hour and a half in the vicinity of the target awaiting an opportunity to bomb. Earlier attackers, taking advantage of occasional gaps in the clouds, scored hits on the docksides and one side of the entrance channel. Shortly before midnight a line of fire was seen to be burning strongly along the jetty between the tidal harbor and the east basin.

"Boulogne: Barges and shipping in the harbor were repeatedly attacked in a series of sorties which began at 11 p.m. and ended at 4:30 this (Saturday) morning. Bombs burst along the harbor wall and among a fleet of barges in a basin. Other aircraft scored hits on the quaysides to the east of the Loubet basin and near the maneuvering harbor, the explosions of their bombs being followed by fires. A number of ships at anchor in the outer harbor were also attacked. The low clouds and rain prevented observation of the results.

"Flushing: subjected to a three-hour raid during which repeated hits were scored on the docks and many fires started. Oil tanks to the northwest of the inner harbor were straddled and set on fire. A petrol store which caught alight could be seen burning for at least half an hour after the aircraft had left. Intense anti-aircraft fire was encountered by the raiders and observation of the bombing results was made difficult by the glare of many fires started in the dock area.

"Ostend: the attack on the harbor here was carried out in the face of intense anti-aircraft and machine gun fire and a balloon barrage which was flying at great height above the docks. Bombing in shallow dives which at times brought them to within 1,500 feet of the ground, the raiders scored hits on the docks and wharves, on the lock gates, straddled the outer harbor, the main wet dock and a large dock north of the Bassin de Chasse. Several large fires were started among dockside buildings and a direct hit is believed to have been scored on a large supply ship on which a stick of bombs was dropped from a low level.

"Zeebrugge: Ships lying alongside the mole itself are thought to have been hit in the course of an attack carried out in what the pilot described as a 'blaze of intense and accurate anti-aircraft fire.'

"Antwerp: Aided by moonlight and with visibility so good that buildings could easily be picked out from a height of 6,000 feet, a strong force of raiders kept up repeated attacks on docks and shipping for more than two and a half hours. Bombs were seen to burst among a group of 12 ships at anchor in the river. Sticks of high explosive bombs fell across Numbers 2 and 3 docks and along one side of Kattendyck basin, while other bursts straddled the canal and the main dock. Incendiary bombs were scattered on the quaysides and explosions were seen to break several minutes after they had burst.

"Dortmund-Ems canal: The aqueduct which carries the canal over the Ems river to the north of Munster was again attacked last (Friday) night. Lines of heavy caliber bombs were dropped from a low level and fell across the aqueduct and culvert.

"Rail communication centers and goods yards whose efficient working would be essential to the enemy's invasion plans were also attacked during the night. Bombs were dropped on the yards at Hamm, Ehrang, Krefeld, Mannheim and Soest. Hits were scored on the main line tracks at the southern exit to Duisburg.

"A supply train traveling toward Munster was attacked from 800 feet and hit by two heavy caliber bombs, one of which exploded on the front of the train and the other to the rear. The engine was lifted up into the air and blown to bits and fragments of the wrecked train shot up as high as the attacking aircraft.

"Bombs were also dropped during the night on the enemy-occupied airdrome at De Kooy, Hamstede and the Amsterdam airport, Schiphol.

"At the seaplane base on the (Dutch) island of Texel, bombs fell on seaplane sheds and on the slipway and at Trier a hangar was hit.

"The former civil airport at Jersey (German occupied channel island) was also raided shortly after midnight and a salvo of bombs aimed at a concentration of searchlights on the airdrome.

"A large factory near Masstricht (Holland) strongly defended by both light and heavy anti-aircraft gun batteries, was bombed and set ablaze, the fire being visible from 50 miles away. The heavy bomber responsible for this successful attack was hit many times in the wings and fuselage but no vital part was damaged and the aircraft was brought safely home."

NAZI ATTACKS

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The Nazi air fleet, still hammering its heaviest blows against London, inflicted severe new damage to "war-essential" targets, the high command reported today.

While the German planes were carrying out night attacks on London Friday, the official news agency, DNB, said, Nazi fighter planes and a "surprise" anti-aircraft barrage balked two British counter-raids on Berlin far short of their goal.

Particularly the center of London, west of the big bend of the Thames river, suffered from the German air blows, the high command said, and frequent hits were scored on the big Royal Albert docks.

Again, it said, the sky over London glowed with new bomb-lit fires as well as the embers of flames which have smouldered for days.

Besides the center of London, the communique reported, "war-essential supply industries south and east of London" and "airports and other war-essential targets in south and central England" were attacked by smaller raiding squadrons.

One wave of British night raiders was stopped approaching Berlin by way of the German bight, DNB said, and the other after penetrating Western Germany as far as Hanover.

The high command acknowledged British bombardment of Western German cities in which, it said, 13 civilians were killed, "numerous" others injured, several apartment houses destroyed and a church cemetery hit.

It placed the cost Friday of British air operations at 14 planes and said only one German plane was missing.

Summarizing recent exploits of three commerce-raiding German submarines, the high command said they had sunk 14 merchantmen totaling 78,862 tons. One of them, commanded by Lieutenant-Commander Bleichrodt, was credited alone with having sunk nine ships totaling 51,862 tons.

Informed sources, elaborating on the communique, said British raiders dropped eight explosive and 40 incendiary bombs which struck residences in one hamlet in the Moselle region and that others fell in the Cologne-Aachen district.

Besides, they said, many incendiary cards (of phosphorus and gun cotton) were dropped on towns, fields and forests, but all apparently were picked up before any damage was done.

The Nazi press also turned its fire on Britain.

"From the Old Testament we learn that more than once on the command of God it is necessary to eradicate a whole generation," commented the Boersen Zeitung. "May it not be possible that we now are in an age of which the Bible speaks in which it is necessary to bring about a cleansing of peoples?"

The federal government employs one out of every 16 American workers, according to estimates.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—(AP)—Selective buying put props under the stock market in today's brief session.

Steels, farm implements, rails and an assortment of preference issues were among the favorites. With the exception of the latter, however, some of which pushed up one to three points or so to new 1940 tops on 10-share trades, advances generally were limited to minor fractions.

While the trend, during most of the proceedings, was moderately higher, many leaders were unchanged or slightly under water at the close.

There were occasional active flurries over the two-hour stretch and transfers approximated 275,000 shares.

Market sentiment seemed to have taken a turn for the better, brokers said, but fears of unexpected European upsets over the week-end caused even the most bullish commission house customers to keep commitments relatively light or even up accounts in some instances.

Reports of expanding business and industry, spurred by growing defense outlays, were thought to have inspired much of the day's bidding.

Among senior issues given a lift were those of Pittsburgh Steel, Jones and Laughlin, Budd Mfg., American Locomotive, Otis Steel, Certain-teed, Celotex, Mengel and American Car and Foundry.

Common shares in front the greater part of the time included U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, International Harvester, J. I. Case, Deere, Oliver Farm, Glenn Martin, Sperry, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Great Northern, American Smelting, International Nickel, American Locomotive, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical and Eastman Kodak.

Demand for carrier bonds helped the loans department. Commodities were moderately steady.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Opening unchanged to 1-4 higher, September and December 78, wheat later held near this range. Corn started 1-8 off to 1-8 up, September 61 1-8 to 1-4, December 56 1-8.

The price stabilizing features of the loan program, under which about 20 per cent of the 1940 crop already has been sealed to be held off the market temporarily, coupled with strength in securities markets helped to lift wheat futures as much as 1-2 to 7-8 cent at times here today, but these gains were wiped out later.

Winding up of trading in September corn produced brisk short covering which caused the price to advance almost two cents. Corn closed 1-4 lower to 1 7-8 higher, September 62 3-4 to 63, December 56 3-4. Oats ended 1-8 to 1-4 higher.

RANSOM IS READY IN KIDNAP CASE

mind. "If it turns out that that is the case," Dr. Catton said, "I believe the legal test of 'did this man know right from wrong?' is a much simpler and safer guide for society than any refined and scientific diagnostics of psychiatrists that he would save such a diabolical monster."

Under California's "little Lindberg" law, the abductor of the child could be excuted if the victim suffers bodily harm. If the victim is uninjured the sentence is life imprisonment without possibility of parole.

Louis S. Cates, president of Phelps Dodge corporation, vast copper company, and step-father of the Countess DeTristan, sent a communication to newspapers today saying, "at any time there is information that can be given out, I shall promptly communicate with all of you."

"I want to make certain that we do nothing that will be contrary to the wishes of the man who holds our child," he wrote. "My statements will necessarily be limited in order to not do anything which might interfere with contracts by the man."

Sheriff James J. McGrath, San Mateo county, said, "We are absolutely abiding by our promise to the family and we have withdrawn completely from the case."

Chief of Police C. M. Hirschey, Hillsborough, said, "We are pursuing a hands off policy. The first moment there is a real break it will be made public promptly."

He said he had no idea how the kidnaper might make contact with the family, whether by telephone, telegram or letter, but he speculated that a friend, possibly in San Francisco, might be used as an intermediary.

F. B. I. PROCEDURE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The kidnaper, or kidnapers, of three-year-old Marc de Tristan took a 93 to 1 chance of ending up in prison—or worse.

Since passage of the "Lindbergh" law in 1933, the federal bureau of investigation has investigated 187 kidnapings and solved 185. The unsolved cases are those of Charles Mattson, 10, kidnaped at Tacoma, Wash., December 27, 1936, and Peter Levine, 12, New Rochelle, N. Y., seized February 24, 1938. Both boys were slain.

The FBI declined to comment immediately on reports of the De Tristan kidnaping, but there was no doubt that the G-men were watching developments closely if they were not already actively in the search for the man who grabbed the child after threatening his nurse with a gun.

If the usual pattern in a kidnaping case was followed, however, immediately upon being informed of the crime, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, referred to a large map facing his desk. It shows the location of every FBI agent, and Hoover knows each one personally.

He would note quickly the ablest men who were near the scene and order them into action. In a matter of minutes, the FBI machine would be in full swing. Dozens of the world's most thoroughly trained investigators would be going over every inch of ground and ever article, questioning requestioning every person involved in the case.

At Washington headquarters, specialists would have begun searching files for names and faces, studying reports from the scene for a familiar note in conversations and actions. And soon afterward, scientists would be processing articles in the laboratory, while experts thumbed through fingerprint records.

All of which adds up to this:

In the 185 solved kidnapings, the G-men have gained 367 convictions in which the courts have imposed 12 death sentences; 42 life sentences; 3,952 years in prison; 72 years suspended; 108 years probation, and $34,270 in fines. Only 24 federal kidnap defendants have been acquitted.

FUNDS FOR DRAFT GET HOUSE OKAY

propriation, the National Economy League demanded in a statement that Congress give the closest scrutiny to the request for funds for the draft.

"According to previous estimates of the war department, only about one-half of this sum is required for compulsory military training in the present year," Ernest Angell, league chairman, said. "The army and navy, with power over more billions than can be intelligently spent in the fiscal year, have seized upon the need for a fourth defense appropriation bill to insert lump sum items which were neither mentioned nor apparently even contemplated a few weeks ago."

President Roosevelt's requests included $40,000,000 for the National Youth Administration and $57,334,000 for the navy as well as some other items not connected with the draft program.

Details of the items approved by the House appropriations subcommittee will not be made public until the measure is reported to the House.

The economy league said, however, that $24,825,108 was asked for administration of the Selective Service Act in the nine months remaining of this fiscal year whereas only $13,990,809 was spent for this purpose in the first 13 months of the World War.

In addition to the big defense appropriation, the House subcommittee approved a $150,000,000 appropriations measure which includes some defense money such as funds for the communications commission to check on foreign radio broadcasts and for the geological survey to keep tab on supplies of strategic materials. The House plans to consider this bill Monday.

History Of Kidnapings

(By Associated Press)

The "Lindbergh law," which made kidnaping a capital offense, resulted from the abduction and slaying of the infant son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh from their Hopewell, N. J., home on March 1, 1932. Bruno Richard Hauptmann was executed for that crime. Major kidnap cases which have occupied federal agents since then:

February 12, 1933—Charles Boettcher, Denver, Colo., released March 1. Kidnaper Verne Sankey hanged himself.

May 27, 1933—Mary McElroy, Kansas City, Mo., released May 28. Walter McGee sentenced to life imprisonment after original sentence of hanging commuted on Miss McElroy's plea. McGee's brother, George, sentenced to life and Clarence Click, eight years. (Miss McElroy committed suicide January 21, 1940.)

June 15, 1933—William A. Hamm Jr., St. Paul, Minn., banker. Released after one week. Alvin Karpis sentenced to life imprisonment.

July 10, 1933—August Luer, Alton, Ill. Released. Three men and a woman given life sentences.

July 22, 1933—Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City, Okla. Released after nine days. George (Machine Gun) Kelly and five others given life sentences.

Nov. 9, 1933—Brooke Hart, San Jose, Calif. Killed. Harold T. Thurmond and John M. Holmes, his accused kidnapers, lynched by a mob.

Jan. 17, 1934—Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul, Minn. Released after three weeks. Two given life sentences.

May 16, 1934—William F. Gette, Los Angeles, Calif. Three men sentenced to 37 years imprisonment each.

Oct. 10, 1934—Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, Louisville, Ky. Released unharmed. Thomas H. Robinson Jr., serving a life sentence.

December 26, 1936—Charles Mattson, 10, Tacoma, Wash. Found dead. Kidnaper escaped.

Dec. 4, 1937—Arthur Fried, White Plains, N. Y. Cremated in furnace. Joseph Sacoda and Demetrius Gula executed.

Feb. 24. 1938—Peter Levine, 12, New Rochelle, N. Y. Body recovered May 29. Kidnapers still sought.

May 28, 1938—James Bailey Cash Jr., 5, Princeton, Fla. Body recovered June 8. Franklin Pierce McCall executed.

diction, he said the peak might be reached in 1970 or 1980.

The effect of birth rates on the population total was shown, he added, in the fact that the Northern states accounted for only one-third of the national gain, while the Southern half of the country—where the birth rate is higher—and the Pacific Coast states accounted for two-thirds of the increase.

All the Southeastern states had important increases, New England barely gained at all, and industrial states like New York and Pennsylvania gained less than the national average.

New York continued as the most populous state with 13,379,622 residents, which was 6.3 per cent more than it had in 1930. Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio again held the next three ranks, in that order. Then began a number of changes with California ousting Texas from fifth place. Other states to better their ranking included Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, Louisiana, Arkansas, South Carolina, West Virginia, Florida, Rhode Island, District of Columbia, New Mexico.

Nevada continued to trail the states with 110,014 residents, an increase of about 20,000.

The large shifts in population may change the distribution of seats in the House of Representatives, but the exact changes cannot be determined until the census figures are verified, and Congress has a chance to act.

The law requires the census bureau to submit final figures to President Roosevelt by December 1 and directs him to relay the information to Congress in the first week in January.

Then, unless Congress enacts an apportionment system in 60 days, a computation made by the census bureau must be certified to the states by the clerk of the House and the new seating will affect the House elections in the fall of 1942.

One of the possibilities that the new figures raised was that the center of population has moved eastward for the first time in history. It is almost certain to move southward from its 1930 location, 2.9 miles northeast of Linton, Ind.

F. F. A. MEMBERS HOLD FIRST MEET

JONESBORO, Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Eros chapter of Future Farmers of America held its first regular meeting of the school year Wednesday and elected the following officers:

Kenneth Salsbury, president; Jack Zeigler, vice-president; Carl Salsbury, secretary; J. T. Storey, treasurer; Wallace Spillers, reporter; J. B. Hawthorn, advisor.

The F. F. A. members unanimously adopted a work program for this year, consisting mainly of school ground beautification, public speaking, parliamentary law, father and son banquet, homestead beautification. There are 37 farm boys of the Eros High school taking agriculture this year, and also 37 F. F. A. members.

FARM LOAN OFFICIALS ATTEND STATE SESSION

Robert G. Harmon, Monroe, president, and Neal W. McHenry, Monroe, director of the Ouachita Valley National Farm Loan Association, attended a two-day conference of Louisiana National Farm Loan Association directors, secretary-treasurers and office assistant in Alexandria recently.

Also attending the meeting were A. C. Ranson, assocation secretary-treasurer, and Miss Pearl Killian, office assistant.

The meeting was addressed by John L. Ryan, senior vice-president of the Federal Land Bank, who reviewed general economic conditions as they affect agriculture and he reported on the condition of the Federal Land Bank.

MONROYAN IS CHOSEN ON HOTEL COMMITTEE

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Automatic reinstatement of hotel employes called to military service was pledged in a resolution adopted today by the Louisiana Hotel Association at the close of its convention. It was adopted unanimously.

Shreveport was chosen as the 1941 convention city and L. H. Marioneaux, Shreveport, was elected president.

granted a permit to the West Monroe Legion post for the Sunday showing. Early last week the council met and revoked the permit after alleged "pressure" had been exerted to prevent the Sunday showing. The Legion post was to have received $800 as its share of the proceeds for providing the license and the lot. The proceeds were to have been applied to a building fund to start a home for the post. Commander Freeman announced.

"We have encountered similar situations in the past," Butler said. "We have a contract signed by the mayor of West Monroe and all of the councilmen and we have a legal right to show on the date set. Other amusement enterprises are operated here on Sundays, such as carnivals, etc., and we can't see why our circus, which has been praised as the finest entertainment ever presented for the amusement of the American public, should be barred."

Butler said he appreciated the fine cooperation of many citizens of the community since he arrived here.

"We have been offered several lots on which to pitch our tents," he said. "If the West Monroe lot is not available, we will select another site, but regardless of where we show, the Ringling circus will play here next Sunday."

Mr. Freeman said the Legion post had received many calls regarding the council's action, and expressed confidence that some arrangement would be made whereby the circus would show here as scheduled.

Butler said the circus had spent thousands of dollars in advertising the showing here and that the circus positively would fill the date.

A meeting of the Burnett-Downs post will be held at the West Monroe city hall Monday night, and the matter is expected to be discussed at that time.

WILLKIE BLASTS NEW DEAL RELIEF

motorcade on palm-lined Mission street to declare:

"I hope you will vote for me, but if anybody in this crowd wants to vote for Franklin Roosevelt for a third term, he should be sure to vote this fall.

"You owe an obligation to vote. You are citizens of the greatest country in the world, and you should exercise your obligation to determine its problems."

The nominee said he was "delighted to come to an area which voted overwhelmingly the last time for Franklin Roosevelt. I like to talk to people who disagree with me, as long as their minds are open to arguments which may change their mind."

In another talk Willkie said he agreed with Mr. Roosevelt that there should be no dictation in voting.

As Willkie's open car rolled over the long bridge from San Francisco to Oakland, the nominee leaned out to chat with a member of his motorcycle escort. Willkie personally paid the bridge toll.

In Washington square, near the home of Joe DiMaggio, Willkie declared that the career of the baseball star represented the functioning of a democracy where any body "has a chance to ascend the heights."

A cheering woman threw a blue paper streamer at Willkie, and, as it swirled about his shoulders, the candidate continued:

"That is the kind of America I represent—that is the kind of America I want to bring back."

"If the tradition against a third term is violated," the nominee added, "then we will be going down the same road traveled by those countries in Europe which found an indispensable man. And with that will go the opportunities for boys like Joe DiMaggio."

In Chinatown, where Mrs. Willkie received flowers from a four-year-old Chinese girl, the candidate said:

"If I am elected president you could have no one who would recognize more your aspirations and hopes under this great American system."

British raids, night after night, already had encompassed between 80 and 90 per cent of all Germany's gasoline plants.

Tonight the air ministry's news service issued the most extensive account yet of the RAF's night flights, detailing the bombing, port by port.

Its narrative:

Dunkerque: The port, already heavily damaged in previous night attacks, was subjected to three separate raids, each of about one hour's duration. In the first, which began at 8:30 in the evening, direct hits were scored on several of the dock basins; a searchlight was put out by machine gun fire, and large fires which broke out after the bombing could still be seen when the attacking aircraft were well out to sea on their homeward journey.

"In the second attack a stick of bombs exploded across a fleet of 50 barges which were seen lying in one of the basins. Other sticks straddled the main basin, the Freycinet basin, and burst on both sides of the approach channel.

"The third raid took place in the early hours of this morning and was directed mainly against a concentration of some 50 ships moored in Number 2 and 3 docks.

"Attacking through gaps in the clouds, the raiders laid their bombs across the basins and the adjoining canal, in which more ships were lying, and started a number of large fires on the quaysides.

"Calais: A cloud bank across the harbor at 3,000 feet hampered the attack and one pilot spent an hour and a half in the vicinity of the target awaiting an opportunity to bomb. Earlier attackers, taking advantage of occasional gaps in the clouds, scored hits on the docksides and one side of the entrance channel. Shortly before midnight a line of fire was seen to be burning strongly along the jetty between the tidal harbor and the east basin.

"Boulogne: Barges and shipping in the harbor were repeatedly attacked in a series of sorties which began at 11 p.m. and ended at 4:30 this (Saturday) morning. Bombs burst along the harbor wall and among a fleet of barges in a basin. Other aircraft scored hits on the quaysides to the east of the Loubet basin and near the maneuvering harbor, the explosions of their bombs being followed by fires. A number of ships at anchor in the outer harbor were also attacked. The low clouds and rain prevented observation of the results.

"Flushing: subjected to a three-hour raid during which repeated hits were scored on the docks and many fires started. Oil tanks to the northwest of the inner harbor were straddled and set on fire. A petrol store which caught alight could be seen burning for at least half an hour after the aircraft had left. Intense anti-aircraft fire was encountered by the raiders and observation of the bombing results was made difficult by the glare of many fires started in the dock area.

"Ostend: the attack on the harbor here was carried out in the face of intense anti-aircraft and machine gun fire and a balloon barrage which was flying at great height above the docks. Bombing in shallow dives which at times brought them to within 1,500 feet of the ground, the raiders scored hits on the docks and wharves, on the lock gates, straddled the outer harbor, the main wet dock and a large dock north of the Bassin de Chasse. Several large fires were started among dockside buildings and a direct hit is believed to have been scored on a large supply ship on which a stick of bombs was dropped from a low level.

"Zeebrugge: Ships lying alongside the mole itself are thought to have been hit in the course of an attack carried out in what the pilot described as a 'blaze of intense and accurate anti-aircraft fire.'

"Antwerp: Aided by moonlight and with visibility so good that buildings could easily be picked out from a height of 6,000 feet, a strong force of raiders kept up repeated attacks on docks and shipping for more than two and a half hours. Bombs were seen to burst among a group of 12 ships at anchor in the river. Sticks of high explosive bombs fell across Numbers 2 and 3 docks and along one side of Kattendyck basin, while other bursts straddled the canal and the main dock. Incendiary bombs were scattered on the quaysides and explosions were seen to break several minutes after they had burst.

"Dortmund-Ems canal: The aqueduct which carries the canal over the Ems river to the north of Munster was again attacked last (Friday) night. Lines of heavy caliber bombs were dropped from a low level and fell across the aqueduct and culvert.

"Rail communication centers and goods yards whose efficient working would be essential to the enemy's invasion plans were also attacked during the night. Bombs were dropped on the yards at Hamm, Ehrang, Krefeld, Mannheim and Soest. Hits were scored on the main line tracks at the southern exit to Duisburg.

"A supply train traveling toward Munster was attacked from 800 feet and hit by two heavy caliber bombs, one of which exploded on the front of the train and the other to the rear. The engine was lifted up into the air and blown to bits and fragments of the wrecked train shot up as high as the attacking aircraft.

"Bombs were also dropped during the night on the enemy-occupied airdrome at De Kooy, Hamstede and the Amsterdam airport, Schiphol.

"At the seaplane base on the (Dutch) island of Texel, bombs fell on seaplane sheds and on the slipway and at Trier a hangar was hit.

"The former civil airport at Jersey (German occupied channel island) was also raided shortly after midnight and a salvo of bombs aimed at a concentration of searchlights on the airdrome.

"A large factory near Masstricht (Holland) strongly defended by both light and heavy anti-aircraft gun batteries, was bombed and set ablaze, the fire being visible from 50 miles away. The heavy bomber responsible for this successful attack was hit many times in the wings and fuselage but no vital part was damaged and the aircraft was brought safely home."

NAZI ATTACKS

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The Nazi air fleet, still hammering its heaviest blows against London, inflicted severe new damage to "war-essential" targets, the high command reported today.

While the German planes were carrying out night attacks on London Friday, the official news agency, DNB, said, Nazi fighter planes and a "surprise" anti-aircraft barrage balked two British counter-raids on Berlin far short of their goal.

Particularly the center of London, west of the big bend of the Thames river, suffered from the German air blows, the high command said, and frequent hits were scored on the big Royal Albert docks.

Again, it said, the sky over London glowed with new bomb-lit fires as well as the embers of flames which have smouldered for days.

Besides the center of London, the communique reported, "war-essential supply industries south and east of London" and "airports and other war-essential targets in south and central England" were attacked by smaller raiding squadrons.

One wave of British night raiders was stopped approaching Berlin by way of the German bight, DNB said, and the other after penetrating Western Germany as far as Hanover.

The high command acknowledged British bombardment of Western German cities in which, it said, 13 civilians were killed, "numerous" others injured, several apartment houses destroyed and a church cemetery hit.

It placed the cost Friday of British air operations at 14 planes and said only one German plane was missing.

Summarizing recent exploits of three commerce-raiding German submarines, the high command said they had sunk 14 merchantmen totaling 78,862 tons. One of them, commanded by Lieutenant-Commander Bleichrodt, was credited alone with having sunk nine ships totaling 51,862 tons.

Informed sources, elaborating on the communique, said British raiders dropped eight explosive and 40 incendiary bombs which struck residences in one hamlet in the Moselle region and that others fell in the Cologne-Aachen district.

Besides, they said, many incendiary cards (of phosphorus and gun cotton) were dropped on towns, fields and forests, but all apparently were picked up before any damage was done.

The Nazi press also turned its fire on Britain.

"From the Old Testament we learn that more than once on the command of God it is necessary to eradicate a whole generation," commented the Boersen Zeitung. "May it not be possible that we now are in an age of which the Bible speaks in which it is necessary to bring about a cleansing of peoples?"

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

Steels, farm implements, rails and an assortment of preference issues were among the favorites. With the exception of the latter, however, some of which pushed up one to three points or so to new 1940 tops on 10-share trades, advances generally were limited to minor fractions.

While the trend, during most of the proceedings, was moderately higher, many leaders were unchanged or slightly under water at the close.

There were occasional active flurries over the two-hour stretch and transfers approximated 275,000 shares.

Market sentiment seemed to have taken a turn for the better, brokers said, but fears of unexpected European upsets over the week-end caused even the most bullish commission house customers to keep commitments relatively light or even up accounts in some instances.

Reports of expanding business and industry, spurred by growing defense outlays, were thought to have inspired much of the day's bidding.

Among senior issues given a lift were those of Pittsburgh Steel, Jones and Laughlin, Budd Mfg., American Locomotive, Otis Steel, Certain-teed, Celotex, Mengel and American Car and Foundry.

Common shares in front the greater part of the time included U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, International Harvester, J. I. Case, Deere, Oliver Farm, Glenn Martin, Sperry, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Great Northern, American Smelting, International Nickel, American Locomotive, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical and Eastman Kodak.

Demand for carrier bonds helped the loans department. Commodities were moderately steady.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Opening unchanged to 1-4 higher, September and December 78, wheat later held near this range. Corn started 1-8 off to 1-8 up, September 61 1-8 to 1-4, December 56 1-8.

The price stabilizing features of the loan program, under which about 20 per cent of the 1940 crop already has been sealed to be held off the market temporarily, coupled with strength in securities markets helped to lift wheat futures as much as 1-2 to 7-8 cent at times here today, but these gains were wiped out later.

Winding up of trading in September corn produced brisk short covering which caused the price to advance almost two cents. Corn closed 1-4 lower to 1 7-8 higher, September 62 3-4 to 63, December 56 3-4. Oats ended 1-8 to 1-4 higher.

It's every night now for citizens of "Our Town" to practice their entrances and proper delivery for the bare-stage drama of the small town of Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, about 1901.

Chalk marks on the floor of the big rehearsal room indicate the stage setting; benches and card tables serve as emergency props. Director Smith sits on the small stage with his book in his hand, interrupting every few lines to make a correction. In a chair leaning against the wall sits the prompter, downcast eyes on her book.

In the next room, occasionally looking at the rehearsal through a panel of glass in the door, are the off-stage actors, waiting for their cues and playing bridge in the meantime.

Stanley Read, stage manager and narrator in the play, divides his worries between learning a few more of the hundreds of lines in his part, and how he's going to smoke a pipe and talk at the same time.

Aubrey Evans Mrs. Webb in the play practices preparing breakfast without props, and getting it timed just right with Stanley Read's speech and the entrance of her two stage children.

BAILEY REPORTS ON FHA PROJECTS

Says Enough Living Units To Accomodate More Than 23,000 Built

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21 — (Special) — [illegible] living units to accommodate more than 23,000 persons have been erected in Louisiana through the facilities of the Federal Housing Administration, it was announced here today by F. L. Bailey, FHA state director for Louisiana.

In addition to the number of families obtaining new living quarters by means of the insured mortgage plan, approximately 22,000 have modernized their existing establishments through loans insured under the property improvement loan plan of the FHA. This involved a total of more than $7,500,000 at the end of 1939.

Mr. Bailey explained that through June, 1940, the FHA in Louisiana had insured 5,720 mortgages amounting to $24,986,936 covering small residential properties. In addition two rental housing projects providing 151 family units have been erected by means of FHA insured mortgages totaling $604,560.

Taken altogether, Mr. Bailey said, the amount of new home financing which already has taken place in Louisiana, is an impressive accomplishment. The current outlook indicates a steady expansion in small home construction in the state and particularly through the medium of FHA insured financing. Applications for mortgage insurance have been increasing this year over last year.

Th[illegible] this week [illegible] will celebrate National Furniture Week and the Home Furnishings Style Show. [illegible] furniture dealers in the nation [illegible] in presenting the [illegible] with elaborate displays of the most modern lines in an attempt [illegible] the average American [illegible] home [illegible]

"Happiness begins in the home," has long been an accepted maxim and it may be readily ascertained how outmoded and uncomfortable household furniture may [illegible] such happiness.

In observance of National Furniture Week local furniture dealers plan Monroe's own 1941 furniture style show, the main feature of which is open house to be held Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Homeowners and others of Monroe and this section should plan to attend. This show is something special, something extra and something new. In fact, "it's gonna be great."

The latest trends in furniture styles will be presented by local merchants who will stage individual shows. Striking window displays, as well as floor exhibits are planned.

Each display will be planned to dramatize the introduction of the new merchandise for American homes and to make every home-maker conscious of the beauty or usefulness of products, leading Monroe dealers stated Saturday.

Persons attending will have ample time to stroll leisurely through the various stores and see the unique display. There will be no sales made nor any attempts at sales, it was declared. The public is cordially invited to see for themselves the latest in household furniture.

Not only will the heavier pieces of period furniture be offered on exhibition, but smaller items—room ornaments, pictures, lamps, etc.—which lend personality to rooms and homes will be on display.

In designing the new fall styles which have been only released recently, manufacturers in their search for beauty in household articles have not forgotten the practical features required of such furnishings and consequently the most attractively designed pieces are cleverly designed to fill three or more functions in the well organized home.

Not only will the various local stores offer latest styles in furniture for the home, but also the designs of rooms included in the many displays will, in all probability, offer many suggestions to visitors for changes which will add to the beauty of their homes. This style show is planned to be educational as well as to tender new styles and bargains to the home-making public of this section.

Every room in the home will be covered by the exhibits to be seen at the local merchants' open house, Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Monroe merchants who will participate are Durrett's, Dixie Bedding and Furniture Company, Home Furniture Company, Household Supply Company, Montgomery Ward, Monroe Furniture Company and Sears, Roebuck and Company.

Tickets For Tiger Games Are Awarded Members At Session Here

Three persons were awarded tickets for the first three L. S. U. home football games at a meeting of the Ouachita Parish Alumni Association of L. S. U. Friday night in the Northeast Junior College gymnasium, D. Ross Banister, president of the group, announced Saturday.

Those who received two tickets each are Lewis Slater, member of the faculty of Northeast Junior College-L. S. U.-Louisiana Tech game; W. C. Honeycutt, also a faculty member of Northeast Junior College, L. S. U.-Ole Miss game, and G. S. Manning, principal of Calhoun High School, L. S. U.-Holy Cross game.

Featured speaker on the program was Coach Jim Malone, Northeast Junior College. The meeting was followed by dancing and bingo.

The next meeting of the group will be held on October 7 at 8 p.m. in the college gymnasium, when the drawing for the remaining tickets to the L. S. U. home games will take place. Two tickets to the Northeast Junior College-Ouachita College game will be awarded at this meeting, Mr. Banister said.

Mr. Banister said that "a representative group was present for a very interesting meeting but we would like to see more at the October 7 meeting."

PLAN TEACHERS' CONVENTION

Morning World Staff Photograph

Educational leaders who met with representatives of the Chamber of Commerce here Thursday at the Frances Hotel to discuss plans for the Louisiana State Teachers convention to be held here November 17 to 20. Front row, left to right, Paul Neal; principal of Neville High School; David C. Silverstein, chairman, retail merchants division, Chamber of Commerce; T. O. Brown, superintendent of Ouachita parish schools, and E. A. Lee, president of the teachers' association. Back row: Jack Hayes, principal, Ouachita Parish High School; J. W. Wright, executive secretary, teachers' association; J. W. Webb, professor of chemistry, Louisiana State Normal, and E. L. Neville, superintendent of Monroe city schools.

THE PLAY'S ON-- JUST PRACTICING

'Wait,' Yells Director, As Little Theater Actors Miss Action

The white cat scampered across the church floor during the wedding; the preached "shushed" the choir in the middle of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds"; the wedding guests looked bored—and the director yelled, "Wait!"

Such irrevent goings-on weren't at a church—they went on at 307 North Second street, headquarters for Monroe's Little Theater rehearsal of first major production of this year, Thornton Wilder's "Our Town." Twenty-two amateur actors from Monroe, West Monroe, and this area, were whipping "Our Town" into shape for its presentation at Northeast Junior college auditorium on Monday night, October 7. And it was Director Lorenzo Smith who broke up the wedding.

Bride Emily Webb and Groom George Gibbs—Polly Cole and Don Dumas in private life—repeated their entrance as the choir properly quieted their enthusiasm, and the scene went on.

It's every night now for citizens of "Our Town" to practice right entrances and proper delivery for the bare-stage drama of the small town of Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, about 1901.

Chalk marks on the floor of the big rehearsal room indicate the stage setting; benches and card tables serve as emergency props; Director Smith sits on the small stage with his book in his hand, interrupting every few lines to make a correction. In a chair leaning against the wall sits the prompter, downcast eyes on her book.

In the next room, occasionally looking at the rehearsal through a panel of glass in the door, are the off-stage actors, waiting for their cues, and playing bridge in the meantime.

Stanley Reid, stage manager and narrator in the play, divides his worries between learning a few more of the hundreds of lines in his part, and how he's going to smoke a pipe and talk at the same time.

Audrey Evans—Mrs. Webb in the play—practices preparing breakfast without props, and getting it timed just right with Stanley Reid's speech and the entrance of her two stage children.

Across stage Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, West Monroe, as Mrs. Gibbs, prepares breakfast, too, for her doctor-husband, played by W. W. Sullivan, and her two children—by daylight Jean Kennedy and Don Dumas.

The prompter gives the cue, Mrs. Webb puts the imaginary bacon back on the equally imaginary stove, and the play is on again.

Members of the unofficial audience who have dropped in to see how the play is progressing are quieted by the director's frown. The Webb and Gibbs children rush onstage, and promptly sit facing the wrong direction.

Stop—and go—and stop—and go again—it's all in the play's work. But it adds up to a lot of fun for the actors, and a lot for the audiences, come first night.

"Our Town," Pulitzer prize-winning play selected for the first this year, is about typical American small-town life at the turn of the century. Though the play is produced without scenery. Costumes will be needed. If you have any of the clothes, or accessories typical of the early 1900s—and want to see them make their stage debut—call Mr. Smith or visit Little Theater headquarters. Care will be taken of all borrowed costumes, and they will be returned on October 8 in perfect shape.

"Quiet!" yell's the director.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—(Special)—Enough living units to accommodate more than 23,000 persons have been erected in Louisiana through the facilities of the Federal Housing Administration, it was announced here today by F. L. Bailey, FHA state director for Louisiana.

In addition to the number of families obtaining new living quarters by means of the insured mortgage plan, approximately 22,000 have modernized their existing establishments through loans insured under the property improvement loan plan of the FHA. This involved a total of more than $7,500,000 at the end of 1939.

Mr. Bailey explained that through June, 1940, the FHA in Louisiana had insured 5,720 mortgages amounting to $21,986,936 covering small residential properties. In addition two rental housing projects providing 151 family units have been erected by means of FHA insured mortgages totaling $604,500.

Taken altogether, Mr. Bailey said, the amount of new home financing which already has taken place in Louisiana, is an impressive accomplishment. The current outlook indicates a steady expansion in small home construction in the state and particularly through the medium of FHA insured financing. Applications for mortgage insurance have been increasing this year over last year.

Junior College Frosh 'Welcomed' To School

By Eve Bradford

WHILE summer sings its swan song, school bells toll on and on. Boys and girls with white, scared little faces after one week of school are beginning to learn the true meaning of obedience and punctuality. Older students have brushed the cobwebs from note books and textbooks and chewed the end of brand new pencils while settling down for a year of study. Freshmen at Northeast Junior College faced a certain kind of hazing last week and the result was rather a shock to their parents, who found their sons, like Samson, shorn of their locks. An especially good job was accomplished on Bill Funk's black curly hair—nary a lock to remind one of his "crowning glory."

[illegible] appealed to see young men [illegible] at Northeast Junior College [illegible] the street in feminine attire [illegible] garments [illegible] fit [illegible] they are being put to the [illegible] of obedient to the [illegible] of the "higher ups" will be [illegible] to the charmed inner circle. Such [illegible] treatment [illegible] to timid souls.

The [illegible] of sorority pledging are also being put to the acid test. It's a question of "do or die" and death is preferable than to be called a "quitter." Because pledges are so vital to the smooth and continued functioning of any sorority, we think it in order to present a cursory review of what every young pledge should know but shouldn't do. It is forbidden for you to speak disparagingly to one sorority about another. Remember how your mother used to wallop you for such an offense? In this case you have several mothers to pass judgment. And above all things, remember that taboo it is to call fraternities "frats." Not only will you rate a pained look from your sisters but campus men will shudder and run screaming away from you.

A figure of speech became a reality to Emma Michie of Lake Charles who has more friends in Monroe than you can shake a stick at. She was told by Dot McCord that she would be met by a brass band if ever she accepted her invitation to visit her at her summer home in Chetek. Last month she accepted the invitation and the brass band was a reality. Dot drummed up every musician in the village and when Emma stepped to the platform she was greeted with a blare of music—slightly off key perhaps, but nevertheless a brass band. Emma, famed for her ready wit, her grace of manner, friendliness and charm, was one of the most popular summer visitors Chetek has ever known according to Dot who had the pleasure of entertaining her. And by the way, to our way of thinking, Dot McCord, a really lovely person, kind and gracious and thoroughly companionable, is equally as charming as the guest she entertained.

En Passant—yesterday's bride, Doris Reid McCall, cutting ruthlessly straight into the heart of her gorgeous wedding cake, and distributing pieces to all her entourage. It was the gayest, liveliest, and youngest crowd of the season, assembled around the bride's table in the Alfred Reid home after the ceremony at St. Matthew's.

Doris, the ideal southern type, was a beautiful bride—tall, slender, and dark-eyed, in severe white satin, and crowned with a little cap of imported lace almost a century old. Stella Reid, the youthful looking mother of the bride, was equally lovely. She wore her favorite color, blue, with a smart little hat of metallic cloth. Stella, of French parentage and possessing all the verve, the charm, and the vivacity of the French woman, had a delightful word for all the guests, passing them on to her new in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCall, Sr., of Baton Rouge.

Didn't you love all that glimmering candlelight at Doris' wedding? Will you ever forget how piquant were the faces of her attendants above the flickering flame from the candles they carried in the heart of those beautiful gardenias? The garlands of English ivy was another inovation in the way of decoration.

When Roberta Neel entertained at breakfast for Doris Reid last week she placed a different goblet at each cover. They were from her collection of glasses she has acquired during the past several years as a hobby. Each glass is associated with pleasant memories and whenever displayed conjures up a long chain of reminiscences. Her guests begged for a story so Roberta complied with their request by giving the history of each goblet on the table.

E. L. Neville is another collector of old glass. His collection has not grown as rapidly as he would desire as he never buys a piece of glass unless he knows its origin and whether or not it is authentic. In the beginning he met with many pitfalls—pieces sold him proved to be falsely represented and as a result he has grown skeptical. In the beginning, while his collection was in the embryonic stage, he motored miles and miles to see a set of glassware a friend had described as being a hundred years old. He made the purchase after being assured of the antiquity of each glass, only to find later on they had been given to customers of a certain Monroe furniture store for a set of coupons. They greatly resembled an old pattern Mr. Neville was desirous of including in his collection. He keeps [illegible] as a constant reminder of the gullibility of most collectors.

The real old fashioned type of grandmother is not extinct. There are a few in Monroe, however, and one of them is Mrs. T. F. Causey, a truly remarkable woman. She is the old fashioned type with a generous sprinkling of modern ideas just enough to keep her abreast of the times and give her tolerance to help her in enjoying life as it is being lived today. Mrs. Causey is the type of woman, fast fading from the face of the earth, who believes in providing for the winter while it is yet summer. Her pantry is stocked with preserves and pickles prepared by her own hands and in the pantry there is always something too some to serve the casual guest. Mrs. Causey, however, is just as much at home before a large assemblage of club women as she is in her kitchen. An article appearing in the McComb Daily Journal last week bears out this statement. It seems that Mrs. Causey's poem, read before members of the Dorcas club who entertained with a Talent Tea, won the first prize. Mrs. Causey was a member of this club when she lived in McComb and whenever the club entertains with something really worthwhile they send for her to join them. Every member of the club contributed a poem on this occasion and they were all judged impartially. The honors fell to Mrs. Causey.

Ruston Pierian Women's Club Holds Luncheon

The new club year of the Ruston Pierian Woman's club was fittingly inaugurated by a theme luncheon emphasizing their chosen study of the Southland at which Mrs. E. S. Richardson, Mrs. P. M. Davis, Mrs. Zollie Meadows, and Mrs. R. B. Knott were hostesses and Dr. Mary Mims was guest speaker. The luncheon was held in the private dining room at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Thirty-four ladies, members, associate members and guests entered to the strains of "Dixie" played by Mrs. Robert Beall, and marched around the beautifully appointed table until they found their chairs. Cotton balls attached to green paper leaves were the unique place cards. Invocation was led by Mrs. D. B. Raulins. Mrs. Robert T. Beall sang one of Robert McGimsey's negro songs, "Little Lord Jesus, Boy."

Mrs. Meadows, the master of ceremonies, welcomed Mrs. Harry Howard, an absentee of two years, and Miss Anna Green Smith, the newest member. She stated that thanks were due to President Richardson and Miss Tolliver for the use of the dining room.

Mrs. Glen Laskey introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Mary Mims, well-known sociologist of Louisiana. Dr. Mims congratulated the club upon their chosen study for the year, the problems of the south, and spoke on the topic, "The South as Economic Problem No. 1." Her address was entertaining, inspiring and factual. The speaker urged the members of the club to study freight rates and the wonderful opportunities for the south. She suggested that Lincoln parish make immediate plans to furnish the men who will soon be at Camp Beauregard with sweet potatoes and recipe books, showing their uses.

Those present were Mrs. R. H. Brooks, Miss Alma Burk, Miss Merle Burk, Miss Caroline [illegible]hran, Mrs. V. C. Cupp, Mrs. V. N. Davis, Mrs. W. K. Duncan, Mrs. J. W. Evans, Mrs. Gustaf Freden, Mrs. R. L. Fuller, Mrs. J. L. Glasgow, Mrs. Glen Laskey, Mrs. Zollie Meadows, Mrs. R. B. Knott, Mrs. Leola Nixon, Mrs. W. F. Pearce, Mrs. D. B. Raulins, Mrs. E. S. Richardson, Sr., Mrs. J. C. Ritchie, Mrs. W. C. Sim[illegible]ton, Mrs. Harry Howard, Miss Anna Green Smith, Miss Daisy White, Mrs. Raymond [illegible]eard, Mrs. H. L. Hughes, Mrs. T. Miss Lucille Robinson Weds R. L. Mulhearn

A wedding claiming the interest of friends in this section of the state was that of Miss Lucille Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Iven Q. Robinson, and the late I. Q. Robinson of Winnsboro, and Robert L. Mulhearn, son of Mr. P. B. Mulhearn of Monroe, September 12, at the Winnsboro Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. O. L. Tucker, officiating in the presence of friends and relatives.

Mr. Mulhearn was attended by William E. Robinson, a cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Mulhearn was an honor graduate of the Winnsboro High school and attended the Louisiana State University, where she was a member of Delta Zeta, national social sorority.

Mr. Mulhearn attended Jefferson Military Academy at Natchez, and later received his professional training in St. Louis, Mo., where he was a member of Alpha Delta Phi, national professional fraternity.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip through several southern states.

Upon their return, they will be at home to their friends in their apartment in Winnsboro, where Mr. Mulhearn is director of the Mulhearn Funeral Home and Flower Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Goza announce the marriage of their daughter, Florence, to Wesley Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Peters, on September 10.

INTRODUCING MRS. MULHEARN....

Bride of Mr. Robert Mulhearn, who was formerly Miss Lucille Robinson of Winnsboro. The wedding took place in Winnsboro September 12.

Junior College Frosh 'Welcomed' To School

By Eve Bradford

WHILE summer sings its swan song, school bells toll on and on. Boys and girls with white, scared little faces after one week of school are beginning to learn the true meaning of obedience and punctuality. Older students have brushed the cobwebs from note books and textbooks and chewed the end of brand-new pencils while settling down for a year of study. Freshmen at Northeast Junior College faced a certain kind of hazing last week and the result was rather a shock to their parents, who found their sons, like Samson, shorn of their locks. An especially good job was accomplished on Bill Funk's black curly hair—nary a lock to remind one of his "crowning glory."

Don't be surprised to see young men, freshmen at Northeast Junior College, pacing the streets in feminine attire or arrayed in incongruous misfits and colors—they are being put to the acid test, and if obedient to the demands of the "higher ups" will be admitted to the charmed inner circle. Such ignominious treatment must be pure agony to timid souls.

The tender green crop of sorority pledglings are also being put to the acid test. It is a question of "do or die" and death is preferable than to be called a "quitter." Because pledges are so vital to the smooth and continued functioning of any sorority, we think it in order to present a cursory review of what every young pledge should know—but shouldn't do. It is forbidden for you to speak despairingly to one sorority about another. Remember how your mother used to wallop you for such an offense? In this case you have several mothers to pass judgment. And above all things, remember that taboo it is to call fraternities "frats." Not only will you rate a pained look from your sisters but campus men will shudder and run screaming away from you.

A figure of speech became a reality to Emma Michie of Lake Charles who has more friends in Monroe than you can shake a stick at. She was told by Dot McCord that she would be met by a brass band if ever she accepted her invitation to visit her at her summer home in Chetek. Last month she accepted the invitation and the brass band was a reality. Dot drummed up every musician in the village and when Emma stepped to the platform she was greeted with a blare of music—slightly off key perhaps, but nevertheless a brass band. Emma, famed for her ready wit, her grace of manner, friendliness and charm, was one of the most popular summer visitors Chetek has ever known according to Dot who had the pleasure of entertaining her. And by the way, to our way of thinking, Dot McCord, a really lovely person, kind and gracious and thoroughly companionable, is equally as charming as the guest she entertained.

En Passant—yesterday's bride, Doris Reid McCall, cutting ruthlessly straight into the heart of her gorgeous wedding cake, and distributing pieces to all her entourage. It was the gayest, liveliest, and youngest crowd of the season, assembled around the bride's table in the Alfred Reid home after the ceremony at St. Matthew's.

Stella Reid, the youthful looking mother of the bride, was equally lovely. She wore her favorite color, blue, with a smart little hat of metallic cloth. Stella, of French parentage and possessing all the verve, the charm, and the vivacity of the French woman, had a delightful word for all the guests, passing them on to her new in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCall, Sr., of Baton Rouge.

Didn't you love all that glimmering candlelight at Doris' wedding? Will you ever forget how piquant were the faces of her attendants above the flickering flame from the candles they carried in the heart of those beautiful gardenias? Each glass is associated with pleasant memories and whenever displayed conjures up a long chain of reminiscences. Her guests begged for a story so Roberta complied with their request by giving the history of each goblet on the table.

E. L. Neville is another collector of old glass. Hiss collection has not grown as rapidly as he would desire as he never buys a piece of glass unless he knows its origin and whether or not it is authentic. In the beginning he met with many pitfalls—pieces sold him proved to be falsely represented and as a result he has grown skeptical. Miss Doris Reid Marries Henry McCall, Jr., In Impressive Ceremony Here

Wedding Solemnized At Catholic Church

Prominent Monroe Girl Weds Baton Rouge Man; Reception At Home Of Bride's Parents Follows

The high social note of the season was struck on Saturday when Miss Doris Agatha Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Joshua Reid, became the bride of Henry Carruth McCall, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCall, Sr., of Baton Rouge, La., in an impressive ceremony characterized by lovely simplicity and surrounded with cathedralesque atmosphere.

The ceremony at five-thirty o'clock September 21 was performed by Rev. Father Vandegaer wearing the ecclesiastical robes of office.

The dim recesses of the church were bathed in mellow candle light radiating from tall cathedral tapers burning high on the altar and glowing in a straight row along the railing enclosing the vestibule where the benediction was received by the bride and bride-groom on bended knees.

Along the chancel rail mounds of white chrysanthemums were banked in artistic profusion against a low hedge of miniature chrysanthemums and fragrant clematis. A row of stately palms formed the dignified background.

Leon Hammond, organist, rendered a concert of pre-nuptial music while the fashionable concourse of guests were being seated by the ushers, George Womack, Posey Prescott, Manche Calwalder, Bryon Benton of Baton Rouge, and Melvin White of New Orleans.

The soloist, Miss Jane Landry, sang in splendid voice, a group of bridal songs including "Ave Maria."

The bride's matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Metcalf Jr., of Memphis, and maid of honor, Miss Roberta Neel, wore distinctive models of peacock green taffeta threaded in gold. The basques were tight fitting and the sleeves, short and puffed. The bouffant skirts, long and full with a semblance of a train, were tiered, ruffled effect. They wore smart little hats of peacock green velvet and carried garlands of old English ivy caught with clusters of gardenias in the midst of which burned short, lighted tapers. The bridesmaids, Miss Nan Buckner, Miss Libby Haynes, Miss Dorothy Graves, and Miss Dorothy Hathcox, wore gowns of fushia colored taffeta, exact replicas of those worn by the other attendants. They also carried garlands of English ivy, gardenias and lighted tapers.

C. G. McGhee of Baton Rouge served in the capacity of best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white Duchess satin wedding gown, fashioned along Princess lines with a long court train. The finger tip sleeves were puffed at the elbow with bands of seed pearls. The square cut neckline was embroidered in seed pearls. A tulle veil, billowing far beyond the hem line of the skirt, was attached to a cap of imported lace encircled with orange blossoms. She carried a regal bouquet of calla lilies. For something old, an antique diamond brooch was worn.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Hilton street, where Mr. and Mrs. Reid extended courtesies, assisted by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCall Sr. Mrs. Reid was wearing a lovely dawn blue, floor length model with a short coat braided in self material and a small hat of metallic cloth of dawn blue. A corsage of gardenias and roses was worn.

The bride's table in the dining room was in white and silver with the wedding cake, a gorgeous confection, embossed in gardenias, the bride's favorite flower. Handsome silver candelabra supporting white tapers of graduated lengths, burned at the four corners. Silver compotes, placed at intervals, held gardenia decorated mints.

Attendants passed ices and individual wedding cakes among the guests.

Assisting in the courtesies were several life-long friends of the bride, Miss Eleanor Colbert, Miss Theodora Hart, Miss Ellen Hale, Miss Adelaide Parker, Mrs. James Standley, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Moody.

The bride changed her wedding raiment for a smartly tailored Eisenberg model of dark blue with accessories of the same shade.

Mr. and Mrs. McCall will spend several days in Miami Beach before boarding a steamer for Havana where they will spend the remainder of their honeymoon. Following their return they will be at home at 910 Park Boulevard, Baton Rouge.

The bride, one of the most popular and one of the most charming members of Monroe's younger set, is a graduate of the Louisiana State university, and attended the University of Colorado. She is a member of Tri Delta and Delta Beta Sigma sororities. Mr. McCall attended Riverside Military school, Gainesville, Ga., and is a graduate of the Louisiana State university. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. E. H. LaCroix, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. LaCroix, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin LaCroix, Mr. Clarence LaCroix, Mr. Howard LaCroix, Miss Agatha LaCroix, of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. St. Elmo Newton, Mrs. Robert Metcalf, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Casey Elliott of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Babin of White Castle, La.; Miss Elizabeth Wilson of Baton Rouge.

The marriage of Miss Nina Mathis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Evans, of Winnsboro, and Mr. Willis Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Evans of Baskin, was solemnized Saturday evening at 9 o'clock at the Baptist parsonage with Rev. T. H. Hastings officiating.

Miss Mathis wore a handsome wine velvet ensemble with black accessories. She was attended by Miss Nell Harvey. Mr. Leslie Collins acted as best man.

Monroe Literary Club Holds First Meeting

The Monroe Literary Club, an organization of women vitally interested in the affairs and history of Louisiana and who have chosen "Louisiana" for their study this year, held their first program meeting in the home of Mrs. A. B. Colmer Wednesday afternoon.

After the business session, presided over by Mrs. P. E. Massey, president, the program was introduced by Mrs. A. B. Colmer, program chairman. The first part, "The History of Monroe," was given by Mrs. R. E. Wilson who said, "The early history of Monroe centers around the life of Don Juan Filhiol, a French soldier of noble blood, whose picturesque adventures contribute so much to the history of the state the most interesting and romantic of any in the Union. Filhiol was the founder of the cities of Monroe and West Monroe, among the oldest of the settled communities of Louisiana, and which today embrace within their borders the grant of "2,000 square arpents of land"—approximately as many acres—given him by the King of Spain.

"The settlement was for some years known as "The Post," name appropriate because of its military associations as well as because it was the meeting ground for the traders of the region. Later after the building of a fort, the name was changed to Fort Miro, in honor of Don Estevan Miro, the Spanish-Governor-General at New Orleans. The change of the name of Fort Miro to Monroe was the outgrowth of an epochal event, the coming of the first steamboat to the little trading post on the Ouachita. This was considered fitting enough since the steamer had been christened in honor of the then chief executive of the United States, Prsident James Monroe. Monroe has always enjoyed distinction as a commecial center. It has assumed the title "Queen City of the Ouachita," because of the industrial, social, cultural and educational importance of the community in the entire Ouachita Valley."

Another interesting topic, "The Early Roads of Ouachita" was given by Mrs. A. E. Johnson who said in part: "The history of Ouachita parish has its beginning in a period that traces back nearly 400 years—when Hernando DeSoto made his venturesome journey of exploration west of the Mississippi.

"For nearly 175 years after DeSoto, no other white man traversed the Ouachita country, until in 1700 Bienville the French Canadian explorer, made a journey across country from the Mississippi River to the Ouachita. This route made by Bienville was nothing more than an Indian trail through the wilderness, but it became one of the first thoroughfares connecting the post on the Ouachita with the Mississippi River.

"The first route for horseback travel was surveyed by three experienced woodsmen employed by a group of business men of Monroe. The present Dixie-Overland highway parallels the road they surveyed. But nothing was done toward making this road permanent until after the Civil War.

"Later wagon roads were established by improving and widening these trails and wagon caravans began to come to river centers to trade. Wagon yards did a thriving business in those days as farmers would often have to stop overnight. There were only a few wagon roads except bridle paths until after the first quarter of the Nineteenth century. These often became so obscure that people would often lose their way, and be obliged to spend the night in the woods. In rainy weather they became impassable in places and bridges would often float off, making it necessary for the coaches and wagons to ford the stream.

"Such inefficient roads were used until after the turn of the present century when the necessity for a more adequate system of permanent roads construction became a vital essential to the well being of the public."

Bono Nostrorum Club Meets With Mrs. Harper

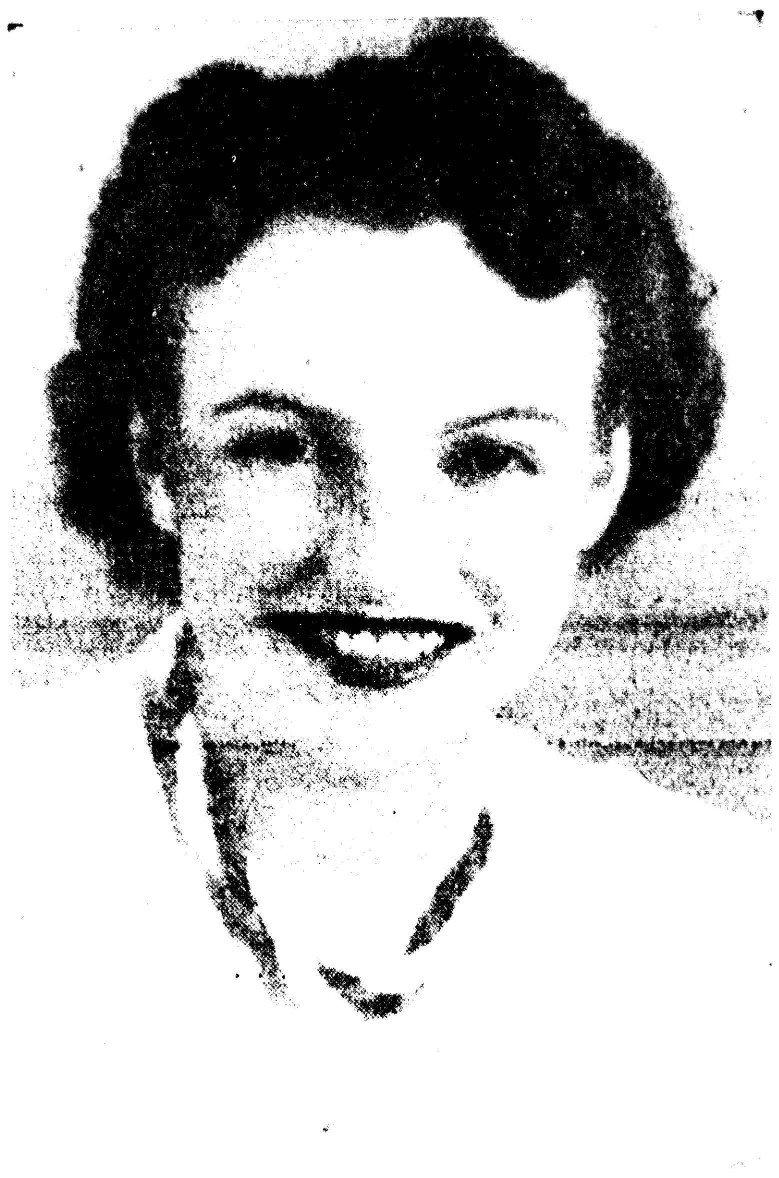
The September meeting of the Bono Nostrorum club of Mangham was held in the home of Mrs. E. C. Harper with Mrs. C. N. Underwood, co-hostess.

Mrs. E. T. Lee, president, presided. Mrs. J. W. DeMoss, Sr., library chairman, announced a meeting to be held in Rayville late in September for the purpose of creating interest in the parish library, the guest speaker to be Mrs. P. K. Smith of Ruston, chairman of district library committee. The club members voiced their appreciations of library service and Mrs. Lee appointed the following committee to attend the meeting: Misses Kate Talbert and Virgie Evans, Mrs. Paul Chapman, Mrs. E. E. Randall, Mrs. J. W. DeMoss and Mrs. E. T. Lee.

A section from last year's program, "Study of American Art," was given by Mrs. F. C. Sheppard, her subject, "Still Life," was illustrated from the works of Grant Wood, Maria Oakey Dewing, Frank Weston Benson and Charles DeMuth, the Modernistic. "Still Life" Mrs. Sheppard said is "nature arranged by the artist in accordance with his own ideas."

Mrs. Lee gave a scholarly dissertation on "The Treaty of Versailles." Her talk was a fitting preliminary to the subject selected for this year's study, "European Influences, Social and Economic." She emphasized the fact that despite the fact the club will study European conditions, an intensive study will be made at each meeting of American citizenship and democracy.

The meeting was closed with repeating in unison the club Collect. A social hour followed at which time Mrs. Harper assisted by Mrs. Underwood served refreshments to Mrs. G. W. Humble, Miss Ethel Watson, Mrs. S. M. Hixon, Mrs. E. E. Randall, Mrs. F. C. Sheppard, Mrs. E. T. Lee, Mrs. W. E. Hixon, Mrs. J. W. DeMoss, Sr., Mrs. B. N. Hixon, Mrs. M. K. McConnell, Mrs. Paul Chapman, Mrs. Lida Taylor.



ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED....

Miss Lois Bushnell, whose mother, Mrs. Alma Bushnell, formally announces her engagement and approaching marriage to Wiley Robert Harrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. G. Harrell of Girard, La.

Miss Loreta Gilliland Marries William Rives

The marriage of Miss Loreta Gilliland, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. I. Gilliland of Delhi, and Mr. William Reggie Rives, of Lisbon, La., was solemnized September 15 at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the Delhi Baptist church, with Rev. C. F. Almand performing the double-ring ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with garden flowers.

Mrs. W. A. Fraser, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Stone Miller, sang, "Sweetest Story Ever Told," preceding the ceremony.

"Liebestraum" was rendered during the ceremony, and Mendehlson's March was played for the recessional, with Mrs. Miller at the piano.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Dr. O. I. Gilliland, wore a sailor blue model with harmonizing accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and lillies of the valley. Miss Maxene Ellerd, of Trout, La., served as maid of honor. Miss Helen Benoit and Miss Lillian Gilliland, both of Monroe, served as bridesmaids. Each carried bouquets of Talisman roses.

Mr. Travis Gilliland, brother of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Aubrey Wallace and Mr. Clifton Gilliland, of Monroe.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Rives will be at home in Milledgeville, Ga., where Mr. Rives is a member of the college faculty.

Mrs. Rives attended Louisiana Tech.

Mr. Rives is a graduate of Louisiana Tech and obtained his Masters degree at Louisiana State university.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Miss Alice Jones, Heflin, La.; Miss Ernestine Martin, Minden, La.; Miss Gene Spencer, Monroe, La.; Mrs. H. H. Benoit, Monroe, La.; Mrs. J. T. French, Monroe, La.; Mrs. Tom Green, Ruston, La.; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Gilliland, Rayville, La.; Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Gilliland, Bastrop, La.; Mrs. Clara Gilliland, Monroe, La.; Mrs. Rives, mother of the groom, Lisbon, La.; Misses Virginia and Evelyn Rives, Lisbon, La.; Mr. Lional Enloe and Miss Enloe, Lisbon, La.

Literature Club Hears Interesting Discussions

The Current Literature club met with Mrs. R. F. Seiler on Wednesday afternoon. After a discussion of old and new business the meeting was turned over to the program chairman.

An interesting article, "Unusual Industries in Louisiana," was given by Mrs. Menefee. Mrs. John Naylor's paper, "Rural Development in Louisiana," was enjoyed by all. The book review, "Stars on the Sea," by F. Van Wyck Mason, was given by Mrs. G. B. Watkins.

In reviewing the book, Mrs. Watkins said:

"A great novel gives the dramatic answer of history to the question of the hour. Dare a weak defenseless nation defy a mighty and implacable enemy? In a vast drama both gripping and authentic is told the gallant story of the [illegible] in the face [illegible] Stars on the Sea.

"At the [illegible] F. Van Wyck Mason's pen [illegible] with all their anguish, hope and suffering. No reader will ever forget Desire Harmony Bennet of Newport, Sam Higsby, the Pennsylvania rifleman, or scholarly Nat Coffin of Nantucket. The pageant of history, the conflicts of passions and ambition, the movement of life, make this the major novel of the year."

A delicious luncheon [illegible] served to the following members and guest: Mesdames [illegible] J. Leon Dennis, V. S. Garnett, G. M. Heidenreich, Mike John, Jr., J. C. Kramer, Jr., J. M. Menefee, John Naylor, J. E. Peters, Louis Peters, G. B. Watkins, Earl Stovall, William Whitfield and Tom Davis.

Friends of Mrs. Julian Reagan will be sorry to learn that she is seriously ill in the St. Francis Sanitarium. Her mother, Mrs. A. [illegible] Alford, Rayville, is with her.

Bono Nostrorum Club Meets With Mrs. Harper

The September meeting of the Bono Nostrorum club of Mangham was held in the home of Mrs. E. C. Harper with Mrs. C. N. Underwood, co-hostess.

Mrs. E. T. Lee, president, presided. Mrs. J. W. DeMoss, Sr., library chairman, announced a meeting to be held in Rayville late in September for the purpose of creating interest in the parish library, the guest speaker to be Mrs. P. K. Smith of Ruston, chairman of district library committee. The club members voiced their appreciations of library service and Mrs. Lee appointed the following committee to attend the meeting: Misses Kate Talbert and Virgie Evans, Mrs. Paul Chapman, Mrs. E. E. Randall, Mrs. J. W. DeMoss and Mrs. E. T. Lee.

A section from last year's program, "Study of American Art," was given by Mrs. F. C. Sheppard, her subject, "Still Life," was illustrated from the works of Grant Wood, Maria Oakey Dewing, Frank Weston Benson and Charles DeMuth, the Modernistic. "Still Life" Mrs. Sheppard said is "nature arranged by the artist in accordance with his own ideas."

Mrs. Lee gave a scholarly dissertation on "The Treaty of Versailles." Her talk was a fitting preliminary to the subject selected for this year's study, "European Influences, Social and Economic." She emphasized the fact that despite the fact the club will study European conditions, an intensive study will be made at each meeting of American citizenship and democracy.

The meeting was closed with repeating in unison the club Collect. A social hour followed at which time Mrs. Harper assisted by Mrs. Underwood served refreshments to Mrs. G. W. Humble, Miss Ethel Watson, Mrs. S. M. Hixon, Mrs. E. E. Randall, Mrs. F. C. Sheppard, Mrs. E. T. Lee, Mrs. W. E. Hixon, Mrs. J. W. DeMoss, Sr., Mrs. B. N. Hixon, Mrs. M. K. McConnell, Mrs. Paul Chapman, Mrs. Lida Taylor.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED . . . .

Miss Lois Bushnell, whose mother, Mrs. Alma Bushnell, formally announces her engagement and approaching marriage to Wiley Robert Harrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. G. Harrell of Girard, La.

Miss Loreta Gilliland Marries William Rives

The marriage of Miss Loreta Gilliland, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. I. Gilliland of Delhi, and Mr. William Reggie Rives, of Lisbon, La., was solemnized September 15 at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the Delhi Baptist church, with Rev. C. F. Almand performing the double-ring ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with garden flowers.

Mrs. W. A. Fraser, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Stone Miller, sang, "Sweetest Story Ever Told," preceding the ceremony.

"Liebestraum" was rendered during the ceremony, and Mendehlson's March was played for the recessional, with Mrs. Miller at the piano.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Dr. O. I. Gilliland, wore a sailor blue model with harmonizing accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and lillies of the valley. Miss Maxene Ellerd, of Trout, La., served as maid of honor. Miss Helen Benoit and Miss Lillian Gilliland, both of Monroe, served as bridesmaids. Each carried bouquets of Talisman roses.

Mr. Travis Gilliland, brother of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Aubrey Wallace and Mr. Clifton Gilliland, of Monroe.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Rives will be at home in Milledgeville, Ga., where Mr. Rives is a member of the college faculty.

Mrs. Rives attended Louisiana Tech.

Mr. Rives is a graduate of Louisiana Tech and obtained his Masters degree at Louisiana State university.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Miss Alice Jones, Heflin, La.; Miss Ernestine Martin, Minden, La.; Miss Gene Spencer, Monroe, La.; Mrs. H. H. Benoit, Monroe, La.; Mrs. J. T. French, Monroe, La.; Mrs. Tom Green, Ruston, La.; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Gilliland, Rayville, La.; Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Gilliland, Bastrop, La.; Mrs. Clara Gilliland, Monroe, La.; Mrs. Rives, mother of the groom, Lisbon, La.; Misses Virginia and Evelyn Rives, Lisbon, La.; Mr. Lional Enloe and Miss Enloe, Lisbon, La.

Literature Club Hears Interesting Discussions

The Current Literature club met with Mrs. R. F. Seiler on Wednesday afternoon. After a discussion of old and new business the meeting was turned over to the program chairman.

An interesting article, "Unusual Industries in Louisiana," was given by Mrs. Menefee. Mrs. John Naylor's paper, "Rural Development in Louisiana," was enjoyed by all. The book review, "Stars on the Sea," by F. Van Wyck Mason, was given by Mrs. G. B. Watkins.

In reviewing the book, Mrs. Watkins said:

"A great novel gives the dramatic answer of history to the question of the hour. Dare a weak defenseless nation defy a mighty and implacable enemy? In a vast drama both gripping and authentic is told the gallant story of the colonist who, in the face of an all-powerful foe, dared to flaunt their thirteen stripes and thirteen stars on the sea.

"A companion piece, but not a sequel, to the brilliant Three Harbours, this novel presents a fresh and unhackneyed version of the War of Independence as seen in a northern colony, a southern colony and a tropical island colony—Rhode Island, South Carolina and the Bahar What Breed's Hill was to 'Three Harbours,' valiant Moultrie's defense of Charleston's Fort Sullivan is to Stars on the Sea.

"At the touch of F. Van Wyck Mason's pen historic characters come alive with all their anguish, hope and suffering. No reader will ever forget Desire Harmony Bennet of Newport, Sam Higsby, the Pennsylvania rifleman, or scholarly Nat Coffin of Nantucket. The pageant of history, the conflicts of passions and ambitions, the movement of life, make this the major novel of the year."

A delicious luncheon course was served to the following members and guest: Mesdames Jordan Barton, J. E. Bryan, M. J. Carbone, R. L. Conway, Jr., J. Leon Dennis, V. S. Garnett, G. M. Heidenreich, Mike John, Jr., J. C. Kramer, Jr., J. M. Menefee, John Naylor, J. E. Peters, Louis Peters, G. B. Watkins, Earl Stovall, William Whitfield and Tom Davis.

Library Orders Many Popular New Books

Many popular books, including both fiction and non-fiction, have been ordered for the public library. Some that have already arrived are: "Sad Cypress" by Agatha Christie; "Dark Lightning" by Helen Topping Miller; "Secret of the Marshbanks" by Kathleen Norris, "The English Air" by D. E. Stevenson; "To the Indies" by C. S. Forester; "Stagecoach Sam" by Sanford Tousey; "Fighting Planes of the World" by Major B. Law.

"To the Indies," by the author of "The African Queen," is an exciting adventure story which relates the experiences of Don Narcisca Rich who accompanied Columbus on his third voyage.

The setting of the touching narrative, "The English Air" by D. E. Stevenson, is in England on the eve of the second European war. The son of a high Nazi official and his English mother visit their cousins in a peaceful English village. The story of the youth's awakening to the beauty of England and the understanding of Nazi deception is interestingly unfolded in this book.

"Fighting Planes of the World" by Major Law is a very valuable book with beautiful colored illustrations of the fighting planes used in modern warfare. It appeals to both children and adults.

There will be an interesting display of religious books at the library this week. In compliance with the many requests for books dealing with religion and Christianity. One of the most interesting and informative ones is "Whither Christianity?" by Lynn H. Hough, a religious symposium in which fifteen ministers and scholors contribute individual essays that discuss the rejuvenation of Christianity in the light of modern progress.

"This Believing World" by Lewis Browne is a pictorial narrative, suitable for adults and children, giving a clear account of the great religions of mankind.

In "Religion in a Changing World" by Rabbi Silver, there are ten sermons or addresses on the modern status of religion. He discusses religion in relation to science, world peace, the home, education, etc.

Other religious books highly recommended are: "True Christian Religion" by Emanuel Swedenborg; "Our Troublesome Religious Questions" by Edward L. Pell; "The Golden Bough" (a study in magic and religion) by James George Frazer; "Bible Characters" by Charles Reade; "Psychology and Religion" by Carl G. Jung; "Life of Christ" by Giovanni Papini; "A History of the Jews in the United States" by Rabbi Kirby Page; "The Great Controversy between Christ and Satan" by Ellen White; "What Dare I Think?" by Julian Huxley; "The Syrian Christ" by Abraham Rihbany; "The Man Nobody Knows" by Bruce Barton; "Christianity Goes To Press" by Edgar J. Goodspeed; "The Psychology of Religious Living" by Karl R. Stolz; "The Modern Family and The Church" by Regina W. Wieman; "Crisis and Decision" by Solomon Goldman; Scofield Reference Bible; The Bible, designed to be read as living literature, King James version; A Commentary on the Holy Bible; Bible Dictionary by Smith.

Home Of Mrs. Harper Scene Of Coffee Hour

Miss Doris Reid Honoree At Party, Mrs. Boyd And Mrs. Jordan Also Entertain For Bride-To-Be

Yellow harmonizes beautifully with the furnishings of Mrs. William Harper's home, so yellow roses, dahlias and chrysanthemums were selected for the floral theme when she and Mrs. Lena Hallam entertained during the coffee hour on Tuesday complimentary to Miss Doris Reid.

Guest were greeted in the spacious drawing room by the hostesses and their guest [illegible] Mrs. Alfred Be[illegible] Mrs. Robert Metcalf, Jr., of Monroe [illegible] Mrs. W. S. Dixon of Jackson, Miss.

Coffee was served in the dining room where handsome silver urns, presided over by Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Jr., were placed at one end of the refreshment table. Silver trays held a fascinating array of open faced sandwiches, pastries and other confections.

Miss Nan Buckner assisted in the serving. More than fifty guests called during the receiving hours, 10 to 12.

Claiming prominence among the distinctive pre-nuptial affairs honoring Miss Reid was the reception in the home of Mrs. G. A. Boyd with Mrs. Charles Jordan of Shreveport, co-hostess.

Mrs. Boyd received in a pink net semi-evening model and Mrs. Jordan received in a white and hyacinth blue blouse with black jersey skirt and crimson girdle. Miss Reid wore one of her most attractive trousseau models of Chinese blue taffeta shot with gold threads. Mrs. Reid wore a black chiffon and net semi-evening model and Mrs. Wesley Shafto, assisting in receiving, wore a horizon blue crepe model.

The coffee table in the dining room was the essence of artistry. Lace over white satin covered the oval table and a superb spray of calla lilies, arranged as a bride's bouquet, formed the central floral decor. Tall white candels gleamed in silver candelabra.

Miss Adelaide Parker in white taffeta and Miss Johnnie Meyers in rose and black crepe, passed silver trays laden with a varied assortment of tid-bits. Miss Harriet Boyle in black and white silk jersey and Mrs. R. C. Sparks in dephinium blue taffeta, alternated at the coffee urns. Mrs. Asher Whitley, wearing a black lace and net model, presided at the punch bowl.

Baptist Church Class Holds Social Affair

The Euzelian class of the First Baptist church held its monthly social affair Thursday night in the lovely home of Mrs. J. A. Jones who taught the class during the summer months in the absence of Miss Grace Carter.

Soon after arriving the members were invited into the beautifully-decorated dining room where a delicious buffet supper was served.

Later, a short business session, which was opened with a prayer, was presided over by the class president, Mrs. Roy Bannister. Reports were heard from the various officers and inspirational talks were given by Mrs. Jones and Miss Carter.

Due to the large membership in the class, it was thought best to divide it so as to promote more growth and at this time a most impressive installation service was conducted by Mrs. Edward Fergerson for the new officers of both classes. Miss Carter will teach one class, Mrs. Jones the other.

Games were played the latter part of the evening.

Those present were Mrs. Ivy Smith, Mrs. G. M. Hawkins, Mrs. R. H. Colvin, Mrs. Rex Miller, Mrs. Edward Fergerson, Mrs. Van Odom, Mrs. C. L. Williams, Mrs. A. L. Vandergriff, Mrs. J. D. GRAY HAIR at MY age? I can't AFFORD it!

YOU can't afford it, either.

So, if you have gray hair, just wet it with Canute Water. A few applications will completely re-color it, similar to its former natural shade. In one day, if you wish. After that, attention only once a month will keep it that way.

Curl your hair or get a permanent. There's no interference. Your hair remains clean and natural to the touch and looks natural in any light . . . even after shampooing, sunshine, perspiration or salt-water bathing.

Safe!

Skin Test Not Needed

Canute Water is pure, safe, colorless and crystal-clear. It has a remarkable record of 25 years without injury to a single person. It was also tested and proven perfectly harmless by a Noted Scientist in one of America's Greatest Universities.

No Other Product Can Make All These Claims

Is it any wonder that we sell more Canute Water than all other hair coloring preparations combined?

University Women Hold First Meeting Of Year

Mrs. Blanche Oliver entertained members of the American Association of University Women with a group of original poems and stories in French and Cajun dialect when they met with Miss Dean McKoin for the first meeting of the new year, with Mrs. Seymour Solomon and Miss Lucyle Godwin, co-hostesses.

Miss McKoin acted as chairman of the program. She discussed "French Literature in Louisiana." A brief history of French Literature and authors was given. Writers mentioned were: du Fossat, de Villeneufue, Xavier Martin, Marie Girard, Loure Audry, Dominique Rouquette, Charles Dugue, Kate Chopin, Louis Canonge, and others. Earliest writings of French Literature in Louisiana were the journals and accounts of the voyage to South Louisiana. Newspapers and French organizations have had great influence in preserving the French language, and have had an appreciable influence on the literature of the state. Societies and organizations have met regularly for the specific purpose of preserving the French language and spirit. French stories and books reviewed by Miss McKoin were: "Bayou Folk," "A No Count Creole," "The Return of Alcibiade," and "Gentleman of Bayou Teche."

Mrs. Hardy Perritt read the play "The Cajon" by Ada Carver, giving the French dialact.

Mrs. C. C. Colvert, president, presided during the meeting. There was a discussion concerning aid being given the British war refugees.

After the program a coffee hour was enjoyed. Miss McKoin was assisted in serving by Mrs. C. C. Colvert, Mrs. Solomon, Miss Godwyn, and Mrs. B. F. McKoin.

Members of the local branch of the American Association of University Women and their colleges are: Mrs. C. C. Colvert, Peabody; Mrs. W. R. Mrs. Clarke Hostess To Book Club Meeting

Mrs. W. B. Clarke was hostess to the Twentieth Century Book club Wednesday afternoon. After the singing of the club song and the reading of the Collect, a short business session ensued.

The program began with the singing of "God Bless America," after which Mrs. J. S. Meek gave a brief geographical and historical survey of American republics.

Miss Myrtle Rogers gave an interesting picture-lecture on South America. She brought out the fact that the number three played an important part in South America, it being triangular in shape and containing three highland regions and three basins.

Mrs. M. M. Munholland gave an interesting discourse on "Inter-American Relations," centering on the changes which have taken place since the abandonment of the imperialistic trend of the policies of our government which held sway during the nineteenth century.

A social hour followed during which Mrs. Clarke served a salad course to the following: Mesdames T. O. Brown, Fred Coon, Arthur Dryburgh, E. C. Gibson, L. N. Larche, M. S. McGuire, S. M. McReynolds, H. F. Madison, Jr., S. J. Meek, M. M. Munholland, J. M. Munholland, W. C. Oliver, Louis Hullum, J. W. Smith, W. M. Washburn, Henry Whitfield, A. M. Freeman and Miss Myrtle Rodgers.

Music Guild Studies American Composers

In keeping with the spirit of patriotism, the Music Guild will this year study American composers and their musical compositions. They will endeavor to explore and find fresh enjoyment in the beautiful melodies everywhere to be found in our own national garden of music.

The first meeting of the year was held in the home of Mrs. C. H. Bennett on Wednesday. The officers for the coming year are president, Mrs. R. W. Cretney; vice-president, Mrs. Louise Averett; secretary, Mrs. Clyde R. Pedigo; treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Ivey; parilmentarian, Mrs. J. Norman Coon and chorus director, Mrs. Dallas Goss.

Mrs. Cretney, in her introductory remarks urged al lmembers to observe promptness and loyalty that a spirit of progress and enthusiasm might be manifest in the club. A program of sacred music is scheduled for public performance just prior to the Christmas holidays and rehearsals have already begun on choruses to be featured on this program.

The following program was given at the close of the business session: Paper: The Romance of Music in America, by Mrs. E. E. Lawson; Voice: Pale Moon, by Logan, sung by Mrs. J. Norman Coon; Vocal Trio: From the Land of the Sky Blue Water, by Cadman, sung by Mrs. Paul Newman, Mrs. R. W. Cretney and Mrs. R. T. Watson; Voice: Beautiful Dreamer, by Stephen Foster, sung by Mrs. H. M. James; Paper: Current Events in music by Mrs. B. B. Martin. The hostess, Mrs. Bennett, served a delicious confection course to the following members: Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. R. W. Cretney, Mrs. J. L. Creshire, Mrs. Dallas Goss, Mrs. Willys Hopkins, Mrs. H. M. James, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mrs. B. B. Martin, Mrs. Paul Newman, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. Clyde R. Pedigo, Mrs. Raymond Spence, Mrs. R. T. Watson, and guests, Mrs. C. C. North, Mrs. E. G. Hinkle, Mrs. D. Curtis Seamon, Mrs. Emmett Snipes and Miss Marion Anthony of Houston, Texas.

Claiming the interest of friends is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Beverly Jean Lenard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lenard of Monroe, and Mr. Arleigh Brantley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Brantley of Marshall, Tex.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized in the home of the groom's parents Monday, September 9, at 8 o'clock. The Rev. J. S. Bates, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. A reception immediately followed the ceremony.

The bride wore a distinctive model of alix blue faille with a corsage of bride's roses and valley lilies.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School, and the groom is a graduate of Neville High School. Mr. Brantley is associated with the Darco Corporation of Marshall, Tex.

Following their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Brantley will be at home to their friends at 109 E. Burleson street, Marshall, Tex.

Of interest to a wide circle of friends in this city is the announcement of the marriage of James Edward Cavaness, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cavaness of Monroe, to Mrs. Gertrude Edler of Chicago. The marriage took place in Chicago August 22. Mr. and Mrs. Cavaness are now at home in Wichita, Kans.

Miss Sara Smith And John Calvert Married

The following article from the Tyler Courier-Times will be of interest to friends in this city and West Monroe:

"In a ceremony made impressive by its simplicity and quietness, Miss Sara Smith was united in marriage Saturday, September, 14, to John Calvert at 4:30 p.m. at the Christ Episcopal Church with Rev. W. Meade Brown officiating for the single-ring ceremony.

"The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman P. Smith and Mr. Calvert is the son of Dr. E. G. Calvert of West Monroe, La.

"The couple left later for a wedding trip to New Orleans, La. On their return they will be at home at 121 East Houston.

"The bride is a well-known member of the social set here and has a wide circle of friends in Tyler and East Texas. She attended Tyler schools and the University of Texas where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She has been employed with the Humble Oil Company here.

"Mr. Calvert is a graduate of electrical engineering from Louisiana State University. He is connected with the Humble Oil Company here.

"Out-of-town guests for the ceremony included Miss Dorothy Calvert of West Monroe, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. J. F. Heard of West Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Evans Swann of Austin, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Dr. and Mrs. Louis Faler of Shreveport, La., sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom."

Miss Doris Reid Honoree At Party; Mrs. Boyd And Mrs. Jordan Also Entertain For Bride-To-Be

Yellow harmonizes beautifully with the furnishings of Mrs. William Harper's home, so yellow roses, dahlias and chrysanthemums were selected for the floral theme when she and Mrs. Louis Hullum entertained during the coffee hour on Tuesday complimentary to Miss Doris Reid.

Guest were greeted in the spacious drawing room by the hostesses and their guest of honor, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Reid, Mrs. Robert Metcalf, Jr., of Memphis, and Mrs. W. S. Dixon, of Jackson, Miss.

Coffee was served in the dining room where handsome silver urns, presided over by Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale, Jr., were placed at one end of the refreshment table. Silver trays held a fascinating array of open faced sandwiches, pastries and other confections.

Miss Nan Buckner assisted in the serving. More than fifty guests called during the receiving hours, 10 to 12.

Claiming prominence among the distinctive pre-nuptial affairs honoring Miss Reid, was the reception in the home of Mrs. G. A. Boyd with Mrs. Charles Jordan of Shreveport, co-hostess.

Mrs. Boyd received in a pink net semi-evening model and Mrs. Jordan received in a white and hyacinth blue blouse with black jersey skirt and crimson girdle. Miss Reid wore one of her most attractive trousseau models of Chinese blue taffeta shot with gold threads. Mrs. Reid wore a black chiffon and net semi-evening model and Mrs. Wesley Shafto, assisting in receiving, wore a horizon blue crepe model.

The coffee table in the dining room was the essence of artistry. Lace over white satin covered the oval table and a superb spray of calla lilies, arranged as a bride's bouquet, formed the central floral decor. Tall white candels gleamed in silver candelabra.

Miss Adelaide Parker in white taffeta and Miss Johnnie Meyers in rose and black crepe, passed silver trays laden with a varied assortment of tid-bits. Miss Harriet Boyle in black and white silk jersey and Mrs. R. C. Sparks in dephinium blue taffeta, alternated at the coffee urns. Mrs. Asher Whitley, wearing a black lace and net model, presided at the punch bowl.

Baptist Church Class Holds Social Affair

The Euzelian class of the First Baptist church held its monthly social affair Thursday night in the lovely home of Mrs. J. A. Jones who taught the class during the summer months in the absence of Miss Grace Carter.

Soon after arriving the members were invited into the beautifully-decorated dining room where a delicious buffet supper was served.

Later, a short business session, which was opened with a prayer, was presided over by the class president, Mrs. Roy Bannister. Reports were heard from the various officers and inspirational talks were given by Mrs. Jones and Miss Carter.

Due to the large membership in the class, it was thought best to divide it so as to promote more growth and at this time a most impressive installation service was conducted by Mrs. Edward Fergerson for the new officers of both classes. Miss Carter will teach one class, Mrs. Jones the other.

Games were played the latter part of the evening.

Those present were Mrs. Ivy Smith, Mrs. G. M. Hawkins, Mrs. R. H. Colvin, Mrs. Rex Miller, Mrs. Edward Fergerson, Mrs. Van Odom, Mrs. C. L. Williams, Mrs. A. L. Vandergriff, Mrs. J. D. GRAY HAIR at MY age? I can't AFFORD it!

YOU can't afford it, either.

So, if you have gray hair, just wet it with Canute Water. A few applications will completely re-color it, similar to its former natural shade. In one day, if you wish. After that, attention only once a month will keep it that way.

Curl your hair or get a permanent. There's no interference. Your hair remains clean and natural to the touch and looks natural in any light . . . even after shampooing, sunshine, perspiration or salt-water bathing.

Safe!

Skin Test Not Needed

Canute Water is pure, safe, colorless and crystal-clear. It has a remarkable record of 25 years without injury to a single person. It was also tested and proven perfectly harmless by a Noted Scientist in one of America's Greatest Universities.

No Other Product Can Make All These Claims

Is it any wonder that we sell more Canute Water than all other hair coloring preparations combined?

Altrusa Club Hears Talk On Aeronautics

Leroy Severance Tells Of Women In Aviation. Aims Of Club Outlined In Meeting Here

Beautiful dahlias in all the rich, glowing shades of autumn from the gardens of Mrs. P. N. Edwards, banked the dinner table in the Mirror Room of the Frances Hotel for the first banquet of the year planned by members of the Altrusa Club.

Dr. Julia Hunter, chairman presided over the beautifully appointed, candle-lit table, and introduced the speaker of the evening, Leroy Severance, instructor of aeronautics at Northeast Junior College. This illuminating talk was of great interest to everyone present but especially so to a few members of Altrusa club who are contemplating the study of aeronautics. Women are now playing an important part in the field of aeronautics according to Mr. Severance who told of five women in particular who now hold licenses as full fledged pilots.

A short resume of the history of the Altrusa club was deemed advisable at this time. The first Altrusa club was organized in Nashville, Tenn., April 11, 1917.

The National Association of Altrusa Clubs was the first national organization of business and professional women, either classified or unclassified. The national association consists of 164 clubs, with 4,424 members. The local club has a membership of 12.

Altrusa clubs have been organized as a result of the belief that, through local, national and international group effort, women holding executive positions in business and in the professions should become articulate as an organized body, thereby making possible the promotion of their combined services to civil, national, and international developments; and also that, through association with one another, they would cultivate desirable friendships and encourage mutual helpfulness.

Altrusa clubs are classified and selective membership clubs composed of women who hold executive positions in diversified business and professional pursuits.

The distinguishing feature of membership in Altrusa is that only one representative of each particular occupational classification of business or profession can hold membership in the local club.

The International Association of Altrusa Clubs, Inc., is the association in which all Altrusa clubs are affiliated for the purpose of fostering, developing, and crystallizing Altrusa ideas, of formulating Altrusa polices, and of promoting the extension of Altrusa.

The following are objectives of Altrusa:

To encourage, promote, extend, and supervise Altrusa throughout the United States, Dominion of Canada, Mexico, and other countries that may be approved by the International Executive Committee, and to co-ordinate and generally direct the activities of the member clubs;

To cultivate friendly relationships, promote mutual understanding, and foster the solidarity of women who are actively engaged in business and the professions;

To encourage high ethical standards of business and professional conduct;

To be of service to young women entering business and professional fields;

To encourage participation in community and public affairs of a non-partisan character;

To do any and all things conducive to the service, betterment, and ultimate welfare of women in business and in the professions;

To promote educational and cultural training and improvement.

CHAPTER VII

Being with Joe now gave Sue Mary rather a feeling of entering another world. Only a short time ago his life had been hers. Now there was a wall between them.

Oh, not much of a wall, she told herself. Rather a curtain. She had noticed its presence when she had tried to explain to him what she did down at the Youth Progress office; of how she was working for the party candidate. Or when she tried to make her evenings with Nick sound as amusing as they did when she talked them over at the headquarters with Vera and Natalie.

"I can't understand you going with such a screwy crowd," Joe would repeat helplessly. "You, of all people."

He would stare bewilderedly at her; almost as though she was a stranger. And that always irritated Sue Mary. She had a feeling that he was astonished at finding her capable of possessing thoughts; of being a personality; of wanting to know about the world in which she lived. To put those things into words, though, always left her floundering.

"Can't you see, Joe, that I won't sit home twiddling my thumbs. I have a right to some fun. And, anyway, this isn't play. It's real work. I'm taking an interest in the life of the city, the state, the nation. I'm through being blind and stupid, and—oh, feminine. There's work to be done and we young people are the ones to do it."

"A typed speech," Joe muttered. His square jaw hardened and little muscles played around the corners of his mouth. Hot anger blazed in his blue eyes, but he managed to keep back the words that would drag them into a quarrel. "You'll see soon enough. You'll see—"

"See what?"

"See that there's always ways of helping folks and being good citizens that were never practiced by that gang of—of—"

"Of what—?"

"Reds!" He spit the word out.

Sue Mary was furious. "You would say that. Of course they have been called Reds. It's a joke at headquarters. They've been called Reds before, but they're all good Americans. Just because they want the right man in office and want a good system of government so the laborers can have their rights—"

Joe stood up in the dim parlor where they had sat for a few moments after he brought her home from the movies. His height seemed to fill the room, and even in the near-darkness she could feel and see his anger.

"There's nothing I can say. I won't quarrel with you, Sue Mary. I love you and nothing's going to change that."

She couldn't fight him when he took that attitude, although at the moment, she hoped never to see him again. Blindly working himself to a tired hulk; forgetting that he was young and alive, and ambitious. Forgetting that he should have the right to go ahead with his plans to develop that new machine for the plant; forgetting that he should have time to play and live.

She loved him, but he was so blind. She promised to go with him to a picnic that some of the men and their families were giving.

"They're good guys; guys that have been in the department with me for a long time," he said. "Maybe they won't be as interesting as that crowd you've met, but they're real people. No phonies."

That might have started the argument all over, but Sue Mary made no answer. She'd go. She'd try to be [illegible]

[illegible] house someday, and on sending Jeanne to dancing school. We feel we got a little security. And I guess all that trouble I mean the strikes and stuff, that's all over. I hope so anyway."

"But the workers are still not getting enough," Sue Mary [illegible]. Vera was always lecturing about the underprivileged, the laboring class ground down [illegible] conditions that existed [illegible] which had taken off the [illegible] of capitalism.

One of the wives laughed tolerantly. "She sounds like them women that came out to the picket line a couple of years ago," she said. "You ask Joe about them. He'll tell you we're doing all right.

"Sure, maybe things could be better. But so could everything. We'll get along. Our men ain't dumb. They're working with the management and things are coming along better."

Going back home that evening with the late afternoon sun casting long shadows ahead, with Joe solid and happy beside her in the dusty old coupe, Sue Mary found a pleasant glow of comfort creeping through her. Somehow it didn't seem quite so necessary to save these people from themselves. To be sure, conditions could be improved, but they seemed rather capable of handling their affairs themselves.

"Joe, maybe you do know me pretty well. I'm glad I went," she said. Joe turned and looked down at her.

"I thought you were asleep," he

CHAPTER VII

Being with Joe now gave Sue Mary rather a feeling of entering another world. Only a short time ago his life had been hers. Now there was a wall between them.

Oh, not much of a wall, she told herself. Rather a curtain. She had noticed its presence when she had tried to explain to him what she did down at the Youth Progress office; of how she was working for the party candidate. Or when she tried to make her evenings with Nick sound as amusing as they did when she talked them over at the headquarters with Vera and Natalie.

"I can't understand you going with such a screwy crowd," Joe would repeat helplessly. "You, of all people."

He would stare bewilderedly at her; almost as though she was a stranger. And that always irritated Sue Mary. She had a feeling that he was astonished at finding her capable of possessing thoughts; of being a personality; of wanting to know about the world in which she lived. To put those things into words, though, always left her floundering.

"Can't you see, Joe, that I won't sit home twiddling my thumbs. I have a right to some fun. And, anyway, this isn't play. It's real work. I'm taking an interest in the life of the city, the state, the nation. I'm through being blind and stupid, and—oh, feminine. There's work to be done and we young people are the ones to do it."

"A typed speech," Joe muttered. His square jaw hardened and little muscles played around the corners of his mouth. Hot anger blazed in his blue eyes, but he managed to keep back the words that would drag them into a quarrel, "You'll see soon enough. You'll see—"

"See what?"

"See that there's always ways of helping folks and being good citizens that were never practiced by that gang of—of—"

"Of what—?"

"Reds!" He spit the word out.

Sue Mary was furious. "You would say that. Of course they have been called Reds. It's a joke at headquarters. They've been called Reds before, but they're all good Americans. Just because they want the right man in office and want a good system of government so the laborers can have their rights—"

Joe stood up in the dim parlor where they had sat for a few moments after he brought her home from the movies. His height seemed to fill the room, and even in the near-darkness she could feel and see his anger.

"There's nothing I can say. I won't quarrel with you, Sue Mary. I love you and nothing's going to change that."

She couldn't fight him when he took that attitude, although at the moment, she hoped never to see him again. Blindly working himself to a tired hulk; forgetting that he was young and alive, and ambitious. Forgetting that he should have the right to go ahead with his plans to develop that new machine for the plant; forgetting that he should have time to play and live.

She loved him, but he was so blind. She promised to go with him to a picnic that some of the men and their families were giving.

"They're good guys; guys that have been in the department with me for a long time," he said. "Maybe they won't be as interesting as that crowd you've met, but they're real people. No phonies."

That might have started the argument all over, but Sue Mary made no answer. She'd go. She'd try to be patient. These people were workers: the ones Nick and Vera were always talking about. The ones whose battles they were fighting.

Only a few days later at the picnic Sue Mary didn't have the feeling that they needed anyone to fight their battles. They accepted her cheerfully enough because she was Joe's girl, and Joe was one swell guy. A guy with brains.

They weren't jealous of Joe. They were proud of having a guy with letters after his name work with them. He knew those big machines like a doc knew a patient. They kidded him, but they were proud of him.

And their wives were proud of these workers. The women were a bit dull: a bit too settled, engrossed in the sale at Miller's Super-Market; the new movie starring Gable; the dance the club was having next week; the time their husbands took off evenings to go to union meetings. Sue Mary listened and found herself seeking answers to questions that came to her now from her work at headquarters.

The wives were excited over the new recreation center opening in their neighborhood. The youngsters could play under supervisors, they had a swimming pool and a gym. There were sewing classes for the mothers and a class in civics. And they were interested in the union. Negotiations were underway for a new contract.

"Once we never heard of severance pay, or vacations with pay, or a board that passed on dismissals," little Mrs. Smalley said. "Well, it sure is swell to have such things now. Frank and I can actually plan on owning a house someday, and on sending Joanne to dancing school. We feel we got a little security. And I guess all that trouble—I mean the sitdowns and stuff—that's all over. I hope so anyway."

"But—the workers are still not getting enough," Sue Mary argued weakly. Vera was always lecturing about the underprivileged; the laboring class ground down; the idealistic conditions that existed in other countries which had shaken off the yoke of capitalism.

One of the wives laughed tolerantly. "She sounds like them women that came out to the picket line a couple of years ago," she said. "You ask your Joe about them. He'll tell you we're doing all right.

"Sure, maybe things could be better. But so could everything. We'll get along. Our men ain't dumb. They're working with the management and things are coming along better."

Going back home that evening with the late afternoon sun casting long shadows ahead, with Joe solid and happy beside her in the dusty old coupe, Sue Mary found a pleasant glow of comfort creeping through her. Somehow it didn't seem quite so necessary to save these people from themselves. To be sure, conditions could be improved, but they seemed rather capable of handling their affairs themselves.

"Joe—maybe you do know me pretty well. I'm glad I went," she said. Joe turned and looked down at her.

"I thought you were asleep," he said. "Anyway, I'm glad you went, too. Help to balance you."

"Maybe I did need to be balanced a little."

"Too much Youth Progress," he said gently. "It couldn't hurt you, though. You're too bright to swallow that hokum."

She wished suddenly that she could continue feeling so sure of herself and the world. She wished she hadn't promised Nick she would go to the rally. But he would call and she would go.

D. C. Black, Pastor's Associate

We ought to have no difficulty in reaching the goal of 1,050 in Sunday School attendance set for us by our superintendent, E. H. Miller. We just lacked 14, according to the report turned in, reaching our 1,000 last Sunday. There were several who sat in the auditorium and heard the lesson taught by Mr. Colvert who were not counted. Our teachers and officers are doing their best in "the round up" before Promotion Sunday next Sunday.

The pastor will speak both hours Sunday on appropriate themes. The large chorus choir under the direction of Mr. D. C. Black will sing special numbers. Baptismal services will be held at the First Baptist Church, West Monroe at 5 p. m.

The Brotherhoods and the Baptist Training Union will meet at 6:15, and the evening service will be at 7:30.

If you do not worship elsewhere we shall be glad to have you join us in all these services. We are here to serve and not to be served.

Rev. I. J. Brooks, Pastor
Max Braswell, Choir Director

Attend Sunday school at 9:45 this morning.

We are thankful to be able to announce that our church year is closing with a commendable record of work done in unity and with devotion to God. Our officers for the Sunday school and Training Union were elected Wednesday night for the coming year by the church conference in a prevailing spirit of harmony.

This morning our pastor brings a message from John 1:38 on the subject of "Jesus Christ at Home." The evening srevice will be held at 7:30 and the pastor's subject will be taken from the great 53rd chapter of Isaiah.

Please notice that the hours of the Training Union and evening worship service have been changed to 6:30 and 7:30 respectively.

Hear your pastor both services today.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH
Monroe, La.
3400 Lee Avenue
D. D. Cantrell, Pastor
C. Dale Cobb, Director of Music

The Sunday school will begin today 9:45 and close 10:40 a.m., 55 precious minutes. Let all the people be on time and have a good lesson. All the friends are cordially invited to come. The Training Union also will be held at the usual time, 6:45 p.m., the largest group last Sunday night yet, and we are planning for more to come. If you desire to be present there will be a class for you to share the good program and a blessing also.

The pastor's subjects for the day are "Glorifying Jesus in the Church" in the morning. For the evening hour "The Well Answered Question." Upon the theme of these two subjects hang the destiny of Christianity. It is high time for Christians to become aware of the fact that "we are our brother's keeper," and that Christ must be given the prominent place in our lives and devotion. The poet has expressed this hope in these words for us—

"I can but perish if I go;
I am resolved to try;
For if I stay away, I know
I shall forever die."

Or perhaps the reverse may mean the mistake of some who say no to the gospel call, no and be found.

"Storm-beaten, torn and tossed
By night and by day.
Lone, lorn, lamented, lost;
Drifting away."

Even though churches ever welcome every straying person, the gospel calles "Return ye, return ye for why will ye die." Let all the redeemed of the Lord watch, work, and pray, for this is the day of all days to be true to the Christ of your profession. Bring your families and friends to all of the services and let this be the great day and victory for Christ.

GOOD HOPE BAPTIST CHURCH
West Monroe
L. Roy Joyner, Pastor

Sunday school begins at 10 a.m. We have a class for all ages. Come and join us.

Morning services at 11 a.m. B. T. U. at 7 p.m. Evening services at 8 p.m. The pastor will have charge of both services. W. M. U. meets at 2:15 Tuesday evening. Mid-week prayer services on Wednesday at 8 p.m. We invite you to come and worship with us.

PENIEL BAPTIST CHURCH
West Monroe, La.

After the regular Sunday school hour beginning at 10 a.m., we shall present, instead of the usual preaching service, a youth program under the direction of Miss Winnie Smith, entitled "What We Believe." We expect this program to be inspiring to everyone and cordially invite you to attend.

Sunday night will be the beginning of our revival under the direction of Rev. D. N. Rockett, our new pastor. We know this revival will be of great benefit to our church and sincerely hope that we can benefit others by winning lost souls to Christ.

The bus will run during the week so that those who have no other conveyance may attend the revival.

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH
J. T. Hinke, Pastor

Sunday school begins 10:00 o'clock.
Morning worship at 11:00.
B. T. U. services start 7:00 p.m.
Evening worship at 8:00 o'clock.

We are happy to announce that our church auditorium will be completed for all services Sunday, September 29. Special program will be announced later in the week. An invitation is extended to all to be in our services on that day.

Services for today are being held under the tabernacle on Reagen street. We will look for you to worship with us.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
St. John And Oak Streets
R. T. Watson, Minister

Church school at 9:45 a.m. Now that school has started, and vacations are over, let's become more regular in our church school attendance.

The sermon will be the third in the series based on the parables of Jesus. The subject of this message will be, "How a Rich Man Went to Hell, and a Poor Man Went to Heaven."

Choir practice will be held Wednesday at 7:45 p.m.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Jackson At Texas
J. P. Lowrey, Minister

Bible classes, 9:45 a.m. Worship, 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sermon subject at morning service "Plans and Specifications." Ladies' Bible class, Tuesday at 3 p.m. Prayer meeting, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

"For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men."

GRACE CHURCH
Fourth And Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for the 18th Sunday after Trinity, Sept. 22nd, are as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. The church will convene for their fall work at 9:30 a.m., and morning prayer and sermon at 10:45 a.m.

The spirit of Sunday's service in the main is to exhibit the peril of temptation and the mercy and judgments of God towards sinners. We therefore pray in the Collect, for purity of mind and heart, and for grace to withstand the great enemies whom we renounce in Holy Baptism. In the Epistle, we are directed to Him who alone can confirm this grace in us and give us this blameless purity against the day of account. In the Holy Gospel, we see our Lord subjected to the temptations of men, and reenacting the whole law, in its spiritual breadth, as the standard of evangelical morality. The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate. You are welcome.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH
Harrison and Darbonne Streets
Sherrouse Addition
Vernon C. Grosse, Pastor

Sunday school and Bible class meets at 10 a. m. Church service at 10:45 a. m. You are cordially invited to attend and worship with us.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Jackson At Wood Street
A. M. Freeman, Pastor

"Keeping Awake" is the theme for the morning worship and "The Great Commandment" is the evening topic.

We invite you to all the services of this church. The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet Tuesday at 3:00 o'clock for the first study program of the new organization. The Wesleyan Service Guild will meet at 7:30 Tuesday evening at the church.

All Christian workers and others interested in such subjects as "The Study of Older Children," "Teaching Adolescents," "Enriching Home Life," "The Methodist Church and Its Work," and "New Testament Survey" are urged to attend the training school to be held at First Church, September 29 to October 4th. The new church school year begins October 6th. Make your plans now to enroll in some class if you have not been attending. On Friday the Junior Department of the Church School will have a party at the Church Annex at 4 o'clock with the third year primaries as their special guests.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
West Monroe, La.
C. Karlos Smith, Pastor

We are nearing the close of this conference year and every Methodist should by all means be a regular attendant upon every service for the next few weeks. Our church has this year made the greatest progress of all the years of her history. There is much work to be done before the closing of this conference year. This is an urgent appeal to all our people to rally to the church in these days. Our Sunday school meets at 9:45 a.m. with a class for every age and a teacher for every class. Preaching services at 11:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. with a special musical program at every service. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30. We had 66 present for the prayer meeting last Wednesday evening, let us make that 100 for next Wednesday night.

If you appreciate fearless Gospel preaching you are invited to attend our church.

GORDON AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH
J. M. Alford, Pastor

With the Sunday school opening at 9:45 a.m., we begin the regular program of the day's work. Immediately following the Sunday school we have our 11 o'clock worship period. The two Epworth leagues hold their meetings at 6:30 p.m., and the evening worship services will open at 7:30 o'clock. The Wesley Brotherhood will meet in the rooms of the adult department at 7 p.m. for a 30-minute program. Our Sunday school and worship service attendance still holds up fine with increasing interest at every service. We cordially invite one and all to attend today. A hearty welcome awaits you. Along with other attractive features of the day we will be favored with a special quartet at the evening hour. The women of the department of Christian Service met at the church last Tuesday afternoon for their installation service. A large number was present. We have set the time for our fall revival to begin October 10, at which time we will have with us our district superintendent, Rev. W. L. Doss, Jr., who will bring us the messages and lead us in this work.

STONE AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH
I. L. Yeager, Pastor

During my ministry I had to do with an old man who was sorely afflicted by a wastrel son. At market one day he encountered a neighbor who asked how the lad was doing. "Very ill," was the reply: "Worse than ever." "How do you put up with him?" said the other. "If he were mine, I'd turn him out." "Yes," was the answer, "and so would I, if he were yours; but, you see, he's not yours; he's mine."

There is the intercession of Christ. He has planted humanity in the heart of God. "How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? How shall I deliver thee, Israel? Mine heart is turned within me. My compassions are kindles together."—Hosea 11:8.—Selected.

To all who are not attending regularly elsewhere, we invite you to worship with us, beginning with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Message delivered at 11 a.m. Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p.m. Miss Gertye Mae Brashier was appointed to lead the service. Spirited gospel singing will feature the beginning of the evening service which will be evangelistic. Circle meetings Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:30.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
Thomas Avenue At Richmond Street
G. M. And Ina Lee Akin, Pastors

Rev. Clyde B. Rodgers, artist-evangelist, of Florida will give a chalk picture demonstration to the young people at the regular Sunday school hour, 9:45 a.m. Mr. S. P. Quigley, superintendent in charge. The young people shall meet at 6:30 p.m. Mr. O. L. Hoskins, president. The evangelist will speak at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The special singing shall be a great inspiration. Worship with us.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest D. Holloway, Pastor

The general assembly expects all Presbyterians to rally about the flag of Christ and to labor in the interest of the program set up. The points in the program are:

October-December:

1. Worldwide communion Sunday, October 6.
2. Loyal attendance on all church services.
3. Sunday school teaching for decisions.
4. New territory for outpost Sunday schools.
5. Doctrinal preaching on essential Christian convictions.

"Crusade for Christ" and "Never Losing Heart" are the subjects of our messages. The first has to do with the victories won by the members of the early Apostolic church, and the second about the facts pertaining to courage, stability of purpose, and Christian enthusiasm. We are thinking seriously about His will, and the carrying out of His decrees for the world through His followers.

The Sabbath school is increasing in attendance. With your presence, our objective for rally day, October 6, will be reached. Will you study with the teachers the lesson assigned for this Sabbath? A hearty welcome awaits you at all services.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD
Cypress And Crosley Streets
West Monroe
E. L. Tanner, Pastor

Services today will be held at the usual hours beginning with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. S. W. Hamilton, superintendent. Those who are not attending other Sunday schools are especially invited to meet with us. Bring the family—we have a class and teacher for every age.

The pastor will be in charge and deliver the sermon at both preaching hours 11:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Christ Ambassador class meets at 6:30 p.m. Services during the week are held each Tuesday and Thursday nights. The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
St. John and Grammont Streets
L. T. Hastings, Pastor
D. C. Black, Pastor's Associate

We ought to have no difficulty in reaching the goal of 1,050 in Sunday School attendance set for us by our superintendent, E. H. Miller. We just lacked 14, according to the report turned in, reaching our 1,000 last Sunday. There were several who sat in the auditorium and heard the lesson taught by Mr. Colvert who were not counted. Our teachers and officers are doing their best in "the round up" before Promotion Sunday next Sunday.

The pastor will speak both hours Sunday on appropriate themes. The large chorus choir under the direction of Mr. D. C. Black will sing special numbers. Baptismal services will be held at the First Baptist Church, West Monroe at 5 p. m.

The Brotherhoods and the Baptist Training Union will meet at 6:15, and the evening service will be at 7:30.

If you do not worship elsewhere we shall be glad to have you join us in all these services. We are here to serve and not to be served.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
812 Mississippi Street
Rev. I. J. Brooks, Pastor
Max Braswell, Choir Director

Attend Sunday school at 9:45 this morning.

We are thankful to be able to announce that our church year is closing with a commendable record of work done in unity and with devotion to God. Our officers for the Sunday school and Training Union were elected Wednesday night for the coming year by the church conference in a prevailing spirit of harmony.

This morning our pastor brings a message from John 1:38 on the subject of "Jesus Christ at Home." The evening srevice will be held at 7:30 and the pastor's subject will be taken from the great 53rd chapter of Isaiah.

Please notice that the hours of the Training Union and evening worship service have been changed to 6:30 and 7:30 respectively.

Hear your pastor both services today.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH
Monroe, La.
3400 Lee Avenue
D. D. Cantrell, Pastor
C. Dale Cobb, Director of Music

The Sunday school will begin today 9:45 and close 10:40 a.m., 55 precious minutes. Let all the people be on time and have a good lesson. All the friends are cordially invited to come. The Training Union also will be held at the usual time, 6:45 p.m., the largest group last Sunday night yet, and we are planning for more to come. If you desire to be present there will be a class for you to share the good program and a blessing also.

The pastor's subjects for the day are "Glorifying Jesus in the Church" in the morning. For the evening hour "The Well Answered Question." Upon the theme of these two subjects hang the destiny of Christianity. It is high time for Christians to become aware of the fact that "we are our brother's keeper," and that Christ must be given the prominent place in our lives and devotion. The poet has expressed this hope in these words for us—

"I can but perish if I go;
I am resolved to try;
For if I stay away, I know
I shall forever die."

Or perhaps the reverse may mean the mistake of some who say no to the gospel call, no and be found.

"Storm-beaten, torn and tossed
By night and by day.
Lone, lorn, lamented, lost;
Drifting away."

Even though churches ever welcome every straying person, the gospel calles "Return ye, return ye for why will ye die." Let all the redeemed of the Lord watch, work, and pray, for this is the day of all days to be true to the Christ of your profession. Bring your families and friends to all of the services and let this be the great day and victory for Christ.

GOOD HOPE BAPTIST CHURCH
West Monroe
L. Roy Joyner, Pastor

Sunday school begins at 10 a.m. We have a class for all ages. Come and join us.

Morning services at 11 a.m. B. T. U. at 7 p.m. Evening services at 8 p.m. The pastor will have charge of both services. W. M. U. meets at 2:15 Tuesday evening. Mid-week prayer services on Wednesday at 8 p.m. We invite you to come and worship with us.

PENIEL BAPTIST CHURCH
West Monroe, La.

After the regular Sunday school hour beginning at 10 a.m., we shall present, instead of the usual preaching service, a youth program under the direction of Miss Winnie Smith, entitled "What We Believe." We expect this program to be inspiring to everyone and cordially invite you to attend.

Sunday night will be the beginning of our revival under the direction of Rev. D. N. Rockett, our new pastor. We know this revival will be of great benefit to our church and sincerely hope that we can benefit others by winning lost souls to Christ.

The bus will run during the week so that those who have no other conveyance may attend the revival.

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH
J. T. Hinke, Pastor

Sunday school begins 10:00 o'clock.
Morning worship at 11:00.
B. T. U. services start 7:00 p.m.
Evening worship at 8:00 o'clock.

We are happy to announce that our church auditorium will be completed for all services Sunday, September 29. Special program will be announced later in the week. An invitation is extended to all to be in our services on that day.

Services for today are being held under the tabernacle on Reagen street. We will look for you to worship with us.

"For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men."

GRACE CHURCH
Fourth And Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for the 18th Sunday after Trinity, Sept. 22nd, are as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. The church will convene for their fall work at 9:30 a.m., and morning prayer and sermon at 10:45 a.m.

The spirit of Sunday's service in the main is to exhibit the peril of temptation and the mercy and judgments of God towards sinners. We therefore pray in the Collect, for purity of mind and heart, and for grace to withstand the great enemies whom we renounce in Holy Baptism. In the Epistle, we are directed to Him who alone can confirm this grace in us and give us this blameless purity against the day of account. In the Holy Gospel, we see our Lord subjected to the temptations of men, and reenacting the whole law, in its spiritual breadth, as the standard of evangelical morality. The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate. You are welcome.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH

Jackson At Wood Street
A. M. Freeman, Pastor

"Keeping Awake" is the theme for the morning worship and "The Great Commandment" is the evening topic.

We invite you to all the services of this church. The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet Tuesday at 3:00 o'clock for the first study program of the new organization. The Wesleyan Service Guild will meet at 7:30 Tuesday evening at the church.

All Christian workers and others interested in such subjects as "The Study of Older Children," "Teaching Adolescents," "Enriching Home Life," "The Methodist Church and Its Work," and "New Testament Survey" are urged to attend the training school to be held at First Church, September 29 to October 4th. The new church school year begins October 6th. Make your plans now to enroll in some class if you have not been attending. On Friday the Junior Department of the Church School will have a party at the Church Annex at 4 o'clock with the third year primaries as their special guests.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
West Monroe, La.
C. Karlos Smith, Pastor

We are nearing the close of this conference year and every Methodist should by all means be a regular attendant upon every service for the next few weeks. Our church has this year made the greatest progress of all the years of her history. There is much work to be done before the closing of this conference year. This is an urgent appeal to all our people to rally to the church in these days. Our Sunday school meets at 9:45 a.m. with a class for every age and a teacher for every class. Preaching services at 11:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. with a special musical program at every service. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30. We had 66 present for the prayer meeting last Wednesday evening, let us make that 100 for next Wednesday night.

If you appreciate fearless Gospel preaching you are invited to attend our church.

GORDON AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH
J. M. Alford, Pastor

With the Sunday school opening at 9:45 a.m., we begin the regular program of the day's work. Immediately following the Sunday school we have our 11 o'clock worship period. The two Epworth leagues hold their meetings at 6:30 p.m., and the evening worship services will open at 7:30 o'clock. The Wesley Brotherhood will meet in the rooms of the adult department at 7 p.m. for a 30-minute program. Our Sunday school and worship service attendance still holds up fine with increasing interest at every service. We cordially invite one and all to attend today. A hearty welcome awaits you. Along with other attractive features of the day we will be favored with a special quartet at the evening hour. The women of the department of Christian Service met at the church last Tuesday afternoon for their installation service. A large number was present. We have set the time for our fall revival to begin October 10, at which time we will have with us our district superintendent, Rev. W. L. Doss, Jr., who will bring us the messages and lead us in this work.

STONE AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH
I. L. Yeager, Pastor

During my ministry I had to do with an old man who was sorely afflicted by a wastrel son. At market one day he encountered a neighbor who asked how the lad was doing. "Very ill," was the reply: "Worse than ever." "How do you put up with him?" said the other. "If he were mine, I'd turn him out." "Yes," was the answer, "and so would I, if he were yours; but, you see, he's not yours: he's mine."

There is the intercession of Christ. He has planted humanity in the heart of God. "How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? How shall I deliver thee, Israel? Mine heart is turned within me. My compassions are kindles together."—Hosea 11:8.—Selected.

To all who are not attending regularly elsewhere, we invite you to worship with us, beginning with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Message delivered at 11 a.m. Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p.m. Miss Gertye Mae Brashier was appointed to lead the service. Spirited gospel singing will feature the beginning of the evening service which will be evangelistic. Circle meetings Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:30.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
Thomas Avenue At Richmond Street
G. M. And Ina Lee Akin, Pastors

Rev. Clyde B. Rodgers, artist-evangelist, of Florida will give a chalk picture demonstration to the young people at the regular Sunday school hour, 9:45 a.m. Mr. S. P. Quigley, superintendent in charge. The young people shall meet at 6:30 p.m. Mr. O. L. Hoskins, president. The evangelist will speak at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The special singing shall be a great inspiration. Worship with us.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest D. Holloway, Pastor

The general assembly expects all Presbyterians to rally about the flag of Christ and to labor in the interest of the program set up. The points in the program are:

October-December:

1. Worldwide communion Sunday, October 6.
2. Loyal attendance on all church services.
3. Sunday school teaching for decisions.
4. New territory for outpost Sunday schools.
5. Doctrinal preaching on essential Christian convictions.

"Crusade for Christ" and "Never Losing Heart" are the subjects of our messages. The first has to do with the victories won by the members of the early Apostolic church, and the second about the facts pertaining to courage, stability of purpose, and Christian enthusiasm. We are thinking seriously about His will, and the carrying out of His decrees for the world through His followers.

The Sabbath school is increasing in attendance. With your presence, our objective for rally day, October 6, will be reached. Will you study with the teachers the lesson assigned for this Sabbath? A hearty welcome awaits you at all services.

'Rhythm On The River' Opens Engagement At Paramount

Crosby And Mary Martin Are Starred

Basil Rathbone And Radio Stars Included In Cast Of Musical Hit

HOLLYWOOD and radio are now permanently allied in bringing entertainment seekers the best each has to offer. There was a time when both these powers were at each other's throats, and it appeared as recently as a few years ago that neither would capitulate. However, with the success of such air shows as Hollywood Playhouse, Cecil B. de Mille's Theater of the Air and at least a half dozen other top flight programs featuring the cream of the cinema, an interchange of personalities began taking place until today the two outstanding fields of entertainment have become permanent partners.

Paramount, first to take advantage of the popularity of radio favorites in casting its pictures, continued the policy, after seven films with ether stars prominently cast, by placing four radio favorites in "Rhythm on the River," the new Bing Crosby comedy which comes to the Paramount theater for three days starting today.

Paramount started recruiting from the airways when they cast Jack Benny in "Man About Town." Jack brought along his maestro, Phil Harris, and that notable gentleman of color, "Rochester."

Jack Benny topped all of this by including Rochester, Harris, Dennis Day, his tenor, and Andy Devine in "Buck Benny Rides Again." Miss Cornell made her screen debut in this film.

For its production "What a Life," Paramount took the famous Aldrich Family of the air lanes, and the results justified the move so well that a second Aldrich Family film, "Life With Henry," was made.

The studio then purchased the radio show title, "I Want a Divorce," and cast Dick Powell, radio star, for the lead. Following this, and before "Rhythm on the River" went into production, Paramount made "Comin' Round the Mountain," starring Bob Burns and six prominent radio personalities, including Uncle Ezra, Jerry Colonna, Mayor Gildersleeve and the Old Timer of the Fibber McGee program, "Slaphappy Grandpappy" and "Mirandy."

Other major studios have also gone to the radio for talent, and have readily loaned of their rosters in the way of movie stars. Both sides of the axis would seem to be thoroughly pleased and it is believed that both audiences are happy about the whole thing.

Lillian Cornell, radio singing star, makes her debut as a film actress in Bing Crosby's "Rhythm on the River," which opens today at the Paramount, and plays Monday and Tuesday. Mary Martin, Basil Rathbone and Oscar Levant, star of radio's "Information Please," are also to be seen in top roles.

Levant [illegible] while Bing Crosby wonders "how come?" The trio appear in "Rhythm on the River" opening today at the Paramount and playing Monday and Tuesday.

[illegible]

Levant, as a musician, pounds out a melody Beethoven and Berlin overlooked for immortality in "Rhythm on the River."

Levant struggles while melodies are bursting from him in "Rhythm on the River." He gets no credit, no cash, no girl, no love, nothing! but fun!

Bob Burns and Una Merkel are engaged as a result of the kiss Bob gives her (or is it a peck?); anyway that is "hill" custom in "Comin' Round the Mountain," which entertains movie patrons Friday and Saturday at the Paramount theater.

Brenda Joyce is being spanked by George Murphy in this scene from "Public Deb No. 1," playing Wednesday and Thursday on the Paramount screen. To liven the already hilarious plot are Mischa Auer, Charlie Ruggles, Ralph Bellamy, Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom, Berton Churchill, Franklin Pangborn and Elsa Maxwell.

FORMER REPRESENTATIVE IS DEAD IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Wallace A. Nunez, former member of the state House of Representatives from St. Bernard parish, died today in Baptist Hospital here at the age of 49 years.

Nunez was elected to the Legislature in 1920 and served until 1924. He was a prominent lawyer of St. Bernard parish and New Orleans and served as secretary of the Bayou Terre au Boeufs Drainage District.

Circus Performance Run With Military Precision

The precision that made the Continental cavalry the greatest military unit of pre-war Europe is reflected twice daily in the arena of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

With his jewel-studded silver whistle between his teeth, Bradna directs the big-top displays with the same military finesse that won fame for his regiment abroad two score years ago.

One of circusdom's most magnetic officials, Fred Bradna plays an important part in maintaining friendly relations among the many and varied groups which make up The Big Show's personnel. His complete command of nine languages is a tremendous asset.

Known by millions or circusgoers as "The Lady in White," Madame Bradna rides White Eagle, her beautiful Arabian stallion, in the show's splendid new haute ecole display.

With 800 world-celebrated circus stars and a multitude of amazing new features never before witnessed in America, The Big Show will exhibit in West Monroe Sunday, September 29.

In the world's largest tent, now air-conditioned, performances will be given at 2:15 and 8:15 p.m., commencing with "The Return of Marco Polo," the most gorgeous spectacle in amusement history.

This superb opening feature, created and costumed by Max Weldy, is presented under his personal direction. Weldy has achieved international fame as the designer of the celebrated French Folies Bergere and Casino de Paris productions.

The doors will open at 1 and 7 p.m., allowing more than an hour's time in which to view the mammoth menagerie of more than a thousand rare animals, including Gargantua the Great, famous giant gorilla.

Adjoining the menagerie, the great new horse fair tent housing hundreds of purebred equine aristocrats will be open to patrons of the circus before the main performance begins.

'The Biscuit Eater' Now At Capitol

Story Of Two Kids And A Dog Brought To Screen In Fine Picture

A [illegible] Paramount [illegible] Dixie [illegible] "The Biscuit Eater," which opens [illegible] at the Capitol theater. The story deals with the adventures of a spunky youngster who adopts a hound the world has rejected and trains him into a blue ribbon champion to the amazement of the experts.

"The Biscuit Eater," one of the most human dog yarns ever told, is based on the well-liked Saturday Evening Post story of the same name by James Street. Street's lovable boy character, Lonnie McNeil, is brought to the screen by Paramount's ten-year-old boy star Billy Lee, while the dog, Promise, is played by a prize winning pointer [illegible] by Paramount for the purpose.

Lee, playing a typical Southern youngster and son of the manager of a huge Georgia dog raising plantation, adopts the runt of a famed litter against the advice of his father, and starts to train him to be the equal of his great forebears. The most discouraging occurrences do not sway the boy from his purpose and he remains faithful to his charge even when the dog commits the unpardonable crime of raiding the chicken coop. For this he is given the disgraceful tag of "biscuit eater," but in the eyes of his master he's still a potential champion.

Events take an unexpected turn when a northern millionaire buys the plantation and announces his intention of raising racehorses instead of dogs. This means disaster for Billy's dad unless he can convince the new owner that there is profit and prestige in breeding good dogs. And this in turn spells heartbreak for the boy who suddenly realizes that his own hound must lose the year's big contest in favor of the plantation's official entry. In a poignant climax, the youngster has to choose between his love for his pup and his loyalty to his family.

Lee's co-players include Helene Millard and Richard Lane, as his parents, Cordell Hickman, as his pickaninny playmate and co-trainer of Promise, and Lester Matthews, who plays the

'Rhythm On The River' Opens Engagement At Paramount

HOLLYWOOD and radio are now permanently allied in bringing entertainment seekers the best each has to offer. There was a time when both these powers were at each other's throats, and it appeared as recently as a few years ago that neither would capitulate. However, with the success of such air shows as Hollywood Playhouse, Cecil B. de Mille's Theater of the Air and at least a half dozen other top flight programs featuring the cream of the cinema, an interchange of personalities began taking place until today the two outstanding fields of entertainment have become permanent partners.

Paramount, first to take advantage of the popularity of radio favorites in casting its pictures, continued the policy, after seven films with ether stars prominently cast, by placing four radio favorites in "Rhythm on the River," the new Bing Crosby comedy which comes to the Paramount theater for three days starting today.

Paramount started recruiting from the airways when they cast Jack Benny in "Man About Town." Jack brought along his maestro, Phil Harris, and that notable gentleman of color, "Rochester."

Jack Benny topped all of this by including Rochester, Harris, Dennis Day, his tenor, and Andy Devine in "Buck Benny Rides Again." Miss Cornell made her screen debut in this film.

For its production "What a Life," Paramount took the famous Aldrich Family of the air lanes, and the results justified the move so well that a second Aldrich Family film, "Life With Henry," was made.

The studio then purchased the radio show title, "I Want a Divorce," and cast Dick Powell, radio star, for the lead. Following this, and before "Rhythm on the River" went into production, Paramount made "Comin' Round the Mountain," starring Bob Burns and six prominent radio personalities, including Uncle Ezra, Jerry Colonna, Mayor Gildersleeve and the Old Timer of the Fibber McGee program, "Slaphappy Grandpappy" and "Mirandy."

Other major studios have also gone to the radio for talent, and have readily loaned of their rosters in the way of movie stars. Both sides of the axis would seem to be thoroughly pleased and it is believed that both audiences are happy about the whole thing.

FORMER REPRESENTATIVE IS DEAD IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Wallace A. Nunez, former member of the state House of Representatives from St. Bernard parish, died today in Baptist Hospital here at the age of 49 years.

Nunez was elected to the Legislature in 1920 and served until 1924. He was a prominent lawyer of St. Bernard parish and New Orleans and served as secretary of the Bayou Terre au Boeufs Drainage District.

His only immediate surviving relative is a brother, William Nunez, New Orleans. His wife died about six months ago.

Lillian Cornell, radio singing star, makes her debut as a film actress in Bing Crosby's "Rhythm on the River," which opens today at the Paramount, and plays Monday and Tuesday. Mary Martin, Basil Rathbone and Oscar Levant, star of radio's "Information Please," are also to be seen in top roles.

Levant ogles Mary Martin while Bing Crosby wonders "how come?" The trio appear in "Rhythm on the River," opening today at the Paramount and playing Monday and Tuesday.

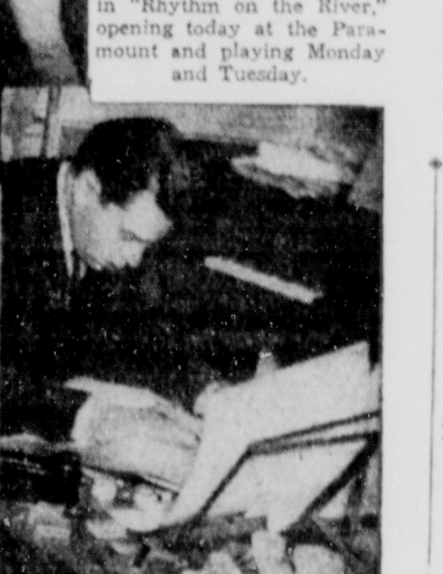
Oscar Levant starts the morning off with a quart of coffee, and tapers off with a gallon of the brew before nightfall. His first feature role is in "Rhythm on the River."

Levant, as a musician, pounds out a melody Beethoven and Berlin overlooked for immortality in "Rhythm on the River."



Levant struggles while melodies are bursting from him in "Rhythm on the River." He gets no credit, no cash, no girl, no love; nozzing! but fun!

Bob Burns and Una Merkel are engaged as a result of the kiss Bob gives her (or is it a peck?); anyway that is "hill" custom in "Comin' Round the Mountain," which entertains movie patrons Friday and Saturday at the Paramount theater.

Brenda Joyce is being spanked by George Murphy in this scene from "Public Deb No. 1," playing Wednesday and Thursday on the Paramount screen. To liven the already hilarious plot are Mischa Auer, Charlie Ruggles, Ralph Bellamy, Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom, Berton Churchill, Franklin Pangborn and Elsa Maxwell.

'The Biscuit Eater' Now At Capitol

A DESPISED underdog becomes top dog in a whirlwind series of unexpected events in the new Paramount film of Dixie sports life, "The Biscuit Eater," which opens locally today at the Capitol theater. The story deals with the adventures of a spunky youngster who adopts a hound the world has rejected and turns him into a blue ribbon champion to the amazement of the experts.

"The Biscuit Eater," one of the most human dog yarns ever told, is based on the well-liked Saturday Evening Post story of the same name by James Street. Street's lovable boy character, Lonnie McNeil, is brought to the screen by Paramount's ten-year-old boy star, Billy Lee, while the dog, Promise, is played by a prize-winning pointer imported by Paramount for the purpose.

Lee, playing a typical Southern youngster and son of the manager of a huge Georgia dog-raising plantation, adopts the runt of a famed litter against the advice of his father, and starts to train him to be the equal of his great forebears. The most discouraging occurrences do not sway the boy from his purpose, and he remains faithful to his charge even when the dog commits the unpardonable crime of raiding the chicken coop. For this sin he is given the disgraceful tag of "biscuit eater," but in the eyes of his master he's still a potential champion!

This means disaster for Billy's dad unless he can convince the new owner that there is profit and prestige in breeding good dogs. And this in turn spells heartbreak for the boy, who suddenly realizes that his own hound must lose the year's big contest in favor of the plantation's official entry. In a poignant climax, the youngster has to choose between his love for his pup and his loyalty to his family.

Lee's co-players include Helene Millard and Richard Lane, as his parents, Cordell Hickman, as his pickaninny playmate and co-trainer of Promise, and Lester Matthews, who plays the rich Yankee. "The Biscuit Eater" was directed by Stuart Heisler, whose highly original idea it was to transport his cast and technical crew three thousand miles across the continent and film the entire production in Albany, Ga. The trip enabled him to get a completely authentic locale and use colorful local characters in supporting roles.

Circus Performance Run With Military Precision

The precision that made the Continental cavalry the greatest military unit of pre-war Europe is reflected twice daily in the arena of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

The zip of the entire performance is traceable to top-hatted Fred Bradna, veteran equestrian director of The Greatest Show on Earth.

With his jewel-studded silver whistle between his teeth, Bradna directs the big-top displays with the same military finesse that won fame for his regiment abroad two score years ago.

One of circusdom's most magnetic officials, Fred Bradna plays an important part in maintaining friendly relations among the many and varied groups which make up The Big Show's personnel. His complete command of nine languages is a tremendous asset.

Known by millions or circusgoers as "The Lady in White," Madame Bradna rides White Eagle, her beautiful Arabian stallion, in the show's splendid new haute ecole display.

With 800 world-celebrated circus stars and a multitude of amazing new features never before witnessed in America, The Big Show will exhibit in West Monroe Sunday, September 29.

In the world's largest tent, now air-conditioned, performances will be given at 2:15 and 8:15 p.m., commencing with "The Return of Marco Polo," the most gorgeous spectacle in amusement history.

This superb opening feature, created and costumed by Max Weldy, is presented under his personal direction. Weldy has achieved international fame as the designer of the celebrated French Folies Bergere and Casino de Paris productions.

The doors will open at 1 and 7 p.m., allowing more than an hour's time in which to view the mammoth menagerie of more than a thousand rare animals, including Gargantua the Great, famous giant gorilla.

Adjoining the menagerie, the great new horse fair tent housing hundreds of purebred equine aristocrats will be open to patrons of the circus before the main performance begins.

CAMP BUILDINGS WILL BE BEGUN

Construction Work In Alexandria Vicinity Will Cost $10,000,000

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 21. — (AP) — Preliminary [illegible] national guard training camps to be built near Alexandria will be under way Monday [illegible] and the $10,000,000 [illegible] will [illegible] there after [illegible] Colonel C. H. Menger, Atlanta [illegible] constructing quartermaster [illegible].

[illegible] that there [illegible] plenty of [illegible] and [illegible] workers [illegible] Menger [illegible] of the camps [illegible] William J. P[illegible] of the Alexandria [illegible] Louisiana State Employment Service, and [illegible] take [illegible] advantage of the [illegible].

Mr. P[illegible] estimated that between [illegible] applied at the local employment service office today. [illegible] in their home [illegible] from [illegible] back there to [illegible].

Colonel Menger said that because the [illegible] of the two camps has not yet been determined an estimate of the number of men to be employed at any one time cannot be made yet.

"It is a fixed policy of the war department to build its camps of materials [illegible] in the geographic territories in which the camps are located," Colonel Menger said, indicating that as much as possible of the materials which go into construction of the camps will come from firms of Alexandria and other cities in Louisiana.

Asked to comment upon a news report that the war department had allocated funds for the construction of facilities in Kisatchie National Forest for 64,000 men, Colonel Menger replied that he could say only that the two camps for which contracts already have been let are designated to accomodate approximately 40,000. This gave strength to the unofficial belief that the war department is planning construction of a third camp within the immediate vicinity of Alexandria.

One of the camps is scheduled for completion December 1 and the other for December 15. The 32nd Division of national guardsmen, representing troops of Michigan and Wisconsin, which already has received orders to [illegible] assignment to [illegible] Alexandria [illegible] be quartered at Camp Beauregard until their regular camp is completed. Colonel Menger said that temporary camp [illegible] being laid out at Camp Beauregard at the direction of Lieutenant General S. D. Embick, Atlanta, commanding officer of the Fourth Corps Area.

The 32nd Division will have emergency [illegible] at the hospital [illegible] here, Colonel Menger said.

The camps will be [illegible]. A [illegible] of the [illegible] of the army [illegible] revealed [illegible] for the first time when Colonel Menger [illegible] rough plans for the camps. All of the buildings will be constructed of wood.

Each camp will [illegible] 4,000 army [illegible] each with [illegible] electric lights and ample heating facilities. In addition each camp will have 124 company mess halls, [illegible] recreation buildings, 14 warehouses, 12 post exchanges, a telephone exchange, a large number of [illegible] buildings and shops, including a bakery, a laundry and 117 lavatories.

The hospital system will have 55 wards built to accomodate 30 patients each, and other buildings such as mess halls, clinical buildings and quarters for nurses and officers. The hospital buildings will be connected by covered walkways.

Colonel Menger predicted that the number of employes would reach a level within a short time after the work begins and that the level would be maintained through most of the construction.

"I have never been in a city where the people are more cooperative than they are in Alexandria," Colonel Menger said. He praised business men, city officials, railroads and civic organizations for their willingness to help.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad, he said, will lay approximately five miles of track to serve the camp to be located in the Beaver creek vicinity, about 10 miles northeast of Alexandria, and about two miles of track for the camp in the Branghurst-Forest Hill region, about 18 miles southwest of the city.

NEW HEBRIDES JOIN CAUSE OF ENGLAND

VICHY, France, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The colonial administration of the New Hebrides, French islands in the Pacific, has gone over to General Charles de Gaulle and the governor-general also has taken control of New Caledonia, a French spokesman said today.

The New Hebrides, some of whose natives still practice cannibalism, are about 50 miles from New Caledonia and the administration is shared by British and French commissions. They amount to 5,700 square miles with a population of about 40,000 natives and about 1,000 Europeans.

The alignment of New Caledonia with the so-called "free" French government at London under General de Gaulle was effected several days ago.

SKIRTS FOR DAY ARE SHORT AGAIN

Paris Fashion Showings Are Described By News Service Writer

By Alice Maxwell

PARIS, Sept. 18. (AP Via Berlin — Delayed) Paris decrees short skirts again for day time wear — with lots of color.

In Lelong's fashion showing today the skirts came to the middle of the knee for day wear and much color was employed, including almond and duck greens, wine shades, horizon and royal blues, grey flannels and brick reds.

Maggy Rouff displayed short-skirted cocktail ensembles, featuring velveteen tailored jackets in black or crimson or loose boleros covered with spangled and jeweled motifs.

Afternoon dresses were shown in black velvet and lace with insets of black wools. Many had trimmings of long velvet streamers in cords or ribbon. Suit skirts were narrow and short, but covered the knee.

Sports suits had divided skirts. Contrasting jackets were featured in bright tweeds or striped wools. All shoulders were built out square and sleeves were long and tight or flared at the wrist.

Furs equalling the style and distinction of pre-war fur fashions were displayed to several hundred spectators at the Maggy Rouff showing.

Evening coats were featured in white ermine and mink, day coats in beaver, astrakhan and ocelot. Small round muffs of black seal or Persian lamb accompanied afternoon ensembles having wide revers collars and deep gauntlet cuffs of matching fur.

All fur coats were loosely cut or flared either in full or three-quarter length.

Molyneux displayed very low-cut evening dresses and long trailing princess evening coats of stiff satin collared with silver fox. Also shown were hip length jackets in mink and beaver having wide sleeves measuring about two feet around the wrist.

SPEEDY APPROVAL OF PROBES ASKED

Investigation Of Alleged Link Between Firms, Nazis Sought

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — (AP) — Chairman Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, today predicted speedy approval by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee of his resolution authorizing an investigation into possible connections between some important defense industries and German or other foreign corporations.

Wheeler said committee action would be followed immediately by a request to the Senate Audit Committee, headed by Senator Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, for $50,000 to finance the investigation by an interstate commerce subcommittee.

Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, said he would ask action next week on a proposed investigation of the government's fiscal setup. Tydings' resolutions, calling for a study of plans which might lead to automatic balancing of the budget in peacetime, won unanimous approval of the appropriations committee. It would create a special committee of three members, with expenses of $15,000 allowed.

Pending also is a proposal by Senator Clark, Democrat, Missouri, to set up a seven-member committee to investigate the dissemination of propaganda which might cause "a change in the neutral position of the United States in the conflicts now being waged abroad." An expenditure of $25,000 was sought for the inquiry.

The fourth proposal, by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, would provide $5,000 more to a special committee already authorized to investigate the conservation to wildlife.

CAMP BUILDINGS WILL BE BEGUN

Construction Work In Alexandria Vicinity Will Cost $10,000,000

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Preliminary construction work on two national guard training camps to be built near Alexandria will be underway Monday morning and the $10,000,000 army project will be launched with full speed a short time thereafter, Lieutinant Colonel C. H. Menger, Atlanta, Ga., constructing quartermaster, announced today.

Indications are that there will be plenty of local labor available and there should be no necessity to import workers, Colonel Menger said. Contractors for both of the camps, he said, are in close touch with William J. Pyburn, district manager of the Alexandria office of the Louisiana State Employment Service, and intend to take full advantage of the cooperation offered by that service.

Mr. Pyburn estimated that between 500 and 600 men applied at the local employment service office today. Workers must register in their home areas and all those coming in from other parishes are sent back there to apply.

Colonel Menger said that because the precise layout of the two camps has not been determined an estimate on the number of men to be employed at any one time cannot be made now.

"It is a fixed policy of the war department to build its camps of materials procurable in the geographic territories in which the camps are located," Colonel Menger said, indicating that as much as possible of the materials which go into construction of the camps will come from firms of Alexandria and other cities in Louisiana.

Colonel Menger praised Alexandrians highly for their "friendliness and cooperation" as he outlined plans for the camps.

Asked to comment upon a news report that the war department had allocated funds for the construction of facilities in Kisathie National Forest for 64,000 men, Colonel Menger replied that he could say only that the two camps for which contracts already have been let are designated to accomodate approximately 40,000. This gave strength to the unofficial belief that the war department is planning construction of a third camp within the immediate vicinity of Alexandria.

One of the camps is scheduled for completion December 1 and the other for December 15. The 32nd Division of national guardsmen, representing troops of Michigan and Wisconsin, which already has received orders to mobilize October 15 for assignment to the Alexandria territory, will be quartered at Camp Beauregard until their regular camp is completed. Colonel Menger said that temporary camp facilities are being laid out at Camp Beauregard now at the direction of Lieutenant General S. D. Embick, Atlanta, commanding officer of the Fourth Corps Area.

The 32nd Division will have every necessary facility at its disposal when it arrives here, Colonel Menger said.

The camps will be towns within themselves. An idea of the huge size of the army project was revealed this morning for the first time when Colonel Menger outlined rough plans for the camps. All of the buildings will be constructed of wood.

Each camp will have 4,000 army-regulation pyramidal tents, each with wood floors, electric lights and ample heating facilities.. In addition each camp will have 124 company mess halls, 10 recreation buildings, 14 warehouses, 12 post exchanges, a telephone exchange a large number of utility buildings and shops, including a bakery, a laundry and 117 laboratories.

The hospital system will have 25 wards built to accomodate 30 patients each, and other buildings such as mess halls, clinical buildings and quarters for nurses and officers. The hospital buildings will be connected by covered walkways.

Colonel Menger predicted that the number of employes would reach a level within a short time after the work begins and that the level would be maintained through most of the construction.

"I have never been in a city where the people are more cooperative than they are in Alexandria," Colonel Menger said. He praised business men, city officials, railroads and civic organizations for their willingness to help.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad, he said, will lay approximately five miles of track to serve the camp to be located in the Beaver creek vicinity, about 10 miles northeast of Alexandria, and about two miles of track for the camp in the Bringhurst-Forest Hill region, about 18 miles southwest of the city.

JONES TO SPEAK AT SESSION HERE

Louisiana State Teachers Will Gather At Hotel November 17-20

Governor Sam Jones is scheduled to address delegates to the Louisiana State Teachers' convention here November 17 through 20 at the Neville High School Auditorium, it was announced this week.

Plans for the convention were discussed Thursday night at Hotel Frances at a dinner with the following attendance: E. A. Lee, president of the association; J. W. Webb, professor of chemistry, Louisiana State Normal; T. O. Brown, parish school superintendent; Jack Hayes, Ouachita Parish High School principal; E. L. Neville, city school superintendent; Paul Neal, Neville High School principal; Dave C. Silverstein, chairman of the merchants' division Chamber of Commerce, and George D. Holland, chamber secretary.

The convention will be attended by approximately 5,000 registered teachers, according to J. W. Wright, executive secretary of the Louisiana State Teachers' Associaiton, and will open Sunday with vesper services, running through Monday and Tuesday with two general sessions on those dates.

NEW HEBRIDES JOIN CAUSE OF ENGLAND

VICHY, France, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The colonial administration of the New Hebrides, French islands in the Pacific, has gone over to General Charles de Gaulle and the governor-general also has taken control of New Caledonia, a French spokesman said today.

The New Hebrides, some of whose natives still practice cannibalism, are about 50 miles from New Caledonia and the administration is shared by British and French commissions. They amount to 5,700 square miles with a population of about 40,000 natives and about 1,000 Europeans.

The alignment of New Caledonia with the so-called "free" French government at London under General de Gaulle was effected several days ago.

SKIRTS FOR DAY ARE SHORT AGAIN

Paris Fashion Showings Are Described By News Service Writer

By Alice Maxwell

PARIS, Sept. 18.—(AP Via Berlin—Delayed)—Paris decrees short skirts again for day time wear—with lots of color.

In Lelong's fashion showing today the skirts came to the middle of the knee for day wear and much color was employed, including almond and duck greens, wine shades, horizon and royal blues, grey flannels and brick reds.

Maggy Rouff displayed short-skirted cocktail ensembles, featuring velveteen tailored jackets in black or crimson or loose boleros covered with spangled and jeweled motifs.

Afternoon dresses were shown in black velvet and lace—with insets of black wools. Many had trimmings of long velvet streamers in cords or ribbon. Suit skirts were narrow and short, but covered the knee.

Sports suits had divided skirts. Contrasting jackets were featured in bright tweeds or striped wools. All shoulders were built out square and sleeves were long and tight or flared at the wrist.

Furs equalling the style and distinction of pre-war fur fashions were displayed to several hundred spectators at the Maggy Rouff showing.

Evening coats were featured in white ermine and mink, day coats in beaver, astrakhan and ocelot. Small round muffs of black seal or Persian lamb accompanied afternoon ensembles having wide revers collars and deep gauntlet cuffs of matching fur.

All fur coats were loosely cut or flared either in full or three-quarter length.

Molyneux displayed very low-cut evening dresses and long trailing princess evening coats of stiff satin collared with silver fox. Also shown were hip length jackets in mink and beaver having wide sleeves measuring about two feet around the wrist.

SPEEDY APPROVAL OF PROBES ASKED

Investigation Of Alleged Link Between Firms, Nazis Sought

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — (AP) — Chairman Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, today predicted speedy approval by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee of his resolution authorizing an investigation into possible connections between some important defense industries and German or other foreign corporations.

Wheeler said committee action would be followed immediately by a request to the Senate Audit Committee, headed by Senator Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, for $50,000 to finance the investigation by an interstate commerce subcommittee.

This request would be the fourth such proposal pending before Byrnes' group.

Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, said he would ask action next week on a proposed investigation of the government's fiscal setup. Tydings' resolutions, calling for a study of plans which might lead to automatic balancing of the budget in peacetime, won unanimous approval of the appropriations committee. It would create a special committee of three members, with expenses of $15,000 allowed.

Pending also is a proposal by Senator Clark, Democrat, Missouri, to set up a seven-member committee to investigate the dissemination of propaganda which might cause "a change in the neutral position of the United States in the conflicts now being waged abroad." An expenditure of $25,000 was sought for the inquiry.

The fourth proposal, by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, would provide $5,000 more to a special committee already authorized to investigate the conservation to wildlife.

WELL, PROFESSOR, HOW DO YOU LIKE BEING A CHEMIST IN OUR CRIME LABORATORY?
I CAN NEVER THANK YOU ENOUGH FOR GIVING ME THIS JOB, MR. TRACY.
I SHALL WORK HARD AND TRY TO BE USEFUL!
I'M SURE YOU WILL. YOUR MAIN WORK WILL BE BLOODSTAIN ANALYSIS. THEN, LATER, YOU CAN WORK ON FINGERPRINT AND OTHER IDENTIFICATION METHODS.
MEANWHILE, YOU CAN— WELL? WHAT HAVE YOU GOT, PAT?
PLENTY!
THAT'S A BOMB! AT LEAST, IT WAS TICKING WHEN I PUT IT IN THAT BUCKET OF WATER!
WHERE DID YOU GET IT?
WHY, AS I WAS PASSING THE MAIN POST OFFICE BUILDING A MAIL CARRIER CAME RUNNING OUT CALLING, "POLICE!" I WENT IN AND FOUND THIS.
THE POST OFFICE?
I'M GOING TO TAKE IT OUT INTO OUR BOMB OPENING YARD AND SEE WHAT'S INSIDE!

MEANWHILE:
BOYS, I AIN'T ASHAMED TO ADMIT IT - I'M SCARED! THAT HOOK-NOSED AVIATOR SUSPECTS A LOT MORE THAN HE LETS ON, AND HE AIN'T NOWHERE TO BE FOUND!
HE COULDN'T OF LEFT THE ISLAND!
MAYBE HE'S SWUM OUT TO TH' SCHOONER!
EXACTLY! IF THAT GUY FINDS OUT THE YACHT IS SUNK IN 60 FEET OF WATER INSTEAD OF 400 - GOOD NIGHT!
OH, MY GOSH! HERE THEY COME!
FIND ANYBODY ABOARD?
DAISY BELLE HOLY SMOKE!
IT'S THE ONE WITH THE OXYGEN TANK! SOMEBODY'S USING IT! HERE'S THE ROPE HE'LL USE TO COME TO THE SURFACE!
YOU MEAN IT'S THE ROPE HE WAS TO USE
WHOP!
SIXTY FEET DOWN:
AT LAST I'VE GOT SOME PROOF ON THOSE BIRDS! THE DIAMOND WAS STOLEN BEFORE THE YACHT EVER SANK! NOW TO GIVE WASH A COUPLE O' JERKS ON THE ROPE AND....

JOVE, BUT I FEEL IN FINE FETTLE! THE BEGINNING OF AUTUMN LONG HAS BEEN MY FAVORITE TIME OF YEAR! AND WITH A FINE BREAKFAST UNDER MY BELT — A BIT LATE, PERHAPS, BUT MOST SATISFYING — AH! DO I PERCEIVE A FOOTBALL FLYING IN THE AIR?
T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
EGAD, PLAYING FOOTBALL, I SEE! A MANLY GAME INDEED! YOU LADS ARE A LITTLE UNSCIENTIFIC IN YOUR LINE PLAY, THOUGH — PERHAPS I COULD —
AT YALE MY STERLING DEFENSIVE PLAY WON FOR ME THE TITLE OF GRANITE WALL HOOPLE! I TAUGHT THE FINE POINTS OF LINE PLAY TO PUDGE HEFFELFINGER AND THE IMMORTAL HINKEY! SINGLEHANDED I HAVE STOPPED THE DEVASTATING FLYING WEDGE, LONG SINCE RULLED OUT OF FOOTBALL AS TOO DANGEROUS!
IT'S NO USE! THEY NEVER GET PAST HOOPLE!
THIS IS MY BIG BROTHER, MISTER — TELL HIM ALL ABOUT IT!
I ALREADY GOT A LOAD OF IT! LET'S SEE IT DEMONSTRATED!
HE TRIED TO WIGGLE OUT OF IT, BUT NO SOAP!
ALL RIGHT, CALL A PLAY AN' I'LL LEAD THE INTERFERENCE!
OF COURSE, YOU BOYS KNOW I'M A BIT RUSTY! THE PLAY NEED NOT BE A VIOLENT ONE TO DEMONSTRATE!
CONFOUND IT! WHY DID I LET MYSELF IN FOR THIS?

ALLEY OOP
WHILE DOCTOR BRONSON AND OOOLA SEARCH ANCIENT EGYPT FOR ALLEY OOP, OUR HERO ENJOYS A LIFE OF EASE IN QUEEN CLEOPATRA'S CASTLE
T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
WHO'S THE NEW GUY CLEOPATRA'S SO TAKEN UP WITH?
AW, HE'S SOME YOKEL PRIEST SHE PICKED UP DOWN THE NILE A WAYS!
IF HE'S A PRIEST, MY GRAND-PAW WAS A MONKEY!
WE'RE GONNA HAFTA BUMP THAT LUG...HE'S CUTTING US NOBLES CLEAR OUT OF THE PICTURE!
WHUZZAT? A BANQUET FOR ME? GEE, THAT'S SWELL!
YES, YOUR EXCELLENCY, COME NOW...THE BOYS ALL WAIT TO DO YOU HONOR
...LOTUS BUDS AND WINE AND CROCODILE TAILS...
SOUNDS GREAT! HOW'D YOU BOYS KNOW I WAS HUNGRY?
FOOD, YES...BUT AH, THE WINE! NEVER HAVE YOU TASTED SUCH WINE AS THIS WE HAVE PREPARED FOR YOU!
OKAY, I'M READY! BRING IT ON!
WINE FOR THE GENTLEMAN!
COMIN' RIGHT UP!
FIRST, MY FRIEND, THE WINE...THE BEST IN ALL EGYPT!
GEE, THANKS... I'M AS DRY AS A BONE!
AHH! THE DOPE DRAINS THE CUP AT A GULP!
LATER
THREE TIMES THAT CRITTER COME AT ME... MAN, WAS HE MAD!
LOOK AT THAT GUY!! GREAT ISIS, HE'S DOWNED ENOUGH OF THAT POISON TO SWIM A CROCODILE, AND IT HASN'T FAZED HIM!
QUICK! CALL SOME OF THE BOYS TOGETHER... THIS IS GETTING SERIOUS!
YEZZIR, BOYS...THEN I LET 'IM HAVE IT RIGHT BETWEEN 'TH' EYES! BOY, DID I STOP 'IM! HAW!
9-22
WHAT'LL WE DO NOW? THE DUMB OX WON'T DIE...HE WON'T EVEN GET SLEEPY! WE CAN'T KILL HIM!
BAH! YOU BUNGLERS GIT THAT BIG BABOON UP AWAY FROM THAT TABLE... I'LL FIX 'IM!
BY GOSH, I GOTTA HAND IT TO YOU BOYS FOR SETTIN' UP A SWELL FEED! YUMMY! I'LL PROBABLY NEVER EAT ANOTHER MEAL THAT'LL COMPARE WITH THAT!
YES, YOU PROBABLY WON'T
